ECOVILLAGE ANSWERS
Online Education Series

Presents:

How to Live Like an Ecovillager: Low Carbon, High Quality

How to Create a Successful Co-op: Sharing Table, Tools, & Transpo
Webinar #4 Resource List

Your local extension office or state university agricultural program department will have many resources and guides developed for the public. Your state Department of State will have online guides and forms for setting up your own separate legal entity for your co-op or other endeavor. You can also ask your local Bar Association or CPA society for a referral to attorneys and accountants to specialize in these types of businesses.

Visit local CSAs and Co-ops, and ask them how they work….most are happy to spread the word and share their experiences and advice. Don't be afraid to start small with one or two others, and learn as you go!

American Community Gardening Association

www.communitygarden.org

Local Harvest Directory (of CSAs, Co-ops, local food)

www.localharvest.org

Natural Food Coops & Buying Clubs (tips for starting and running co-ops)

www.coopdirectory.org

United Natural Foods, Inc. (the main distributor for health food stores, co-ops, and buying clubs)

www.unfi.com

Sign up for Low Carbon, High Quality webinars at:
www.DancingRabbit.org/webinars

How to Start a Car-Sharing Cooperative

http://www.transitionus.org/sites/default/files/HowTo_StartACarSharingCoop_v1.0.pdf

BC Climate Action Toolkit – Community Car Share Program

http://www.toolkit.bc.ca/tool/community-car-share-program

Land Trust Alliance

ww.lta.org

Community Land Trust Network

www.cltnetwork.org

Sign up for Low Carbon, High Quality webinars at:
www.DancingRabbit.org/webinars