Yall may know me as Kimhuaying aka Kim currently, while some of yall know me as Kaiirah or Irah from YappingIrah/Motherkaiirah, with the year approaching its end, I would like to give my biggest thank you and also apology.

Apology for what? My past. I will be straight up and say that I was not a great friend, a figure and even a person. I tried to cater to people so much, until I fumbled. Made bad decisions, said things that aren't right, bad mouthing and even losing trust of others.

Do I think it is all my fault? I take all responsibility for my immature and bad decision making. It caused me to lose people and IT IS my fault, but do I stay there? no I don't. I try to move forward, no matter how much it hurts.

I decided to make progress and move forward, it may not seem like it to others. But I did. I opened up to my family more, I decided to venture and meet more wonderful streamers who I am meeting at CF next month before the year ends ! I let out how I feel, but there were struggles. I had a relapse before, my anxiety triggers suck but we have to push through. I still lost friends because I didn't properly reciprocate the energy and I did vent at the worst possible timings or even I was hung up so much on my past.

Vtubing is not my career, but the hobby I have grown to love and enjoy. I genuinely am happy with this year, the progress I made, it may be little in terms content creation wise but I am so happy with my lil' guild community.

I am glad to say that, I finally find peace with myself and love myself so much more now.

I am able to push myself to not miss the gym sessions on my own, open up to my close friends instead of pushing them away, being more vulnerable and open to my community as well.

I am sorry to the people who left and those who I couldn't match, or even give the same energy back. I am sorry to those I have hurt before, and if you don't see any changes, it's fine.

Because I will keep doing my best, for myself. Even if there are setbacks, there are challenges, I am facing it on my own.

Lastly, thank you to Yoonziee, the one I adore and love the most. For being patient, for being such a wonderful person to push me further and remind me, who I am. I love you hun, my no.1 fav big man <3

Thank you to Galaxy, Berns, Rxphantom, Makoto, Cat, Shoej, Deru, Shino, Dymax, Zeth and Michi for being such wonderful friends. Besties I couldn't stop annoying because yall are just wonderful to me. I wouldn't make this far without you guys too.

My talented moots Yuki, Yohmi, Bunnylulu, Kaihyel, Zell, Jway, and so much more of yall keep up the good work, I just have been at my rough patch and was finished some major internal issues, so after the KL trip in Dec I will be okay and cant wait to work with yall in ease !!

To all my oshis, I love you guys and thank you for molding me as a content creator and pushing me to do more content as well as be more confident!

Thank you to Dakkiriku, Jeyraident, Yeonnimaru, Ryokosanura, my Kitty Shizu (Shizukunyah), Yuzu, Meron, rosuna, Miruuxd, LycorisaVT (graduated) for being around and having such wonderful energy whenever you guys are streaming and in what you guys do.
