CULTIVATE:
The Feminist Journal of the Centre for Women's Studies

Cultivate 2025: Issue 7- Spaces and Places

CREATIVE SUBMISSION

We are open to submissions from any self-identified feminists, both in and out of academia, and like CWS we pride ourselves on our intersectional feminist values. If there's any way that we can support your submission or anything further that you'd like to discuss in relation to this open call, please get in touch.

We will accept submissions of no more than 2 works per person. However, if you'd like to submit a series of works, please share all the images from the series and state whether you would be willing for single works within that series to be published. If you are submitting video or audio works please submit a link to your work. If you wish to also submit an article please fill out our article submission form.

Please email your work(s) along with a copy of this form to cws.cultivate@gmail.com by the 31st January 2025

Full name

Contact email

Please provide a bio (maximum 150 words)

Please provide a brief statement about your creative piece (maximum 200 words)

Title of work(s)

Is there a theme(s) that you feel your work speaks to? (for example, one of those listed on the Call for Contributions)

Please detail any additional information we should know about your piece (for example, is there a trigger warning or sensitive content)