

EarthGov Doc - Interrogations

The only purpose of this doc is to execute enhanced interrogations. The Overseer, Lead Interrogator and the suspect will have a chance to discuss over the night what the suspect knows and depending on that the EarthGov personnel will decide what will happen with the suspect.

Key things to remember: The Overseer can influence the interrogation at any point, but he's not in charge of handling the suspect. Depending on who's been investigating, the Overseer will receive a budget he can distribute to players. The budget formula is: $4000 + D * 1000 + B$ (D - number of days passed, B - 10k bonus for O'Bannon survivors or Shard holder).

Lead Interrogator however, will have to decide by the end of interrogation what will happen with the suspect: Either set free, killed, or captured in the cryogenic box (only two are available and once someone is put in there, he/she can't be put out again).

Since the suspect and Overseer are known, it is only a question for Lead Interrogator if he wants to reveal himself.

You can only discuss regarding the investigation. Please don't use this doc for other purpose.

EarthGov, don't forget to send me a PM after you're done.

Good luck.

Night 1

Overseer can't be interrogated. Document locked.

Night 2

The suspect has escaped. Document locked.

Night 3

Suspect: Dr. Terrence Kyne, USG Ishimura Crew Survivor.

Alias: Generalcamo

Interrogation complete

Information is classified.

Night 4

Suspect: Marine, USM Abraxis Earth Defence Force
Alias: M1Garand8

Interrogation complete

Information is classified.

Night 5

Name: Isabel Cho

Occupation: USG O'Bannon Crew Survivor (Chief Medical Officer)

Alias: Category 5 Hurricane

Interrogation complete

Information is classified.

Night 6

Name: Nikolas Kuttner

Occupation: USG O'Bannon Crew Survivor (Security Officer)

Alias: Chaos_Knight

Proceed with the interrogation.

You can now introduce yourself to the team and then pick your text color you would like to use in this document (default color is mine). Only you three and I have access to this document. PLEASE DO NOT GIVE AWAY THE LINK. Also please don't remove anything from this document, unless it's your own comments you have just made. Such action will break the game and I would be forced to do modkills. The doc will be closed once next day starts.

Good luck.

Ok, Chaos aka Kuttner is here.

I am honestly surprised, it is the first time when I am not the one to begin the interrogation.

Hello suspect, I am the Overseer. Let us proceed.

I believe you're familiar with the current state of things. Us, the proper EarthGov team (Dark Blue, LI and myself) are on a mission to obtain either the shard, or to secure one of the people who came in direct contact with it. There is however another EarthGov team on this ship (ie, the Teal marine team), whose objective is not to secure, but to locate you survivors, be it dead, or alive. But that is not everything - they also have to make sure that the place is safe for them - notice them. This is crucial for this investigation, as your only chance to survive is to cooperate with us.

First things first - tell us all about your role, this is the abilities you possess, day and night actions, the victory conditions. Etc.

Well, I can work as a classic bodyguard at night meaning person I protect is safe and I have 50% chance to either kill the attacker or die myself.

For day I am armed with upgraded plasma saw 90% vs necromorphs and 55% vs humans, also I have medkit available. 2 in fact.

That's about it regarding abilities. As for agenda - my core mission is to survive for 7 days until docking the station. Nothing else.

If you are interested in anything else, just ask. I don't mind cooperation at all, since marines indeed proved to be aggressively hostile.

All about the shard. How did you come into contact with it, what were your instructions in regards to it.

I don't think I can lie here, so I will put it straight - I was the first to come into contact with it as I was its initial holder. However my only instruction was to pass it to somebody else which I tried to do on night1, failed and retried on night2 where I succeeded at leaving the shard at iLTS's quarters.

Do you think the thief may have belonged to the marines? I am more and more convinced that it has been triattack who stole the shard, considering his lack of participation since very early in the game.

Frankly I don't even think he's marine. Look, I posted a list of "marines" earlier in the thread. 2 are confirmed, 1 is obviously Colonel and 1 (Nodlied) seems to be not affected by anything. So we have mysterious triattack who does nothing at all.

Sorry for not making myself clear enough - that is what I meant. I don't actually believe triattack is aligned with any of the known factions.

I think so too. He's also present online pretty often but he doesn't post. Just like I acted on Day2 when my posting gimmick became just too obvious to hide - post less and hide.

