But after deciding it's not for him he kept on pursuing his medical degree and applied for a doctor in the [redacted] hospital.
But everything was normal. His work as junior doctor seemed to be going great but after getting back into the technology he discovered a confidential document called “SCP-682 Information document”. After that he started investigating the unknown hobby he had found, But it seemed too real. During one of the days he dropped the document about his little hobby when passing through an UN checkpoint. The UN contacted the DEA. The doctor Keddy was put under investigation by the DEA but due to hospital circuit shortage the hospital burned down. After that Keddy became homeless for a long period of time he blamed it on the learning of the SCP-682 and that it was real. After that Keddy needed to be kidnapped as soon as possible due to possibly dying before getting the information how he learned about the SCP’s. After being kidnapped and interrogated. He was placed on hold, but due to good behavior was put on as a trial doctor due to his previous experience in the hospital

Later career:

During the long period of being a foundation member and a doctor Keddy has become a senior doctor due to an incident . During late hours the Site was sleeping and a VIP member nearly got assassinated. He was rushed to the medical staff but the only medical staff that was still on the job was Keddy that had to perform the surgery alone.
