ACTIVITIES

Warm-up:

Good afternoon! Glad to see you.

Today we are going to have a round-up lesson on the topic “Nature’s Fury”.

Have you ever felt any natural disaster? If yes, share your experience please.

As for me I’d like you to ask me question about my personal experience.

Possible questions:

What kind of disaster was it?

When did it happen?

Was it intense?

What were you doing at the moment it hit?

Did you realize what was happening?

What did you feel at that moment?

Were you alone at home?

What floor is your flat on?

Were you frightened?

Stage 1 (Revision of the vocabulary)

Now let’s review the vocabulary related to the topic.

Listen to the key words and say what kind of disaster it is.

1. violent winds, storms (hurricanes, tornadoes, typhoons)
2. the earth moves, trembles, shakes (earthquakes)
3. hot liquid rock and gases pour from a mountain (volcanoes)
4. too much rain (floods)
5. no rain (drought)
6. no food (famine)
7. mass of snow, earth and ice descending swiftly from mountain. (avalanche)

Name words for people involved in natural disaster.

1. dead and injured people ----- casualties

Electricity is cut off.

Buildings are collapsed.

Roads are ruined.

Car accidents take place.

What happens to people and animals?

People get hurt, some die, some are injured, left homeless, drown, animals are killed and frightened.

Stage II Homework (check-up)

Let's check up our homework. Your task was to surf the Web for stories about recent natural disasters around the world and report about them.

(The children share their information from research.)

Great! Your reports were very informative and professional.

Stage III Grammar practice

1. Work with the pictures.

Look at these two pictures. One shows Mrs Pyle's house before it was hit by a hurricane. The other shows the house after the hurricane. Write about what happened. Use the underlined verbs in the passive voice and the past tense.
