Discover the future of accommodation with serviced apartments. Our blog explores the unique benefits and advantages of serviced apartments compared to traditional hotels. We'll delve into the reasons why serviced apartments are becoming the preferred choice for many travelers.

The modern traveler knows well how much of his hard-earned money has gone into making his stay a success. There is always a compromise between space and cost. If one desires a spacious stay, they often have to forget about the budget. However, Serviced apartments, which have emerged as a popular alternative for accommodations, have at the heart of their concept an innovative blend of hospitality and residential living.

Why Serviced Apartments?

Privacy and Space: Unlike the room in the hotel, serviced apartments provide more space and privacy. The living area, dining room, and bedrooms give you a feel of independence and flexibility. Like Namastey Homes have wide apartments, very well planned to ensure space in the right way, which is comfortable and private.

Home-like Amenities: Serviced apartments are so well-equipped with all the modern facilities, like a fully-equipped kitchen, laundry facilities, and comfortable living spaces, that enable one to prepare home-cooked meals, relax in their own space, and continue a routine without missing a single bit of it. With the provision of cooking facilities and several other facilities, you save on dining among other costs. Namastey Homes has a very competitive rate on rentals and provides flexible terms for staying there, hence cost-effective for longer periods.

Serviced Apartments Vs. Hotels: Which One Is For You?

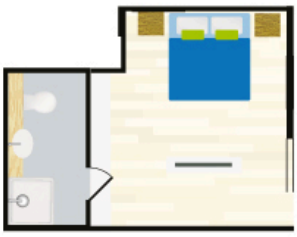
Discover the best accommodation option for your next trip. Our blog compares serviced apartments and hotels, highlighting their unique advantages and disadvantages. We'll help you decide which type of accommodation is the perfect fit for your travel needs and preferences.

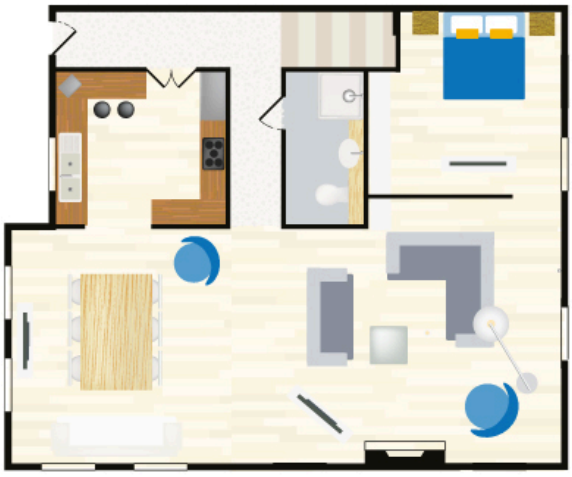
Planning a trip requires the right kind of accommodation so that days ahead can be just memorable. Traditionally, people book up a hotel for their trip but in recent times, serviced apartments have emerged as a more viable alternative. It's a mix of hospitality and residential living, and it is with this idea that serviced apartments and hotels are analyzed against each other to help you decide what work might best suit your plans.

Space:

Serviced Apartments: These serviced apartments range from studio apartments to luxury 4BHKs. They allow you to live independently, unlike the usual hotel room. They have bedrooms, kitchen, bathrooms and living rooms. This allows you to enjoy flexibleness. Namastey Homes features expansive, spacious apartments designed in a way that keeps in mind providing comfort and privacy.

Hotel: The rooms are relatively small and most times compact and small. They do not offer much space for other personal belongings and activities.