That would make complete sense. However, this is not the real reason for this meeting - we already know pretty much everything that has to be said in the matter of the shard. Category 5 told us a lot - the interrogation ended up being a 2,5 hours long discussion for good a4 pages :p

Heh I see. I also has some info that you want to freeze me up in cryo chamber. Em, whatever. So what do you want to know?

Since the topic of the shard has already been covered, and you know what is going to happen to you (unless LI isn't what he pretends to be and turns out to be a douche), what about you tell me your point of view on the current situation? I'm especially interested in broadening my view point on the marines.

I can't tell much about them other than the fact they seem to care less about methods of action (as in shooting people when suspicious). They also don't seem to know each other and their numbers aren't really known to me. I don't think there is more than 5 of them though, including colonel.

There is one thing which concerns me however. The necromorphs. If they aren't created by anyone, it means tomorrow we can get up to 3 things running around at once just like everyone came back to life in previous DS game. And if someone creates him, I don't even know how can that be.

Last game, however, there was me to create the necromorphs. There has also been another necromorph who could create even more slashers. All were player controlled. I don't believe the necros are made by themselves.

I just can't think of person responsible. I mean "role". I searched through wiki and found no candidates who could fulfill that.

Nolan Stross.

Kam couldn't do that as IIRC Cata returned as a necro on Day4, right? And on Night3 Kam handed the Node to Cat5 so he used his night action already and couldn't infect the corpse unless (which is highly unlikely) he can perform 2 night actions.

Your reasoning makes sense, but there is one thing you overlooked - we know when Catalyst attacked, NOT when he returned to life. He didn't necessarily take actions on the day he was created. Besides, in DS Aftermath, it is revealed that it was Stross who, by experimenting on the marker, released/created the necros on the board of the ship. Perhaps it could have happened spontaneously once he received the shard? He knew that iLTS was the one to receive it, so he could have as well stolen it. Makes sense to me.

It does makes sense regarding Kam's actions as he "forgot" to pass the node on Night2. However there is a problem with timing in Catalyst's case. Look, he was Killed on Night2 and after Night3 he was already necro. Kam could never know that iLTS is going to kill Catalyst.

Bye bye daddy. But we will soon see each other! Always and Together.

Vivian, I already told you, you are not real! (Sorry, that's my hallucination talking - my dead daughter also known as Vivian). She haunted my doc too. Quite a spammy ghost.

I know, i watched aftermath :p

So I guess we'll have to cope with her too.
We can't, leave me alone D:

We can always kill you. Then you'll be together.

Thanks, but I'd like to stay alive. It's so nice to live and all. Also she's not real, it's the shard talking. Also Vert, don't delete her lines. Overseer can see them anyway.

You sure?

But people who read this topic later don't :D

Well at least it will be complete.

Alright. So, do you mind being locked into a cryochamber? :<

Em, why can't you just let me go? D:
I mean I have some weapons for the case of outbreak, some useful abilities and such.
Not to mention you won't get anything from me. If you watched the movie, you know that I will just break free, kill some people and space myself.

We don't have any other leads. Besides, I'm untouchable, so I don't care. If you kill marines by spacing yourself, then go ahead. I'm cool with that. Not to mention that they will probably kill you anyway if we don't lock you.

I know you need leads, yet I don't think you will get much from me. As I said, that will give you nothing. And I don't think my own "outbreak" happened on the ship.

We had a backup plan, you see. It was called kamuixmod. But he died tonight*, before any actions could have been taken. I wanted to claim my protection over him, but it happened while i was asleep. Now we have nothing left, beside you.

So, as I see, you either need a marker shard or me. And what if I know who has the shard? At least I am rather sure of that.

I am not. I am also afraid the marines will go ramboing around and kill everyone they can kill, considering they already met their primary objective (locating all 4 of you.)

Hint: iLTS is now hybernating to turn into Isaac. Guess what he needed for that?

Isaac Clarke is with the marines. I don't want him to turn into a human.

Let's put it this way. The first guy who said he needs shard was Camo. Camo also started doing strange things on Day5 with all this "Olivia" stuff. Obviously it was he who stole the shard on Night2. He also did his best to prevent iLTS from getting to him via sedative. But iLTS woke up and on the next night Camo died AND iLTS started his changing process.

I do realise that iLTS may be in possession of the shard, yes. However, you should take into consideration that half of the people left in the game are marines. We can't outvote them, especially after I openly claimed hostility against them.

In fact they don't know if iLTS lied or not of being a marine-aligned. In fact even we don't know that.

