

WOLGOSTAN LARP EXPOSED (Read on google docs app for the best experience)

Hello. One of the more distinctive nations here is Wolgostan. At first I thought it was something real, but it's LARP. In addition, I hate falsifying Polish history, and I hate how the history of my country is faked.

Keep in mind that u/FoxcraftYTX never gave any credible evidence that the history of Wolgostan is true. There are maps and some information, but all of it is not supported by sources.

What are sources? Historical photos, historical documents or press articles. Those were not provided by any of the Wolgostan media and we couldn't find any articles about "historic events" from Wolgostan History. Add this information to every piece of information I give you.

You will probably say that I have no evidence in some slides, but remember that the burden of proving that something exists is not on me, it is the prover who has to prove that something exists. and the number of proofs Wolgostan provided us with is zero

Case 1: Genesis

TLDR: All of its history is made up

Wolgostan is a Polish/German Micronation founded by King Grabowski 1 in 1973 over the years we had many significant wars in our history like the big Descaran wars or The tatra wars .

My grandfather was a millionaire in poland but he was still poor because there was nothing to buy and the money was worthless. He worked for nothing in Poland back then , that's also why he got so many people on the descara side

The Empire of Wolgostan DSC: Kasirestwó
Wolgostan DE: Kaiserreich Wolgostan Founded in 1973 in a village near Grudziądz, Poland It is an empire that played a big role in The history of Micronations Millionaire Grabowski fleeing communist Poland. I know the specifics of my country, and there would definitely be information about something like this. Local press, Polish newspapers, in Radio Free Europe, or in the post-war press, because there are known cases of escape of almost every important or rich person.

The same thing goes with the micronation thing. First, the name Wolgostan. Not only is it written incorrectly, it should be Wołgostan if founded in Poland (Strangely the name of the river in German is Wolga...) and second, why does the name contain the name of the Volga River? Grabowski wanted to escape communism but named the country after one of the most communist things ever? Volga River is the only Soviet river known to the average Pole.

Also, it is stated that the micronation is from 1973 and formed a GREAT ROLE IN MICRONATIONS HISTORY. Bullshit. So why is it not included in any list, film or documentary on serious television about micronations? The only thing that pops up in the search engine after entering "Wolgostan" are various media accounts of the same person posting about wolgostan... I also haven't found wolgostan on any microcon.

1973 is also the bad time to emigrate for millionaires. You know who ruled Poland in 1973? EDWARD GIEREK! This name probably means nothing to you, dear foreign readers, but this particular secretary was the most open to trade, the West and millionaires. He led to a crisis, but 73' was blossoming in Poland. So while I don't have proof, escape still could be possible, the date seems extremely made up to me.

And don't tell me that a millionaire did not have anything to buy or places to buy. Rich people had access to luxury goods in the Polish People's Republic. The rest had to do something or stand in lines for nothing.

Ah, wolgostan Get Out of Jail Free card.

Let's do a thought experiment: in my wardrobe there is a two-meter banana costume. I claim that these are souvenirs from the great banana civil war of 2015 where 15 banana people died, without showing any evidence of such a war. The banana general colonel gave them to me. Can you prove to me that such a war did not take place?

Official language: German/Polish
 Capital :Kronenburg Form of government: Empire
 Head of state :Dorian Kowalski Area :7.713,02 m²
 Population as of 24.10.24 :25 GDP 5000€ Currency:
 Wolgostanian złoty Established in 1973 Predecessor
 entity : Socialist peoples Republic Wolgostan Independence 10.9.23 (1.2.1973) National anthem :Wolgostan złoty rzesza Vehicle registration number: WL Telephone area code: +49 Internet: .WL

“Wolgostan złoty rzesza” sounds very odd and incorrect but keep in mind that the population is 25

Moreover, it is not explained how this king acquired an army, how he encouraged people to dress as a country without history, etc. it's all fiction. poorly written.