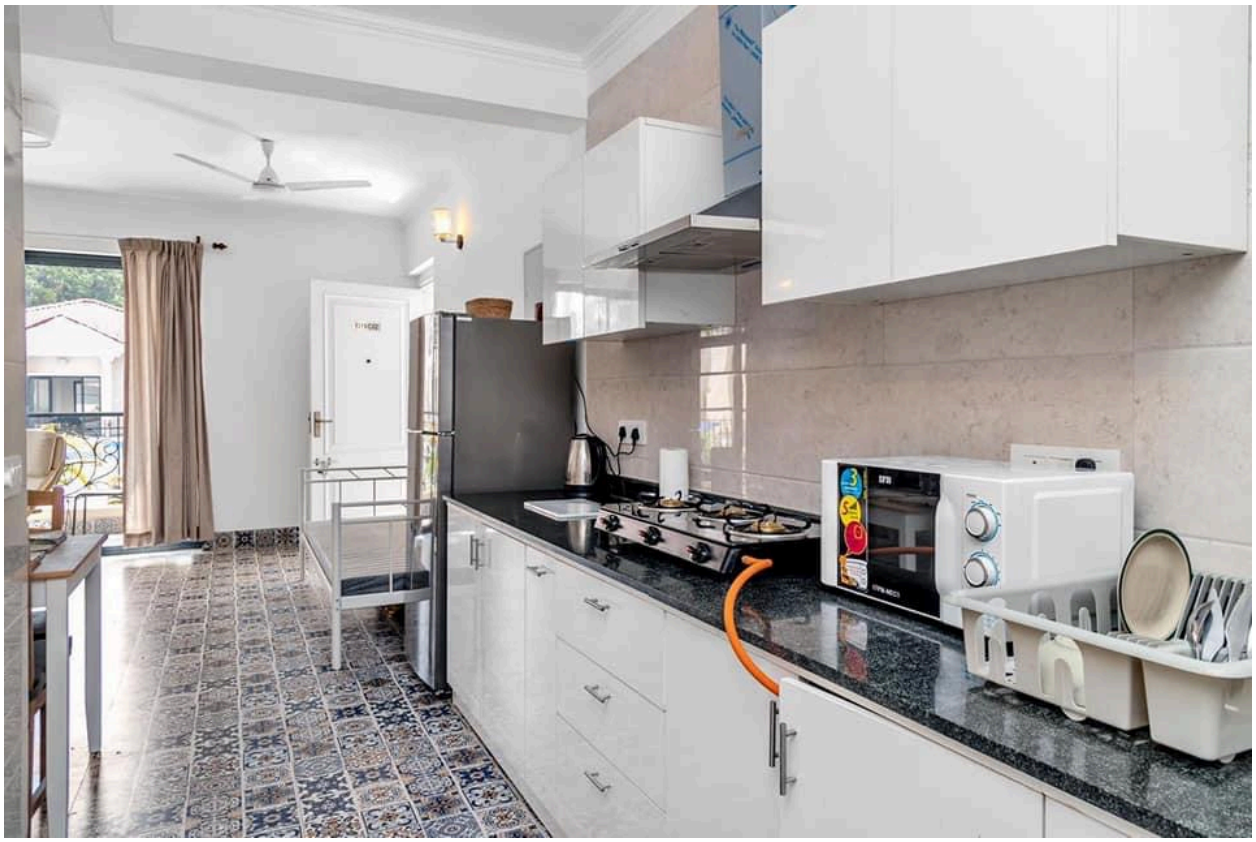




Facilities:

Serviced Apartments: Serviced apartments offer facilities within a residential apartment. They are equipped with a fully set kitchen, laundry, and all comforts that a living place provides. You can cook and home made meals in the apartment, lie around your personal space, and carry on your routine with all these comforts around. Namastey Homes have apartments with all amenities such as high-speed Wi-Fi, cable television, and comfortable bedding.

Hotels: Hotels too offer these types of amenities, but on a relatively smaller scale. For example, you are not going to have a full-sized kitchen or even a self-service laundry room.



Cost:

Serviced Apartments: Serviced apartments can get significantly cheaper than hotels if you are staying there for more than just a few days. You would be able to avoid dining expenses if you eat by yourself as you can cook food and other amenities which otherwise would be charged as the hotel services. At Namastey Homes you get competitive rates coupled with the flexibility of rentals.

Hotels: Most of the hotels now operate on a daily charge. This itself can add up to humongous amounts if you are staying for longer periods.

Flexibility:

Serviced Apartments: Serviced apartments, if you will, are even more flexible with check in and check out times. You can also book your stay for longer periods of time or change your booking more easily.

Hotels: Usually will have strict check-in and check-out times. More often than not, it will prove to be an almost arduous task to change your booking.

Best for:

Serviced Apartments: Mostly prepared for families, groups, and even digital nomads who need to feel a little more at home.

Hotels: Can be used when you are having a stop over, for business visits, or people who need a regular hotel.

The bottom line, whether you are looking for a hotel or serviced apartment, you need to make your choice based on your individual needs and preferences. If you're concerned about privacy, space, and that home like experience, then a serviced apartment will best suit you. Similarly, if convenience and facilities offered by a traditional hotel are your more moved affair, that will work well for you.

5 Reasons Why Serviced Apartments Lead the Way in Sustainable Travel

Explore a greener way to travel! Serviced apartments, like Namastey Homes in Delhi, offer sustainable features like reduced travel, resource conservation, and waste reduction. Choose comfort and eco-consciousness for your next adventure.

While it feels wonderful to bring human beings together through travel and hospitality, a less-discussed issue comes in terms of its environmental impact. The trend towards more sustainable forms of travel is now starting to emerge with serviced apartments leading the way, providing comforts blended with eco-practices. Let's take a closer look at how staying in serviced apartments contributes toward a greener type of travel experience and how Namastey Homes represents the approach:

1. Lower Carbon Footprint due to Travel:

While conventional vacations generally require several stops in hotels across different places, serviced apartments encourage more nights in one place. This eventually leads to reduced air travel, which is one of the most common greenhouse gas emitters. Namastey Homes caters to short- and long-term guests as well where the guest can freely roam the city of Delhi at his / her convenience, thus saving multiple bookings with additional local travel.

