

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs)

2. Is Potion Owl an EHR? No, Potion Owl is not an EHR platform. We state this in our whitepaper on page 3 under section 1.2. Rather EHR is a part of our ecosystem and is utilized by healthcare providers.
3. What will PTN tokens be used for? PTN tokens will be used throughout the ecosystem to power smart contracts with incentivization built in. Additionally, a holder of 50,000 PTNs will have the opportunity to operate a med rep account which provides incentivization in the form of passive earnings through transaction fees (10-25%) - see here for more details.

7. Why would hospitals that have invested millions of US$ in EHR discard of their systems to implement blockchain? Following on from question 3. An EHR platform is doctor facing and implemented in hospitals that can afford to do so. Personally, we think this is one of major reasons for the slow adoption of an healthcare platform with huge popularity globally. We are aiming to fill that space. Potion Owl will be for healthcare providers who operate private practices, health clinics, medical centres, labs, pharmacies etc. North America and Europe are just a fraction of the globe. The Caribbean, Central America and South America along with majority of the world do not have the luxury to spend millions of dollars on medical systems per location not to mention the laws are significantly more relaxed or non-existent. Potion Owl will be implemented by taking the path of least resistance in order to gain critical mass quickly. Question 4 is a sequel to this answer.

8. Why the Caribbean as a starting point? It's an untapped market and approximately 30 million tourists travel here each year; which is higher than the global average (26+ million by cruise ships) to explore the countries and mingle with the 42 million plus natives. Healthcare Services are isolated between developed and developing countries and we want to bridge this gap. For eg: If a visitor became ill in Jamaica they should have the ability to visit a doctor there and should symptoms persist, they should be able to relay that information with another doctor in another country. By connecting all islands we are providing tourists with ease of access, medical attention and reassurance that they'll be covered by their insurance policy holders should the need arise. The Caribbean is the first stop over a 6 month period with Central and South America dates to be announced after the token sale.