CASE 2: STOLEN SONGS.

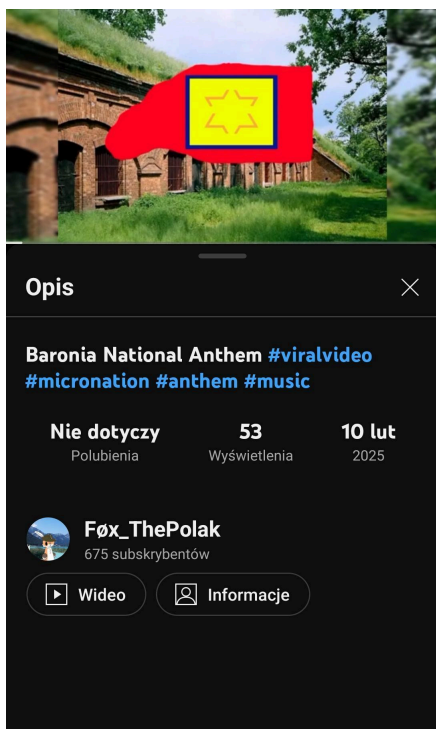

TLDR: Wolgostan YouTube channel is stealing historical songs and not crediting them.

First, let's take a look how historic Song SHOULD be uploaded, based on the best German marches uploader, dr. Ludwig Composed is credited.

While on the wolgostan side...

Nothing. The song is the theme from Postvana Valka, but his majesty did not care to credit or tell where's this from. Same thing with basically everything on that channel. The problem is that you can't find the original for lesser known songs or those that YT didn't detect.

Also, the polish language is used incorrectly (something for you grammar nazis). “myśmy są wojsko” has no capital letters, the job was to do control c ctrl v but they had to fail. It's also stolen, fortunately YouTube automatically detected what the song is.

If this composer existed, he would use correct grammar . Oddly enough, the owner of the Wolgostanian patriot account also writes in a similarly broken Polish language sometimes. But since wolgostanian patriot has already stolen multiple songs I'm sure it's stolen too. Not surprisingly, a made -up composer is nowhere to be found on the internet.

Husaria is the word in the feminine form, it should be Descarańska. That one letter makes a huge difference, dear non polish speakers

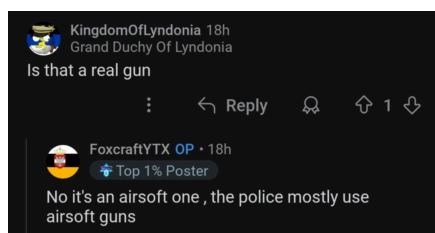

CASE 3: WARS

Wolgostan claims that they've had real wars. It's obvious they didn't, it's made up. That made up war in Communist Poland is insulting for me as a historian. Rest of them are either roleplays or other fictional events.

First of all: no evidence. Every modern war has photographs and videos While only proof is...

“To prove it's not larp I'll tell you about some made up stuff” is not very convincing for me and it shouldn't be for anyone. I will not criticize u/Firm-Requirement 3809 for assuming things cuz he is only wondering, but the Communist Poland, and the current Poland are not places like the USA, we don't have neighbourhood wars.

No comment here. Just funny and showing us that Wolgostan silly again.

The Republic of West Orava (RWO) was able to attack and occupy Polanski Warkapole until 15.3.1974, after which Descara partisans took the territory and returned it to Descara.

Battle of the Polanski fields Rwo soldiers came from the north and attacked the fields. Descara soldiers counterattacked but were pushed behind the army cemetery. Descarian cavalymen arrived and settled the situation. They pushed the rwo soldiers to behind the forest where they gave up the battle Smaller dogfights between airplanes have been documented too.

Fighting of the Descaran swamp On December 1, 1980 a battle broke out between RWO and Descara Descara won the battle and was able to regain occupied territories. 13 casualties were reported on the Descara side, but the number is unknown on the enemy side.

