

Hello hello, hope you're doing well and I wanted to say thank you for whatever you end up writing. As long as you avoid my DNWs I'll definitely adore it. :)

So before I start going into some ramble, please don't freak out or anything about prompts with pairings or anything, they're just random suggestions on ideas. I know some authors like some kind of lead and some like to just look at the wants and figure out an idea. The only thing I ask is that the DNW's are taken seriously because generally if they are seen as something I like (written on my ao3 or something) it's pretty much because it was written in a certain way that I can get behind but usually dislike on a general fic reading basis and therefore really bothers me. So it's super important they aren't in a fic, I'm sorry some are so very specific.

Also, if you are contemplating HH (Brock and Jack), I heavily prefer them working for Shield/Avengers or just plain ol' AU. If they do work for Hydra, it's under the pretense they will be betraying them/figure out how wrong the organization is. (This also expands to helping Bucky escape and never participate in any HTP activities if that's a mentioned thing in the story.)

I don't mind gen to explicit, whatever speaks to you is fine with me. :)

For any stalking needs, I'm Kalika_999 on AO3 and Kalika999 on tumblr.

Okay so moving on :D

Do not want: Open, bittersweet or sad endings, rape (referenced/implied past abuse is fine), noncon, dubcon (except with the a/b/o note in wants), tooth-rotting fluff, bdsm au, hate sex, cross-dressing, feminization, poly, genderswap, ageplay, cheating, scat, watersports, mcd, slavery, Brock Rumlow or Jack Rollins being used as bad guys (I don't care about Pierce, throw him in a blender for all I care lol), steggy, staron, buckynat, brucenat, phlint, anything with Darcy, character bashing, disability/illness where someone dies, humiliation, bottom!Jack, bottom!Bucky, kidfic

Want: Angst with a happy ending, Meetugly, Hurt/comfort + fluff, Soulmates, Wrong number, Zombie apoc, Bakery, Werewolf meeting a vampire, Vampires, Excessive touching/scenting, Phone sex, Amnesia/Rebuilding the relationship from scratch, A/B/O (But very very picky, prefer apartment neighbor turned friends to lovers type of build up if there's sex OR Alpha for Hire scenting fics where they fall for each other before sex), Cabin fic/Huddling for warmth, Teenagers/Growing up together, First times, One is a virgin, Small town, Neighbors, Fake relationship, Horror/Hauntings, One of them is the grim reaper, Deaged, Disability, Mutual pining, Misunderstandings, Bed sharing, Rimming, Bathing/washing/share bath, Body worship, Stucky, Clintasha, Sam/Riley, Thorbruce, Ironstrange, Spideypool (I don't need any of those pairings with whatever story, just mentioning pairings I really enjoy if you felt like having any as fodder)

Dark concept wants (Only to the extent of killing bad people trope): One or both - serial killers, cannibalism (Though not at all interested in one giving the other their body for eating), stalking/voyeurism/stalkee returning the affection, creature fic, demonic possession, I don't mind captured + tortured as long as they are rescued

» Jack Rollins/Brock Rumlow

Hello I'm suffering. This is my OTP, cream of the crop, you can pry them from my cold dead hands and I still won't let go. LAGOS DID NOT HAPPEN. (If it did, Brock is alive and kicking. LBR he's a fecking roach.) Anyway. I love any au listed above with them, Jack is forever stoic, reads books because he's secretly a big nerd but also is really good at using his hands. (Murder or building things, why not both?). Brock is generally a hot mess outside of work (boxed wine and too much axe sprayed on at times), but a hard ass and a very competent Commander on the field. I am supremely on a soulmate level of how bonded these two are so almost every fic is Brock or Jack looking at the other one day and their brains yelling Oh no he's hot to themselves over and over again. I really appreciate the idea of them always being available emotionally to each other, that they can read each other without speaking, that they find solace and have 100% trust in one another to have each others backs. I especially love "Have we been dating all this time?" concepts where they're just too emotionally constipated to communicate that part of themselves, but always find the other in each others pockets (even to a point where people assume they're a couple). I really like AU's where they've grown up together, know each others everything, Brock looking up to Jack and thinking he'll never be good enough to be Jack's even though Jack's only had eyes for Brock. I also enjoy love at first sight (Or lust, whichever lol). I love Jack being a jerk just to get Brock uppity and upset, but it's all in good fun, never callous, mainly just to get him to pay attention to him. Really, have fun with it.

If you go canon divergence, I don't mind post Winter Soldier or even just before Trisk they decide to skip out and go on the run. Burn scars on Brock or not (I have a huge thing about Brock feeling ugly after he gets the scars and thus feels like Jack resents him when in reality Jack still loves him so very much), either way works for me. Or maybe they split up (pre-relationship or established) and found each other again at some secret place they had told each other about one night when they were together. (Kinda like the ending to Shawshank Redemption) They're not completely themselves, but once they reconnect, they're happy to find one another again.

» Jack Rollins

I'd really like a day in the life kinda fic with him, or maybe a mission gone wrong. Injury fics work too. I would die if he met Wanda and they kinda clicked as friends? It's weird but I feel like they would get along, that she could sense something in him he's tried to hide. I know he's a really lesser known character but I'd love to see him portrayed through a different person. (Well as long as my DNWs are honored please <3) Key things I really like a lot with Jack is he has an old leather armchair passed down through the generations that Brock simply loathes. He's known to feed scraps to homeless dogs around his house/on the job. He portrays himself as antisocial and unable to deal with feelings but inside he's full of emotions, he likes keeping it under control so no one can manipulate it. He likes puzzles and working with his hands on off time. He's a demolitions expert, a sniper and very well-versed in close quarters hand-to-hand combat on the field. He's also a troll and pretends to not know how to use social media so people leave him alone; he pulls pranks at work and no one is the wiser about it. Relationship or not, Brock is always his best friend. The actor that plays him is blind in one eye and his facial scar is a very important detail whether for writing or art so I figure I should mention those too. I also hc him Polish.

» Brock Rumlow

Brock is the same deal with me as Jack. I'd love a day in a life, working as a Commander, barking orders, training newbies and being all-around asshole (but in a firm dad kind of way). I don't know why but I always picture Rumlow staying in a place that's two seconds from being called a slum and he tends to be lazy when he can relax with a bottle of wine. He likes to preen and pamper himself, get into bar fights and mainly just act loud if he's so in the mood to. Usually he drags Jack along with him. He loves memes and sending Jack tons of them, selfies like a boss on insta and is hardcore into his Italian roots. (Despite how much I hc him coming from an abusive homelife when he was young) I'm not heavily into the toxic masculinity theme that's written with him, I more feel he tries to be straight but finds this empty void about it. He's definitely crushed on Steve Ibr but I always see the one who really gets him messed up is Jack, he just isn't absolutely sure what that means, which more or less causes him to drown it out with more alcohol. (Also, white girl wasted)

» Jack Rollins/Brock:Symbiote

I'd love to see a Hydra Husbands version of this where possibly Jack is plucked as a test subject only end up being a perfect host.

» Steve Rogers/Bucky:Symbiote

This is the only Stucky I'm really interested in atm, I had a gift fic written for me on the subject and would love to see more of this au. I don't mind whatever as long as dnm's are noted, anything would be fun!

I hope this is all helpful as it's my first time participating and I'm kind of overwhelmed at how detailed some of these letters are. I hope I didn't miss the mark.

Thank you :)
