

SL: Attract customers like a Hoover deluxe with this method!

Hey (prospect name)

This method is called FOMO (fear of missing out) . For example you can say this to your target audience.

My new and improved Blackout salt spray is unfortunately selling out quickly due to the upcoming spring rush. People are buying now to get it before the” spring rush”, and it sells out forever.

Also your salt spray smells good and really makes my hair stand out.

Anyways if you intend to use this method would you mind contacting me back via email? I'd like to partner with you and help you see a new perspective at marketing for free.
