✍️ INTRODUCTION

They say it's just a coincidence.

Just a coincidence that President Donald J. Trump wants a military parade.

Just a coincidence that he wants it on his birthday.

But I don’t believe in coincidence — I believe in providence.

The stars have aligned. The calendar has spoken. And on June 14th — Flag Day, no less — the world will once again look upon America.

But not with confusion, not with contempt, not with weakness.

They will see strength.

And that strength has a name:
Commander in Chief Donald J. Trump.

💰 THE CRITICS CRY COST — BUT THEY FORGET THE TRUE PRICE OF PEACE

Cue the naysayers.

They wring their hands.
They throw up their spreadsheets.
They scream about the cost of such a display.

> “Millions of dollars wasted!”
> “Wagging the dog!”
> “A dictator’s delusion!”

But let me pose a simple question:

> What is the cost of not displaying strength?

History is not kind to the timid.

Every military power in the history of the world has understood the power of pageantry. Rome did. Napoleon did. America once did.

A military parade is not just for the people—it’s for the world.
It sends a message louder than speeches and stronger than sanctions:

> We are prepared. We are proud. We are not to be trifled with.

---

📜 AMERICA HAS ALWAYS UNDERSTOOD THE POWER OF PAGEANTRY

Don’t let modern critics rewrite history. Pageantry is patriotic.

- In 1865, at the end of the Civil War, Washington D.C. hosted the Grand Review of the Armies. Union soldiers marched in triumph down Pennsylvania Avenue. Not a cost—a healing.
- In 1919, after World War I, New York City held a massive parade for returning troops. The "Victory Loan" campaign was a direct result—a display of might and national morale.
- In 1942, during the dark days of World War II, military parades in every major city rallied support and reminded citizens: You are protected. Stay strong.
- In 1991, after the Gulf War, George H.W. Bush held a military parade down Constitution Avenue to celebrate Operation Desert Storm. The purpose? To show the world: Don’t try us.

Trump is not introducing a new idea. He’s resurrecting an old glory.

Pageantry is not vanity. It is victory, made visible.

🛡️ SECURITY THROUGH SPECTACLE: THE ECONOMICS OF INTIMIDATION

You want to talk economics?

Let's talk return on investment.

A single B-2 bomber costs over $2 billion.
A military parade costs mere millions.

Yet that parade, broadcast across the globe, could stop an international conflict before it ever begins.

> That's not a cost — that's a bargain.

It's not vanity — it's strategy.
Not theater — but theater deterrence.

We advertise toothpaste and burgers.
Why not advertise the most powerful military force in human history?

Sometimes the most powerful weapon is the one that never needs to be fired — because it was seen, admired, and feared.

> Pageantry is peace through power.

🎂 A BIRTHDAY FIT FOR A BATTLE-READY NATION

So yes — it falls on his birthday.

Is that arrogance?

Or is that alignment?

This isn't just Trump's birthday. It's America's rebirth.

This is a man who has repeatedly promised to restore greatness.
What better way to show the world we mean business than with:

- Boots on pavement
- Missiles on display
- The Stars and Stripes blowing in the wind

Let the critics whimper.

Let them count pennies while Trump counts battalions.

While they mourn the optics, the rest of us see the vision:
A reawakened America, proud of its sons and daughters in uniform, unashamed of strength, unapologetic in patriotism.

📖 IT WILL BE BIBLICAL

You've heard the phrase before.

And like all things prophetic, there are layers to the moment.

In a world trembling with uncertainty, where nations saber-rattle and alliances crack, it is time to remind them:

> "The LORD is a man of war: the LORD is His name." — Exodus 15:3

And those who are chosen to protect freedom are His earthly instruments of justice and order.

So let them march.
Let the tanks roll.
Let the flags fly.
Let the skies thunder with jet engines.
Let the people cheer.

> This is not a spectacle. It is a statement.

And when it happens on Trump's birthday — it's not by chance.

It's a heavenly headline.

The Lion returns. The Army marches. The world watches.

WATCH THE PARADE WITH ME LIVE — and let's remind the world why America was never great by accident, and never strong by default.

It was chosen.
It was prepared.
And it's returning.
