Snap Bids

What are they?
A Snap Bid is a private membership offer that occurs after bid matching is complete and before official bids are distributed. Snap Bids are offered only when a house has extra spots to fill after bid matching. They are very rare and not guaranteed.

When do they happen?
If a Snap Bid is offered, the ISC will call the PNM early Saturday morning, around 7:00-8:00 AM, to see if they are interested.

Who is eligible?
Only PNMs who attended every house during Round One of formal recruitment are eligible, even if they later withdrew or were released.

Continuous Open Bidding (COB)

What is it?
COB is an informal recruitment process that takes place after formal recruitment has concluded. Each chapter chooses whether to participate, so there is no guarantee that every chapter will be open for COB.

How does it work?
Unlike structured formal recruitment, which follows strict schedules and rounds, COB is casual, unstructured, and organized directly by individual chapters. If a chapter offers you a bid, you accept it by signing a COB MRABA form, which is a binding agreement.

Who is eligible?
Any woman who is not in a sorority and has not signed an MRABA in the past year is eligible. This includes, but is not limited to, PNMs who withdrew or were released from formal recruitment this term and women who did not go through formal recruitment.

You must also meet all of GLASS' standard eligibility requirements:

- Sophomore status (or above)
- Residential
- Enrolled in classes
- In good standing with the college
- 2.5+ GPA
- Acknowledge GLASS Expectations of Membership
- Completion of required trainings (unlike in formal recruitment, you may complete these after receiving a bid, but within 48 hours of accepting)

When does it start?
COB can begin once formal recruitment ends and bid matching is complete. This happens on the morning of Bid Day, and chapters will be notified when they may start COB if they choose to participate. This fall, Bid Day is October 10th.

How do I get involved?
COB and all related events are run entirely by individual chapters, not the ISC. We recommend following chapters' Instagram accounts to see who is participating.

If you participated in recruitment, withdrew, and indicated interest in COB on the withdrawal form, the ISC will send your email address to all chapters participating in COB.