Garrus seems to believe him. And he's the most informed amongst all of them.

Garrus, hm, he's the Colonel, yet I wouldn't call him the most informed. Or at least I'd say he's not informed enough. I think we can investigate iLTS on Day7. And you can go and freeze him.

We have 2 chambers, for 2 suspects. Yet still, I'm not all that sure. You're an armed person who can gun some people down no problem. You're also the second survivor investigated, which means I will receive 30.000* credits tonight. This is enough to get all modules and suit upgrades for a single person. I could arm you beyond imagination. And i would certainly do that if not the risk involved in marines taking the game.

If you want to give me some cash (if!), give Cat5 10k for armor suit. I can take one more hit, but he can't as he was previously attacked by Cata.

Don't forget I am also a person who decided to cooperate with you and help you with your goals. If investigation won't go, I will just attack iLTS in the day's very end before anyone else can do anything. If I will get the shard, you will get it as I have no need for the damn thing anyway. It was only giving me headache for day1 and day2. =

Camo also claimed to be eager to cooperate. We see how that ended.

I am Kuttner, I have no interest in the shard. You may use your fancy lie detector from the vid and you will get 99.9% truth.

I guess i should watch the vid then. (lol)

Fuck my spelling. Jeez.

Okay. Dammit. We don't know anyone's identity, except you guys. There is no one to donate my money to. And considering one person can only shoot once a day, we really need a second gunslinger.

(Em, no really are there any rules or lie detectors? Cuz I don't know D:)
I didn't lie, yet I wonder. I am Nolan Stross mk2! I have 3 heads! My saw is made of pure star energy. Ok, I see, I guess I can lie too. Yet I have no point in doing so.

The Lie detector states 0.000000000001% Truth.

You can lie as you please. I can't do shit about it, unless verti steps in :D

Hey last statement was truth. Regarding having no point in lying now. Let's say if I was caught no point in hiding small details. This won't change picture.
I know you don't want to take any risk regarding your objectives, yet you can get the whole shard thing instead of insane hallucinating guy whose whole usefulness for science is "he touched it and went insane!". Well you kinda already know this. Also hi Mr.LI.

So, LI, are you ready to uncover your identity? We're all friends here.

Okay. You obviously realise that the best option would be having BOTH you and the shard, right :<

Sure I do. Yet I don't think that Cat5 alone can make it. Without me Cat5 would be the only target for marines to shoot at. And target who won't last long so I don't think he'll be able to do what you need. If you are so eager for my shard experience - it comes in just 1 word - insanity. "I see dead people!" to be correct.

Hmm, you reminded me. Do you know any good psychological films? Thrillers, dramas, etc. I ran out of titles to watch.

Meh can't help you here, I don't remember seeing anything good on local TV and that's the only source of random movies I can run into to check em out later if interested.

I'm going to see Underworld (3) tomorrow.

Oh I was reading the thread. Btw I am the LI.

Hi.

Rawr. I want to lock him in the box, but I also want him to run into marines with guns blazing and kill the shit out of them.

Just give all your cash to me and I'll do it haha. I don't want to risk losing tbh.

Can you actually buy stuff? D: I feel so useless right now rofl. I don't have any actions available at all.

LI fighting marines. Now that's something to see. Out of seriousness, do you think you can fight them off having no weapons and armor available currently? I have upgraded saw and could only use armor suit for 10k, Cat5 has rifle and could use the suit for 10k also, but what do you have?

I can give him 30k. That's enough for suit lvl 1, contact beam and a power node. Just see Garrus melt there.

Why Garrus? I thought you needed the shard as in iLTS.

Shit, forgot about him. I just want Garrus dead, for the sake of old arguments :<

If he doesn't die, we'll inspect him tomorrow and I'll kill him :P

You forget one important thing, this is, there are more marines than us, which means we'll get outvoted. I don't think any marine will like to investigate Garrus.

Em, not to interrupt you guys, but why Garrus? Did you have plans regarding him before or something? He doesn't look like he has the shard or any valuable info.

What about, he wants to fucking kill us? Is that enough of a reason?

Wait what. Kill you? But why? I can see why he wants me dead, but you? Aren't you kinda his employer?

I don't know. All I know is that my 'immortality' ends after day 7. Then, everything may happen. I don't know about the LI, but i suspect he's not protected at all.

LI is aboard the ship, so yeah he can be attacked.