Are you kidding me? 13 casualties would make a HUGE criminal case in any European country, especially communist ones. Those are different battles but they've got one thing in common: they didn't happen. Usually in Poland, When there was news of only a few dead bodies, even two, panic broke out in communities due to fear. The bodies of a dozen or more people with gunshot wounds and uniforms would have caused the greatest panic in Poland since World War II. Besides, it is not some secret knowledge, Wolgostan itself talks about it openly. So why is there no interest from Polish or German services? Or international bodies? I couldn't find any article related to bodies found there in both the German and Polish press, no true crime story, nothing. BECAUSE IT IS ALL MADE UP

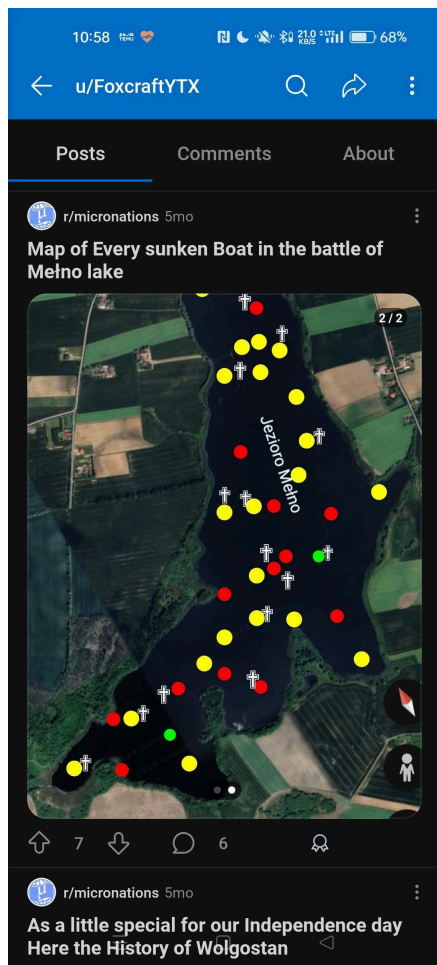

On September 1, 1980, the situation around the lake district intensified and the Great Sea Battle of Mełno began The RWO soldiers attacked from the north, while Wolgostan boats and boats of the allied forces of Western Ralaca defended from the south. 40 casualties were reported 24 boats sank on the RWO side including 10 fatalities

50 casualties? That's more than any criminal shooting in Poland. And in Mełno, there were two important military locations: Ośrodek Szkolenia Specjalistów Ubezpieczenia Lotów and Jednostka szkoleniowa Wojsk Lotniczych i Obrony Powietrznej PRL. (JW nr 5794)

In short: air force training facilities. And there were frequent flights around the area. If there were a concentration of troops or fighting in the Mełno area, the authorities of the Polish People's Republic would certainly notice it and pacify both sides.

14 boats on the descara side including 4 with fatalities

2 boats on the allied side including 1 with fatalities

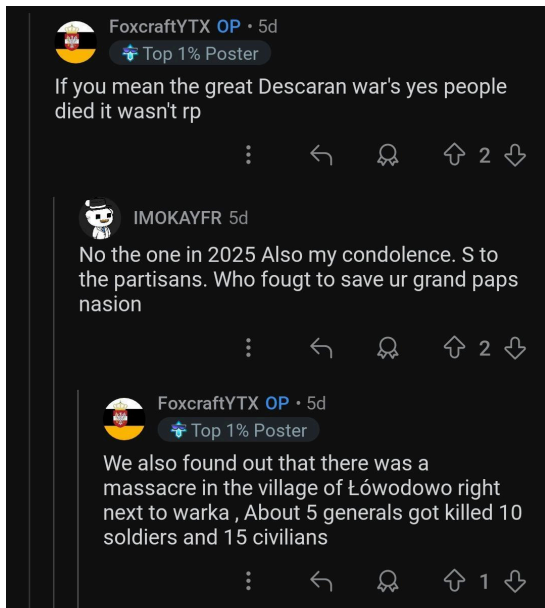

Same thing with boats. Made up, as the war and combatants. There were no reports of found bodies, military gear or boat wrecks in the Polish press. No boat wrecks, no witness statements, nothing, the map is just random dots on the map.

