

SL: Have you ever considered an opt-in page?

I was browsing around looking for a new supplement to add to my regimen when I came across your website.

I have to say I liked how the website was formatted and laid out, by using the research and the reviews to back up your claims.

When looking at your site and reviews online, I began to think of some ideas. One of the three ideas that came to my head when looking around your store is that you didn't have an Opt-in page to collect client's and future client's emails.

This would greatly Increase revenue in the future since a lot of people dealing with weight loss problems try and wait for the right time. An Opt-in page would allow you to contact people who think this way and generate a sale later on.

I took the time to write you an Opt-in page with the possibility of me in the future writing an ebook with tips and tricks for fat loss, I have a rich understanding of fitness and could use that to generate sign-ups. If you have a minute to get back to me I would love to hear your feedback. Are you open to expanding your digital marketing presence?

Quick and Easy hack to lose body weight.

- Sign up now to receive a free e book with tips and tricks to shred that fat.
- Additionally you will get notified on upcoming deals for weight loss products.

-Tegan Weida