So, LI, what do we do? Lock Chaos in? He'll still win the game, for he stays alive :< And ye, I can donate shit to you and get you to kill iLTS. Although i suspect he may have armour level 2. I really need to donate those 10k to Cat 5 for armour. Do you have anything so far, LI?

Em, keep in the mind that I offered my help for free. As Overseer said, I could care less and agree to be frozen as I just need to survive. But I decided to kinda help you guys to find the damn shard.

I'll lock him. Also I don't have any weapons or armor or money atm.

Yes, but I need to lock you or the marker to win.

Chaos, does Cat5 need ammo?

He has it I think. Or wait. Let me recheck things.

So, LI, ready to reveal yourself? Can't donate to you unless I know who you are :D

Oh so you haven't figured it out yet? I thought I kind of gave it away last night :P

metalmouth - im with you?

Call me dumb, but I do not know. Don't want to take chances.

Probably he has 1 more shot, but he wasn't sure. Neither I am. So he has ammo VVV

He tried to use 2 more shots last day, but he couldn't as he already had a day action. They didn't count.

Also for some reason Vert hinted that tomorrow a lot might happen. And kam was shouting something about marker rebuilding itself. Just saying.

This simply means there are even more reasons to lock you up asap.

This won't help. If my assumptions are correct, you guys may end up with no shard, no me, nothing but necromorph infested Abraxis. 3 dead bodies lie in the morgue. I have a feeling that tomorrow these bodies will see a new light. And guess who has the best anti-necromorph weapon and is willing to cooperate? :P

It is LI and his brand new contact beam!

Nope, I beat him by 5% hit chance :P

Damn, you noticed that :p

I can see pretty clearly what attack is used against whom. Also funny how iLTS's slash had 60% chance to hit human and 80% chance to kill other necromorph (Cata).

Remember that in games, every human is Isaac Clarke, who can take on an army of zombies with his bare fists.

Yeah. Even those who couldn't do anything in original game. Like can you imagine Kyne assaulting a necromorph and winning?

With a god damn plasma saw, why not?

With sedative needle like he did this game.

He managed to hit him in a weak spot somewhere on his torso. For massive damage.

I know what happened in game, but can you see that happening in movie/actual DS game?

In actual DS game, you could survive like 9000 slasher slashes before you died.

Yeah. Or lurker's needles or even brute's attack. Not gonna happen here though. LI, identify yourself already :P

This is Tzar.

That's what I thought all game long. Nice you were finally prepared to confirm it.

Hi. Well Cat5 was correct it seems. Also regarding these marine accusations - he just wants them to shoot each other tomorrow. You know both he and me didn't know if I will return from this interrogation so he prepared a backup plan to survive.

I figured :D This is why I'm not taking any part in that discussion.

Ok.

Aight tzar. You seem awfully quiet as of late. Basically, it is me doing all the investigations because you never bother to talk >:(

You always get here before I do and you ask all the questions already :P

I still can't forgive you your victory in the first Vertigo game. So lame.

Haha but we were on the same side though! I think.

Yes But I Died In The End Anyways, I Think. I Got Poisoned With Tea, I Think.

Damn Cat5 is overdoing his job.

He's good. I kind of suspected something was up when he painted the LI in a negative light in order to get people to kill Retal, but he didn't shoot me himself afterwards.

We (O'Bannon crew) in fact decided to help you after Cat5 returned from investigation. He also said something about "LI telling us to kill all unknown people but Retal and Tzar". And since that sounded fishy, he instead decided that we'd better take care of Retal who also looked like bloodlusty guy.

Retal looked bloodlusty cause I gave him around 20k total.

Wait a sec. 20k?

Let me recheck something. Ok he had upgraded pulse rifle, a medkit, 250 credits and 3 power nodes. I just can't put it all in 22k.

I know i gave him the full deal of money twice, and then 2000 once more as he asked for it.

Marines may be able to construct their own power nodes, as they can with med kits.

Maybe. Yet we only had Kam to hand em out every night. Strange. Btw maybe M1 said something about them? You asked him about his abilities, right? So did he say anything about making nodes at night?

Regular marine. Objective to survive and locate the survivors, dead or alive. I also believe he mentioned something about protecting his mates. Same as Garrus.

This "ensure crew safety" bothers me greatly.

It does bother me, too. Frankly, I never thought about this until Category mentioned the fake objectives. Shame on me for not thinking of the game in this manner, given I have some experience with all the craziness Veritgo makes us endure.

