Food Delivery Services

Multiple secondary level schools are having food deliveries made to the school which is causing multiple issues, primarily one of safety. The front office staff and/or security staff is being tasked with verifying multiple people throughout the day to allow them access to bring the food into the building. Also, some schools are having food stored in the main office throughout the day due to students not coming to receive their order.

As of today, food deliveries (DoorDash, GrubHub, Uber Eats, etc.) are no longer allowed for student access.
