Translation of OP2's party's update on March 12 - SVT Mingyu

By @RENJULYS. If you find any errors or need to ask clarification questions, please DM me.

I will use these brackets [] to signify that they are my clarifications, and not OP's. The parenthesis () are used by the OP. For this translation, I will not insert all of the pictures OP has uploaded. However, they are not fabricated on my end, and I do have access to pictures privately. I will ask you all to refrain from asking me to send the pictures.

Here's the link to a Masterdoc (Mingyu Allegations Timeline) Credits to @GGoingSVT on Twitter ^ If you haven't been keeping up, I highly suggest that you take a quick look!

Also, to clarify, this is not another exposing, and definitely not anything that would put Mingyu in more harm. This explains things that us, the readers, may have been confused about, and also provides more clarifications about the current situation.

Title: This is "익명1" [Anonymous 1; the nickname OP2 went by on Pann], the exposer of the exposer that posted regarding Seventeen Mingyu's Bullying Incident.

[Posted under the name Anonymous 1 like other OP2's posts on Pann]

* We, who are writing this post, are not Anonymous 1 [OP2], and we share that we are middle-high school, K University alumni, united university club activity, all who got to know them through such group activities.

The intent for writing this post is to clarify why Anonymous 1 [OP2] initially posted.

After a conversation with Anonymous 1 and alumni friends, the evidence, Anonymous 1's sightings in the hakwon, and the sightings regarding Mingyu by Burim Middle School alumni have been organized and sent to the company [Pledis] via email.

Regarding such, it was clarified [on the email] that the exposing of the post [email] or words signifying that Anonymous 1 [OP2] sent an email were not wanted, but that they [Pledis] could use certain parts in their statement.

The statement was uploaded today. Although it is not clear if Anonymous 1's [OP2's] writing was used in the statement, but we confirmed this part.

"The writer of the online post experienced a series of personal events unrelated to the artist while attending middle school and uploaded the post to make them known to the public. The post also included what happened during the after school classes at the time.

The artist said he did joke around with his male classmates at the after school class, but never bullied nor tried to embarrass any specific student. He did however, offer his sincere apologies if the poster, in any way, felt uncomfortable or suffered due to his actions.

The poster accepted the artist's apology and insisted that the poster did not want the issue to lead to the suspension of the artist's activity or the artist leaving the group from the very first conversation held with PLEDIS Entertainment." [Screenshot of the Pledis statement]

We also confirmed that parts regarding sexual harassment was not even mentioned. [Not Pledis ignoring, but OP1 disregarding. For more context, after OP1's post, Knets accused Mingyu of sexual harassment.] We thought that this was because of misunderstandings and wrong memories.

We think that it is true that because of that deleted post [OP1's post] he [Mingyu] is marked as a bully who sexually harassed to the people who are disinterested in the truth beyond or who came in contact with this through the news.

Because of the title and more, we thought that some parts flowed not the way the writer's (exposer) [OP1] intended to do, and because Anonymous 1's (exposer of the exposer) [OP2] intentions for posting was '1- to get an apology. 2- wishing that no one is falsely framed.' we are posting certain parts of the email.

First, for those who will question the reliability, we will also reveal parts of evidence.

1. The format of the written email's writing was as the bottom.

[Screenshot with two pictures and captions. The first is a blurred out photo of the hakwon building captioned August 30, 2011, 4:40 PM. The second is the same place but different photo, captioned 'This is a photo received a few days ago by a Burim Middle School alumni who was asked to take a picture of the building of the hakwon Anonymous 1 [OP2] attended in middle school.']

We contrasted the past photos from 2010 to 2012 collected from alumni and friends and current photos. We organized Anonymous 1's [OP2] position, sightings, etc and sent it. In the photos that were sent as evidence,

- Anonymous 1's photos taken in the hakwon building, hakwon, hakwon building's bathroom, etc.
- The hakwon test photos done when they were attending SM [initial] hakwon.
- Photos taken at the hakwon building.
- Proof of graduation from Burim Middle School.

- and written information about what only the people who attended the hakwon and used the building know.

and more existed.

(We wrote mainly around the writings especially by friends that were not close to Mingyu, and excluded the testimonies [not legal] and photos by Burim Middle alumni that are currently Mingyu's fans. We share that we wrote only with the most unbiased photos and testimonies [not legal].)

2. This is part of a sighting by Anonymous 1 [OP2] written in the email.

1. Mingyu hung out in groups in the hallway of the hakwon and building rather than inside the hakwon classroom.
2. Although there was a group of people hanging out in front of the board, drawing, Mingyu was not included in that group.
3. Mingyu's group's conversation topics were usually gaming, food, and other casual topics.
4. At least the Kim Mingyu I know and experienced is different from the post. [OP1's post]

3. This is a friend's sighting regarding Mingyu.

[This was uploaded as a screenshot. I will add asterisks to signify where the screenshot starts and ends.]
*One of the friends who sent a photo for this writing remembered Mingyu as the only friend who asked "Can that even be a joke?" for the first time while everyone else, out of boredom, made fun of how poor I was.

It was Mingyu who first talked to my younger sibling with lighthearted jokes who could not make friends and no one could talk to because of their personality. The light jokes such as "how dare you?" [Similar to what OP1 accused Mingyu of saying to her] were also jokes that my sibling was really thankful for.

We all remember Mingyu as a friendly person to the regular, or to the weak in the society called school. He joked to everyone and no one felt uncomfortable.
Also, there are friends that want to thank his actions through this writing, although they were small actions that Mingyu does not probably remember.

