

Organisations to donate to (or volunteer for!) in the wake of the U.S. election

Please feel free to comment to add organizations! Organizations that do national work are listed by category, followed by local organizations, which are listed by location. Feel free to add a category or location if one is missing. This is a living document and an incomplete list!

National Suicide Prevention Lifeline: 800-273-8255

Crisis text line TEXT "GO" TO 741741

Trans Lifeline: (877) 565-8860

 One idea to consider: Large, national non-profits like the ACLU, Sierra Club, Planned Parenthood, Emily's List, etc have access to lots of donations because of their high media profile, and often have one or several (or several dozen) dedicated fundraising staff. Smaller, local organizations - especially those working at the intersections (focusing not just on gender but also race, class, sexual orientation, etc, for example) - don't often get their chance in the spotlight. Your donation here will go a long way towards orgs that are more directly connected to communities most impacted by the hateful rhetoric and actions being taken in the wake of this election. And as a bonus, you get to support people of color-led, women-led, LGBTQIA-led, undocumented immigrant-led, Indigenous-led organizations, building power for those most impacted in an even more intentional way. Thanks!*