And we (O'Bannon) were the fake mafia all along. Also fun fact: we actually thought about sending you the shard on Night2.

I guess it's fine to say this now, it would of never reach him since he's not on board. You would have to pass it to LI or to someone else who would pass it to him on N7-D8.

Em, right, good point.

Oh god. It would have been hilarious if Camo tried to donate me the shard, but couldn't. And then it got stolen.

You have interrogated camo. So you should know what were his plans with it. :p

Donate it to iLTS iirc. Although his action available was to get rid of it. But then he changed his mind and decided not to donate it to iLTS. He was more confused than anyone else in the game, it seemed.

Yeah and I would have reached insanity level 3. D:
So he HAD the shard?

No, at least not when we investigated him. All he said was that he had an action available to throw the shard out of the ship, into space, in case he got it.

Anyway, LI has made the decision. So I'm going to sleep, and you two can go too if you are done. GN.

Damn this complicates things. Maybe you are right and Garrus may have the thing in the end.

Made decision? Uh oh I don't like where this is going. For all I care, I will be safe :D
And LI wouldn't.

Garrus doesn't have it. I'm playing Cat5's game.

Em, ok. So any other candidates floating around? Like maybe tri? Or should we go with iLTS?

iLTS is probably the best target.

I think so too. Well I guess it won't be me who'd need to risk his life fighting marine squad. heheh.

Yeah, I guess. LI is a vicious bastard, isn't he. Lol.

Oh well, I will donate Cat5 money for armour. In case he'd like to know. You can tell him while you still can :D

I think he'll get shot though. And without me returning Cat5 wouldn't know that Tzar is LI I think. Our doc is locked for the night we aren't supposed to talk there. Since investigation.

Aww. :(

Oh well! You're safe with us, at least :D

Hey among 3 of us (you, me, LI) I risk the less right now.

Damn. your interrogation took nearly as long as Cat5's, except that his was way more on topic, and way less on speculations about random stuff :p

Yeah. It took a damn while. Still I would really like if Tzar didn't freeze me. I want to fight :D

I would really like if i lived past day 2, for once. Unfortunately, it isn't my call.
Out of all mafia games I played, I scored 4 deaths on day/night 1, and 2 more on day/night 2. I also died once on day 3.

Ow, talk about bad luck during the "joke" phase. Well look on the bright side - em... ok, there is no bright side. I also remember that CYOR game where you were Jesus himself. That didn't go well.

I was lynched twice, died due to trying to convert a mafia member once, and got mafia killed once too.

Funny how I was never lynched. Once I was daykilled by Cat5 and once nightkilled by iLTS oh and once I was cyborg'ed in that crazy iLTS's game. Well I also won just once though :))

I died there, didn't I.
I won... I think once. In a game where i was totally afk due to being abroad for a week or two. Apparently not talking at all is the only way for me to stay alive.

Well it was the game which I won too. First iLTS's game.

People can't handle my astonishing charm and my outstanding intellect, hence those filled with vicious rage kills at the beginning of the game. I swear.

I just think people started to consider it a tradition =

Not my fault that Catalyst is a fag.

You probably know what bad thoughts do I currently have about Cata, right? He fucking spoiled us all in this game. If it wasn't for his post we wouldn't be talking here right now.

What did he say? I wasn't paying much attention to this game till day 4.

As a necromorph he posted our 3 avatars, O'Bannon pic and scumpond.jpg.

Hurr. there should be an anti-catalyst rule, lol.

I think so. Well now I know whom to push lynch on in the next classic mafia game :D

But I do that all the time. All that does is Cata turns around and says 'hurr, lets just lynch voe instead'. You know how it ends.

Now I will vote for Cata too. Just for revenge :P

lol.

Aight, we shall see how the game evolves tomorrow. I'm really anxious to see.

Me too.

PS: Also, Tzar, if you will be reading this and previously you decided to freeze me, you better change your mind. :P

I shouldn't have drank so much coffee. It's 2am and I'm not sleepy at all. Hurr.

It's 5:40am for me. And I should be in bed like 2 hours ago at least. Still I am not sleepy without any coffee. Weird.

Then you should do something productive. Like, for example, nothing.

Ancient Greeks did nothing all day, and that way they got so many magnificent ideas, in particular those to do with science. By not doing anything. I practice such art a lot. All the time, to be precise.