The second civil war 2020 The last civil war began
The Wolgostan partisans attacked once again .
The empire no longer held up well . The economy collapsed . As a result, the empire attacked Akstrala because Wolgostan was already weakened and Wolgostan collapsed

On 11.9.2023 the socialist people's state of Wolgostan was founded

On 15.9.23 the Tatra War against the Duchy of Górossia began Grórossian troops attacked a Wolgostan territory in the High Tatras. The Wolgostanians won the war despite their inferiority.
This victory is celebrated today with Victory Day.

Those are not real. Against made up enemies. Wolgostan doesn't own anything in Poland, including Taras. Taras are 600 kilometers from Melno. Again, no press reports, no legit wolgostan photos of conflict. I won't comment on every war specifically because it's obvious those are made up stories. Besides, the Tatras are one of the best guarded regions in Poland because of the tourists. Someone would definitely notice, especially if it is not secret.

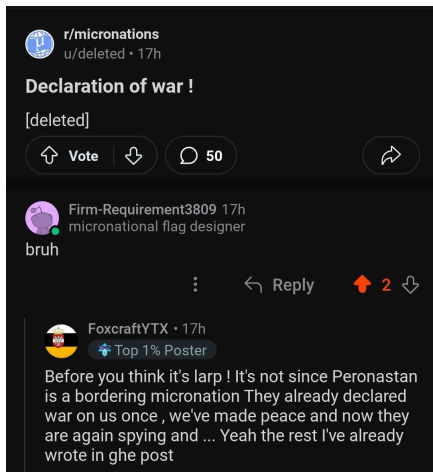

He's making up everything. Every single casualty and war about this nation are fiction. It WAS rp and that kid is fucking lying. There were no soldiers, generals and no one

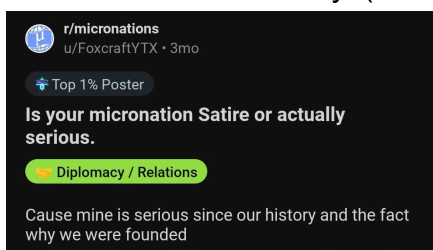

Strangely, the declaration of war was deleted as soon as it was pointed out that nation's history is made up...

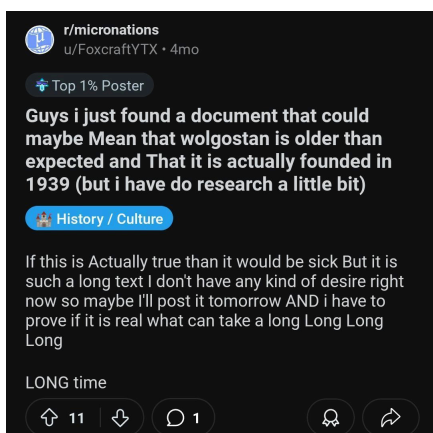

Declaration of war yesterday (sorry only pic i have)

Declaration of war today. (it is a larp)

Because serious micronations delete their war declarations if downvoted.

Another example of Wolgostanian Patriot making up stuff. It's not true. In NONE of his posts we've seen any historical document, historical photo, or anything presenting any historical value. In any media. One person founded it. War is not happening now, because nations he's having war with don't exist. Only maps, information that are ALL FICTION. Everyone can make a map and statement but if they're not backed up by proof, the historic statement is worthless.

Besides, there were no photos of war veterans even from more modern wars. Only one photo of a Wolgostan Patriot holding an airsoft gun.

The document was made 20th of February 2025, hour 17:42

Conclusion: Wolgostan it's roleplay. No doubts.
