PRESENT: Dean, Pavan, Omar, Kiana, Miranda, Mohamed, Madelynn
ABSENT (EXCUSED): NONE

1) Pizza Day
-Passed Unanimously
-Post on Social Media Tonight
-Can use sign up CORQ app
-To-Go Boxes Tie In

2) Daniels Dinner Debrief

-Admins should have been more evenly distributed through tables

Miranda
-Reception to Sexual Assault Speech Rude
-Should have Indicated Allergies
-President Daniels was rude, interrupted speech more than others, brought up points before speakers could finish, made excuses, though OIE didn't need more staff even though OIE has stated they need more staff, was perhaps misinformed/ignorant
-President Daniels also interrupted once during Public Safety, but content was similarly serious
-Claims that they've "had their eyes on this" was likely incorrect
-Had no goals or timeline
-Gave excuses on why timeline couldn't be reduced, less staff
-Made no promises about changing process despite fact that victims must prove "beyond reasonable doubt" (impossible) vs. "preponderance of evidence"
-Very difficult to speak and make points while being interrupted/questioned
-Would write Op-Ed if February meeting is unproductive
-Daniels had way more urgency regarding Public Safety than Sexual Assault
-Windows on doors would mitigate risk of assaults/misconduct
-Most sexual assaults happen in private spaces, versus active shooters on campus
-Thought Alex's points were impressive
-Partnering with BPD is ineffective and corrupt

Madelynn
-Daniels cut them off middle through the speech
-Parts about disability and trauma training were not said
-Felt talked down to
-Suggestions that Miranda/Madelynn was uninformed
-Didn't bring up a point that Madelynn didn't already know
-Joy would maintain that OIE is overworked

-Hopkins is way more thorough than peer institutions, to the point that Title IX is being violated
-Alex's speech was great
-Jenn made point that we are unprepared in Active Shooter Situations
-Increase number of JCard-only accessible rooms, deactivate cards of school shooters
-Security is currently lacking in a lot of trainings, including sexual assault and disabilities
-Trainings must be specific to ensure private police force is effective

Omar
-They should have waited
-Proud of Miranda/Madelynn
-Had question on level of detail necessary in OIE cases
-Opposes idea of closed campus, would prefer armed force not being formed

Mohamed
-It is extremely difficult to keep talking while being interrupted
-Daniels should not have interrupted speakers
-We should be able to share some things in public but not all
-Opposed to locking doors because sexual assault cases could be dangerous
-Daniels was direct, didn't interrupt, and was supportive of student center and shared governance
-Daniels did not know what the referendum was
-Daniels was dismissive of what the referendum is

Dean
-Also, Daniels didn't pay much attention to Junior Class Council survey results

Aspen
-Proud of Miranda/Madelynn
-Valuable to speak to higher admin because we get their direct, unadulterated insight
-Wouldn't recommend blowing it up
-Curious about how emotionality has any effect

Pavan
-Calling Daniels out directly is unwise, it's under Provost Kumar/Vice Provost Shollenberger's office anyways
-We should be seen as partners rather than antagonists
-Next meeting with Provost Schollenberger is December 14th 9 AM
-Appreciated them being open and honest on Public Safety
-There are more concerns about safety on the East Baltimore Campus

Kiana
-Also recommended that we don't be confrontational
-There were more convenient deserts that could have been served than gelato

-Surprised at how long conversation went, and how resolute Daniels/Kumar were in their reasoning for the force. Went very in-depth.
-Not likely Daniels would go out of his way to make an unethical private police force, but reality is that trainings, etc. haven't been outlined specifically

3) How do we use the money to address the big-ticket concerns?
