Resources for those new to Quakers

If you are new to Quaker meetings, welcome! The info you need to join some Canadian Quaker meetings is below. Please don't hesitate to get in touch using the contact info listed below for each meeting. General questions about this list can be sent to editor@quaker.ca.

Please note that a "Monthly Meeting" is a local group of Quakers – roughly analogous to a church or other local spiritual community that meet together regularly. They hold monthly business meetings (which is where the name comes from), but usually meet weekly for worship.

To better understand Quaker worship, you might find it helpful to check out 'Your First Quaker Meeting in Six Steps' from Montreal Quaker Meeting. (Keep in mind it was written before we started holding online meetings.)

Resources for those new to online worship

If you are new to online meetings, Woodbrooke College has put out a series of guides on using technology for remote Quaker meetings, generally for those already involved in Quaker community:

- Advice & Resources for Online Worship
- One such guide, A Quaker's guide to online worship and meetings (PDF) includes detailed guides to using Zoom to join or host Quaker meetings
- Another guide looks at how to combine physical and online meetings: Thoughts on blending physical and online worship (PDF)
- New England Yearly Meeting's Tips and Tools for Online Worship and Gatherings is also helpful
