Independent Study Syllabus TEMPLATE: YYY 290/390

Course Instructor:
Office:
Office phone:
Email:

Required Course Materials
Textbook(s) [include title, author(s), edition, and ISBN]
Other materials?

Course Description
The student will append, to their independent study contract, a statement of at least 250 words which describes the planned project and lists the learning outcomes.

Preliminary list of readings:

Method of evaluation: See Course Requirements, below

Educational Priorities and Outcomes and Learning Outcomes
This course supports Cornell College's Educational Priorities and Outcomes of Knowledge, Inquiry, Reasoning, Communication, and Vocation, with an emphasis on Inquiry and Vocation.

SUGGESTED Course Requirements (may be edited/altered by the Instructor)

Assignment	Description	Due Date/Time
Daily journal	Write down your experiences and identify specific knowledge acquired and skills being developed by writing in a daily journal.
Midterm assignment	Identify what you have learned to date and summarize your progress to your overall goals for this course. Outline the actions needed to fully achieve your course goals.
Final assignment	SPECIFY
Submit an updated resume	Add details about your experience including new skills developed. Submit to the Berry Career Institute and faculty sponsor.

Course Policies
ADD specific policies, if desired.

Grading Process and Criteria
Assignments will be graded based on satisfactory completion of each by the deadlines.

Class Meeting Schedule

In general, you will be expected to work a minimum of: 80 hours for 0.5 credits or 160 hours for 1 credit.

Any regular meeting times can be specified here.

Academic Honesty Expectations

Cornell College expects all members of the Cornell community to act with academic integrity. An important aspect of academic integrity is respecting the work of others. A student is expected to explicitly acknowledge ideas, claims, observations, or data of others, unless generally known. When a piece of work is submitted for credit, a student is asserting that the submission is his/her/their own work unless there is a citation of a specific source. If there is no appropriate acknowledgement of sources, whether intended or not, this may constitute a violation of the College's requirement for honesty in academic work and may be treated as a case of academic dishonesty. The procedures regarding how the College deals with cases of academic dishonesty appear in the Catalogue, under the heading "Academic Honesty."

Accommodations Statement

Cornell College makes reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities. Students should notify the Coordinator of Academic Support and Advising and their course instructor of any disability related accommodations within the first three days of the term for which the accommodations are required, due to the fast pace of the block format. For more information on the documentation required to establish the need for accommodations and the process of requesting the accommodations, see Disability Services and Resources.