

SL: The reason why he loves you...

Why does he love you?

This is one of the hardest, most ridiculous things to try to understand.

What is it about you that he loves?

The answer is...

You don't know, and you can't know.

Why?

Because he doesn't know either.

He loves you for some internal reason that is beneath his conscience, it is his subconscious, you just can't get in there.

But you can understand his next mental step after he FEELS he loves you, actually once you are aware of this you'll be able to understand him better.

And this is gonna give you the key to his HEART
