For Mature Adults Who Want to Live Abroad Intentionally — Without Guesswork, Grift, or Going It Alone

Exhausted from trying to figure out international retirement on your own?
You're not alone and you're definitely not crazy for wanting something more than shuffleboard and HOA fees.

You've spent a lifetime being responsible.

Now it's time to be strategic.

→ Your golden years could be spent by a beachside, without all of the chaos the West brings...

On THIS Side of the Internet...

Where Patience Meets Preparation

You're 50+. Maybe widowed, divorced, or simply tired of being the only one in your family thinking long-term.

You want more than pretty views.

You want peace of mind.

But most “move abroad” content is made for 30-year-olds with backpacks and no assets.

Or it's clickbait from people who've been abroad for 5 months and still don't know how taxes work (whoops!)

That's not us.

We're Harold and Tiffany, married expats raising five children abroad since 2020.

We've lived across multiple African nations and advised over 274 families and retirees on smart relocation.

We help people like you avoid regret, ruin — or returning to the West because they didn't plan properly.

Let's Talk About the Stats

- 73% of Americans age 50–65 say they want to retire abroad, but less than 12% do — often due to lack of reliable guidance.
- Healthcare abroad can cost 70% less than in the U.S., yet many retirees overspend because they choose the wrong destination.
- Visa denials, asset freezes, and international scams are at an all-time high for Americans trying to move post-2020.

What You Risk By Going It Alone

Let's be honest — it's not just about “moving.”
This is your legacy move.

Without our help, you risk:

- Choosing the wrong country with unstable laws for retirees (we preference your safety and ability to stay long-term over cultural adventure)

- Getting locked out of your U.S. pension, Social Security, or banking
- Falling victim to immigration scams or overpriced “relocation experts” and “lawyers” (one client said he paid $10,500 for a travel coach – eek)
- Buying property illegally and losing your retirement savings
- Facing isolation or regret because you didn’t build a plan for community and support
