Feeling a Little Jittery About the Election? Take An Action That Will Calm Your Nerves and Help Kamala and Tim Win

Drawing by Cynthia Wulfsberg

The presidential action team of Olympia Indivisible offers easy yet important actions to take for Kamala Harris in a one-stop shopping Take Action Flyer. All the actions will help to register Democratic voters in the Battleground States with our partner organization, Field Team 6, a volunteer-based organization that offers a variety of voter registration campaigns. Registering Democrats to vote can affect the outcome of the election. Select an action on the flyer and follow the link to phone banking, texting, or to donate to an email campaign.

"It is not shameful to do little. It is shameful to do nothing." --Alexsei Navalny, Russian activist for a democratic Russia (1976 - 2024)

Action: Choose an action from the Take Action Flyer . Go to that link to register for a Zoom training. The training will be led by a volunteer from Field Team 6. Another option is to take a 55-minute Slow- Paced Phone Bank Training on Zoom with OI members. All you need is a computer or tablet and a phone. We won't be making calls, just learning the tools.

Dreon for County Commission: New Opportunities to Help

Like any first-time candidate running against a political veteran, OI endorsee Rachel Dreon faces an uphill struggle for name-recognition. That's especially true now, in the county-wide phase of her race for County Commission.

Actions: You can help . . . in several ways!

To get Rachel's name in front of as many voters as possible between now and Election Day, her campaign is focusing on literature drops. Volunteers have two options, with or without ringing doorbells:

Distribute literature, no doorbelling required. You can here or through the campaign events calendar. Locations coming soon!

Carry Rachel's literature when you're on other OI-sponsored canvassing ventures. To confirm availability or request your own supply, contact Crystal at (360) 789-7438 or crystalmcdonald360@gmail.com.

Every position is important during this election. We need to flip the House by maintaining the Representatives we do have, as well as voting in new Democratic Representatives.

James DeHart for LD35

The very personable and energetic James DeHart is one of our favorite people who is running in a red Legislative District as a blue for a state Senate position. We need to give him all the help we can. Check out these volunteering opportunities!
