First-time login (registration) fields

Important! Your OpenLab member profile is visible to the public, even to people not logged in to the OpenLab. Treat it like a LinkedIn profile/professional web presence.

The first time only, fill in the following fields:

- Username
    - This can't be changed later, so choose wisely, e.g., "jsmith240"
    - Use a pseudonym for the username if you don't want your real name to show online, e.g., "js240"
    - This username also becomes part of a public, unique web address (URL) that links to your OpenLab member profile.
- Display name. This can be changed any time!
    - e.g., "Janey Smith"
- Account type (student, faculty, or staff)

Except for the username, all this information can be changed later.
To change it or check and choose what parts of your profile show to the public, log in to the OpenLab > My Profile > My Settings > Edit Profile:
