All writing must be formatted in paragraphs; this journal discourages the use of numbered or bullet-point formats. The manuscript must use Garamond (15 pt) font, 1.15 pt spacing, with a length of 4,000–7,000 words (including footnotes) and a minimum of 30 references (75% of which must be from journal articles). Footnotes must follow the Chicago Manual of Style, 17th Edition (Full Note). Authors are encouraged to use Zotero or Mendeley software.

II. METHODOLOGY

This part should provide a statement about the research methodology. It includes the approaches used in the research and how the author obtained the data. This methodology should give an idea to the reader through the techniques used.

III. FIRST HEADING OF THE DISCUSSION

A. Second-Level Heading in Italics (Sub-discussion)

It is an important section of your manuscript. The analysis should be clear and concise. Heading in the discussion section should be consistently written with the structure of the article or the research statement, as mentioned in the introduction. Headings in this discussion use Roman letters (I., II., III., etc.; you can add more than one part of the discussion, it depends on the structure of the discussion you want to write).

IV. SECOND HEADING OF THE DISCUSSION

V. CONCLUSION

The conclusion should concisely answer the research aims as previously mentioned in the abstract and the introduction. The authors should highlight the importance of research findings and to what extent this research will result in further implications. Please do not repeat the abstract or describe the results of the research. Also, in this part, the authors are not allowed to discuss a new issue. The authors are suggested to write the conclusion between 1-2 paragraphs only.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The authors may recognize those who helped in the research, especially funding supporters of research. The acknowledgment can include individuals who have assisted you in your study: Advisors, Financial supporters, or other supporters, i.e., Proofreaders, Typists, and Suppliers who may have given materials.

COMPETING INTEREST

The authors will be asked to sign this statement once the submission has been accepted.
