TERMS OF SERVICE / GUIDELINES

1. All art made through commissions is of both ownership of the client, and my ownership. The client may use his commissioned work for personal projects, but not for profit without my authorization.

2. Please describe what you want to commission BEFORE showing any image examples. If it's okay with me, then feel free to show examples.

3. I only start work on commissions after they have been paid. The only people that are excluded from this rule are people that I know personally, or previous clients. They get to pay the commission after a WIP sketch has been made.

4. Discounts are not made unless I offer them.

5. If you want your commission to be private, anonymous or confidential, please let me know before paying, as I usually post WIPs of my works on my social media.

6. No free deadlines. I do art as a hobby, not as a full-time job. If you want to set a deadline, we can talk about it before you pay (not after though), but I don't promise anything because I have to deal with other stuff too, like my job and school work.

7. Please behave when ordering a commission. I can tolerate people, but you better not think I don't have a limit either. If you start showing a very rude behaviour, I will cancel your commission, with no chances for a refund. You may also get banned and blocked depending on what you do.

8. DO NOT USE MY ART FOR HARASSMENT OR HATE PURPOSES. I don't make hate art at all, nor do I condone it. If I discover you used or commissioned art for these kinds of purposes, your commission will be canceled with no chance for refunds, and you'll be blacklisted from my commissions.

9. You only get one free chance to request an edit or fix of your commission after it has been finished. Any future edits will cost extra money depending on the amount of work needed.

REFUNDS

I'll only offer refunds within the three days after a commission has been paid. Depending on the amount of days left to request a refund, you'll be given a percentage of that.

- First day: 100%
- Second day: 75%
- Third day: 50%
- After the third day: No refunds.

Keep in mind that you might receive less money than what you originally paid because of PayPal's commission costs taking a part of that.

PAYMENT METHODS

PayPal

Payments made through PayPal must only be made after all conditions for the commission have been set, and when I say you must pay. Please do not pay before all of this. All payments will be made through a PayPal invoice.

If you don't feel so sure of paying full price, you can pay 50% first, and then the other 50% after the commission is finished. I will not send the finished commission until it has been paid completely.

Keep in mind that you'll have to add 5 extra dollars to each individual payment, as PayPal takes commission costs for each transaction. This is not optional.

Bank Transfer (MEXICO ONLY)

If you live in Mexico, and have access to a bank there, you can pay through a bank account transfer instead. Same rules for the PayPal payments apply here as well, minus the extra 5 dollars to cover commission costs.

The value of each dollar will be 20 pesos.