2. Conservation of Resources:

The serviced apartments are designed to feel like home. Kitchen spaces, fitted with appliances, can couple with grocery delivery services so that guests don't need to count on hotel food, instead finding the ability to cook for themselves and cut through single-use plastics that have the unfortunate tendency to coexist with packaging waste from hotels. Namastey Homes acknowledges this. Their apartments possess well-equipped kitchens where even the most wasteful of eaters could almost feel at home preparing a sustainable meal, accompanied by the convenience of home-cooked food. Partnering with local grocery delivery services is also on offer for the ecologically conscious shopper.

3. Energy and Water Conservation:

Serviced apartments are more expansive than a hotel room, allowing much space to engage in energy savers. Guests have more control over the thermostat temperature, lighting, as well as appliances. Namastey Homes ensure sustainability from top to bottom. They use energy-saving appliances and water-saving fixtures in their products.

The company also educates guests through brochures on techniques to minimize energy and water usage while at Namastey Homes.

4. Community Interaction:

Living in a serviced apartment enables guests to feel a destination like a local. They can walk around the local markets and restaurants, which are often within walking distance, requiring fewer uses of cars and taxis. Namastey Homes is very particular about the location of its serviced apartments in well-connected neighborhoods that allow guests to use public transport and explore Delhi's rich culture on foot or on a bicycle.

5. Reduced waste generation:

Serviced apartments offer longer stays, housekeeping of which is organized less often than hotel rooms. This results in a lower number of laundry that need to be washed and daily-toiletries that require replacement, meaning less waste. Namastey Homes encourages responsible waste disposal by using recycling bins for paper, plastic, and glass. They also use eco-friendly cleaning products if possible, thereby minimizing the chemicals brought into the environment.

Serviced apartments like Namastey Homes are making people a part of a more sustainable future for tourism. By reducing their footprint of travel, from the minimal generation of waste, innovative new accommodations make the world fun to explore responsibly. So the next time you're booking your holiday, do give up that old tradition of the hotel model and opt for a serviced apartment – your conscience and the planet will thank you for it!

Why To Use Serviced Apartments While Relocating?

Relocating? Skip the stress! Serviced apartments offer a cost-effective, convenient, and comfortable solution. Explore Namastey Homes for fully-furnished havens in prime locations, complete with professional support and hotel-like amenities. Find your perfect home away from home!

Relocating can be a hectic task for both business professionals and families alike. The stress of adjusting to a new place combined with the task of finding a home for yourself can give anyone the chills. One has to consider several factors such as cost, location, furnishing, and much more before making a decision. However, amongst this, one thing that proves to be the most challenging is to find the temporary accommodation to stay while you look for your permanent home. In this aspect, Serviced Apartments have emerged as a preferred option among relocators. Here's why..

1. Cost Effective - Hotels are a viable option when the duration of stay is small for example a few days. However, in the longer run, the added cost of hotel meals, laundry services, valet services, access to wellness centers, high speed Wi-Fi, etc makes the bill fatter. This is where serviced apartments come into picture. For Example, at Namastey Homes, a premium serviced apartment in Saket, many amenities are provided without any extra cost. All apartments are equipped with a fully furnished kitchen, parking spaces, high speed internet, washing machines and much more. This proves to be cost effective in the long run
2. Ease of Relocating - Finding an apartment at a central location to stay for longer duration invites many regulatory challenges. Apart from these, looking for a landlord open to short term lease, negotiating rent, furnishing the rented space, etc can make the task time and energy consuming. Serviced Apartments on the other hand are fully furnished ready to move in spaces, with set agreements. One does not have to invest efforts in the nitty gritties of the contract. For example, Namastey Homes provides all types of serviced apartments ranging from studio to 4BHKs. We also provide apartments that are pet friendly and inclusive of diable.
3. Location - Usually one has to choose between staying close to work or staying close to shops, restaurants, night life, and local attractions. At Namastey Homes, we are proud to say that we have multiple properties at prime locations of the city. This makes accessing the transportation link as well as leisure activities easy for the relocator. Its proximity to metro stations, tourist attractions and corporate hubs makes it a preferred accommodation.
4. Professional Help - Serviced Apartments provide hotel-like amenities with home-like comfort. One does not have to worry about housekeeping, concierge services or a reception to look after your needs. At Namastey Homes, we have a 24x7 helpdesk to assist you during your stay. The professional team guides you regarding the size, location, budget and overall stay of the serviced apartment. One can focus on settling in at a new place, getting ahead in work, and exploring new area.
5. Comfortable Living - While you tirelessly work the whole day looking for a permanent home, you wouldn't want to come back to a place at the end of the day that feels disconnected or cold. Serviced Apartments are home away from home. They are not just a place to stay but sit back and relax. They are designed to make you feel at home and comfortable.
