- NJCL
 - Get people to sign up, deadlines for registration are lenient
 - Deadline for submitting arts is July 5, but you have to get an id first which will take some time
- Pre-convention meetup
 - Technically could be in person
 - Goal is to get at least a partial in person with a concurrent zoom link for people that can't come - Mr. Nifong supports
 - Hand out pins?
 - Try to record roll call or spirit chants
- National Classics Week Prizes
 - Need feedback from Mr. Nifong to buy them
 - Have everything set up and then send Mr. Nifong the shopping cart so he can actually buy them
- Redbubble
 - Redbubble is already set up, but nothing has been bought yet. New merchandise will be stocked soon though.
 - Could we offer a discount to those who register for NJCL? Or a free pin/pen - if it is possible then it is a good idea
 - If we can't do that, we can maybe give a $10 discount from next ILJCL registration
- Discussion about Latin Teachers and Principals leaving
- Try to get people to show up for conventions but acknowledge that the virtual environment makes things more flexible (and cheaper)

- Recap
 - Promote NJCL - easier and cheaper - there is time to register but those who want to register for contests should do so soon
 - Find a date to see when people might want to meet and where we could do that
 - Mr Nifong suggests sometime later this month
- Group NJCL service activity
 - Greater Chicago Food Depository
 - Mr Nifong supports
- Mr Nifong will be at fellowship for Nationals - we must make a time, probably at the end of the day