We will end the writing here, longer than 10 pages, hoping that the situation is resolved without sorrow/chagrin. Thank you.*

It is like such on the top.

We think that sightings and personal stories as such should also be shared with the public.

(*The below is the position regarding the poster (exposer) [OP1] and Anonymous 1 (exposer of the exposer) [OP2].)

1. This post, and the three posts posted under the name Anonymous 1. A comment showing disappointment under the poster's [OP1] second post named "copy of medical records…". No posts or comments were posted aside from these.

2. We also did not send any emails. This was because we did not think a conversation between the poster [OP1] and Anonymous 1 [OP2] would do good or harm. We did not think that her stance claiming not to remember would change.

3. We could not figure out who emailed Anonymous 1 [OP2] telling them to 'take the post down'. However, whether it be a joke or false, we think that they need to pay the price.

Although we found a slight similarity with the exposer's [OP1] email address posted, because the fact that she made this randomly was mentioned, we have excluded the exposer [OP1] from the list of possible senders [of the email asking to take the post down].
We are currently at verifying the sender and IP tracking.

2. [There are a lot of numbers, and I'm not sure which 'list' this connects to as you may be confused. I will leave the original formatting alone, however, so I do not make a wrong interpretation. Sorry about the confusion.]

Anonymous 1 deleted the post and saw the poster's [OP1] edited post.

I was the only girl in the hakwon. Because our memories are different, they are calling out someone else. I do not remember. [Quoting OP1]

The exposer of the exposer [OP2] keeps evidence and witnesses for the incident in middle school and so on, and acts formulated for everything. This was the same while posting this.

Anonymous 1 (exposer of the exposer) [OP2] saves the names of files the way they can remember, as the below.

[Screenshot of saved files. First is named "Burim Middle", the second is named "Why isn't this getting uploaded.", and the third is named "My daughter".]

My daughter. This is also the name that Anonymous 1 (exposer of the exposer) [OP2] directly typed and saved.

And the poster [OP1] posted again after the post was deleted. And she only denies what can be denied in Anonymous 1's [OP2] post.

I was the only girl in the hakwon. Because our memories are different, they are calling out someone else. I do not remember. [Quoting OP1]

Because our memories are different, they are calling out someone else. I do not remember. [Quoting OP1]

The poster's [OP1] post can be summarized as such. We can verify a different attitude from Mingyu's, who said that although this is different from his own memory, he still apologizes.

We will leave the gender of Anonymous 1 [OP2] unknown.
We are also leaving room for interpretation- that the poster's [OP1] sentence saying "I was the only girl in the hakwon" could be a flawed memory.

These posts are all planted with bait to prove that all other posts are flawed memories and lies to justify her memory. Although we can say for sure that she is lying in her posts and that the victim and wrongdoer can be divided, we will not post anything else regarding this.

The initial intention was an apology and to clarify the truth, wishing for no misunderstandings and wrongful framing.
Mingyu and the exposer [OP1] met and verified the misunderstandings and distortions [of memories]. Anonymous 1 [OP2] wants nothing more than this. Not even an apology, or a meeting. They do not want anything, and not even to solve misunderstandings.

Like the attitude the poster (exposer) [OP1] had when she was first posting. We hope you can feel the frustration from not getting time to solve misunderstandings or to apologize under the name anonymous.

Please do not mention anything between the two, or dispraise the exposer [OP1] or the exposer of the exposer [OP2].

I (the writer) contacted friends regarding the incident with the request of help from Anonymous 1 (exposer of the exposer) [OP2].

Friends that reached my contact and I read the post, and we met with the alumni that reached out first to collect evidence. We posted together, and we collected as much as we could reach regarding the photo Anonymous 1 [OP2] took at the hakwon, and pictures taken at the hakwon building. (PDF screenshots of malicious comments are included.)

This was a friend who desperately got a doctor's note signifying recovery to prepare for college. However, after posting the third (last) post without discussion, they complained of sudden difficulty of breathing.

Currently, Anonymous 1 (exposer of the exposer) [OP2] is back in Korea after ending the past few years of studying abroad. They ended everything regarding career and things they saved. It is said that they are in a condition needing focused treatment for more than 3 months and absolute stability.

Because of how urgent Anonymous 1's [OP2] condition is, we tried not to post any more regarding this situation.

However, we were asked to post, just in case if the applicable matter was a misunderstanding and an inflated distortion [of words and/or memory]. So, we post this, reflecting off of Anonymous 1's [OP2] want.

* We are collecting PDF files of malicious comments regarding Anonymous 1 [OP2]. We are planning on suing with structured preparation. Please leave them in the comments or the email below.

[An email address was shared here.]

This is an actual email address Anonymous 1 [OP2] and we use to receive signatures or petitions. Please do not send emails as jokes. +Exposer.

Although Anonymous 1 [OP2] could not do so, we hope that you can get compensation for every harm you received.

+)Anonymous 1 [OP2] proof. They are using a Macbook (laptop) and a Windows main unit computer together. We hope there are no misunderstandings.

[Screenshots of the folder of proof, as well as the details of the folder, including 122 files.]

Good night everyone. I hope that it is a good night for Anonymous 1 [OP2] as well.

I hope you all know that Anonymous 1 [OP2] is not a liar now. I hope you know how brave Anonymous 1 [OP2] is, and also how just their heart was when writing.
