Care not Cash - Climate Camp

What if we put people before profit—and truly meant it?

Join us at the Care not Cash Climate Camp, a 4-day immersive experience bringing together young changemakers from across the V4 region (Chezia, Poland, Hungary, Slovakia). This is more than just a camp—it's a space to learn, connect, and rethink how our societies can work for people, not just for economic gain, with a strong regional perspective.

Through interactive workshops and peer-led panel sessions, you'll explore what climate justice really means in our region. From activism to ideas like degrowth and intersectionality, and by sharing inspiring local practices, we'll turn complex topics into real, relatable conversations.

We believe in co-creation: by sharing knowledge, experiences, and ideas, participants don't just learn from each other—they build meaningful change together. During the camp we'll dedicate time to brainstorm and plan a local project that will be implemented with our support after the camp by each country's participants.

Why "Care not Cash"?
Today's systems often prioritize short-term profit over the long-term well-being of people, communities, and the planet. The "people not profit" approach is about changing that mindset. It's about creating a future where decisions are guided by fairness, care, and sustainability—not just financial gain.

At the camp, we'll explore what this looks like in practice:

- How can economies serve people and the planet?
- How can we shape our own regional path, without simply trying to follow Western models?
- How can young people lead change—locally and together?

Come curious. Leave empowered.
