This template is designed to help you think through your plans and assumptions before you attend the retreat. You don't have to share your answers here with anyone, and it's fine if you feel that your plan is not very impressive or interesting.

What is your current career plan? (be honest)

If you were 10x more ambitious, what would your career plan look like?

What uncertainties do you have about your current plan?

What uncertainties do you have about your super-ambitious plan?

One-on-one meetings might be the best use of your time at the retreat. Take a look at the professionals list and the attendees list and try to list at least three people for each question.

Who could help you?

Who could you help?

Is there someone in the retreat attendees list you could ask about your career uncertainties? What would you ask them?