Hm, I will try it once. For now I will go force myself to sleep. Good night!

Good night!

To: LI

Gave you 20.000. Remaining 10.000 went to Cat5. Contact Beam and a node should do.

Acknowledged.

btw I'm not going to let you go, CK. If I need a meatshield, Cat5 is standing right there :D

Since I can still chat here, Cat5 is a bad meatshield. He was shot once already and won't be able to take another hit without dying. I can take 2 :P

(Not to mention that as I already hinted, I may break free at some moment and make shit look ugly for you.)

Not to mention, that 3 men squad (with 3 weapons btw + medkits on the ready - I have 2) is always better than 2 men one with the only medic being at his very edge of survival with probably no medkits available anyway as he used his only one to save Kam. Still if you want to go and die, why not. I offered my mercenary service in exchange for freedom, you declined and decided to go fight on your own. Good luck with that. I wonder if you and Overseer would die, will I be set free? Could be cool. So what would your last words be, Mr.LI? Get an armed friend to risk his life for ya or be put under direct threat? It's up to you.

Just lock him up and it's K.

Hi Voe. Well without me I am sure you can say bye-bye to your precious shard. LI and no medkits medic vs 5 marines + ILTS. Heh I would love to see that fight.

I'll be cheering for LI.

I'd lol if LI would die on Day7 and marines will get mad and shoot you on Day8.

Unless we win the game by morning :<

Well they can still vote-hammer spacing you after LI would die to rifle spam and flip... LI. Like it or not, but besides half-dead Cat5 and LI whose death would give marines a good reason to space YOU, you have nothing. Nothing but me. Sucks isn't it? While even if I will die, nobody will get a reason to attack you or LI.

Now add that without me, Cat5 would never know what to do as he wouldn't be aware of your plans.

Oh I have a trick up my sleeve still. :)

I guess it's called last-hour in the day shooting? Well as it was proved by Vert, having one action in progress doesn't stop others from happening. So it would end up in:

Tzar: ##shoot iLTS (for example)

Garrus: ##shoot Tzar

<insert 2-4 more ##shoot Tzar here>

And Cat5 wouldn't know for sure you are LI + he has no medkits to save anyone anyway.

I know what I am doing :P

Yeah like in first DS game. I remember that. It was totally cool action which gave me shiny rifle of yours :P

Haha.

My sarcasm meter is tickling. So you actually decided to freeze me (-1 allie) which would left Cat5 unaware of your plans (-1 more allie) and try to do something alone against an armed mob.

The mob is on my side, though. I have no other evidence other than you and Cat5's insistence that they will turn against me.

Just try getting the shard by harming anyone. And you will see how "friendly" that mob is for you who kept mysteriously quiet for the big part of the game.

I will take that risk.

While you can make me take that risk. As I said earlier I have no need for shard, so passing it to anyone is no problem for me. Not to mention that having me to try and shoot shard owner kinda increases success chances since no weapon in this game is 100% killer.

I only need Nodlied/metalmouth/triattack dead. I think I can manipulate the marines to kill them.

Besides, once I freeze you I have no use for the shard anyway.

Even if the marines want to kill me, leaving you alive won't help me. Like you said they could all ##shoot Tzar and I will probably die. I have no guarantee they will shoot you first.

Actually if they WERE going to shoot you first, that would be proof enough that they are on my side. So leaving you alive means that I probably won't need your assistance anyway.

That's the catch, I will attack shard owner, not you. If I will succeed I will get the thing and then watch for who will get it after (if) I die to return fire. If I survive, shard is yours. And I don't think Overseer will be happy with just a prisoner without that precious artifact. I am pretty sure he won't in fact.

In order to achieve my mission objective, I need to secure AT LEAST one of the following - a living body that was in contact with the shard, or the shard itself.

TA DUM TSS

Well, that's up to you. Still I am pretty sure that these winning conditions aren't the best. Not only that, why don't you investigate and freeze iLTS? It's obvious he was in the contact with the shard. Hell he was with the contact of Marker itself.

I wanted to do it on Day 2, but specifically asked vertigo about that before hand. He said there is no proof that he was in contact with the shard.

Because he wasn't until recently. He needed the shard to transmutate into human. And guess what's happening right now?

I have no specific proof the shard caused it. It doesn't matter anyway. I can kill iLTS tomorrow if I need to. If he's not a necromorphs he isn't a threat anyway right?

Who knows, who knows. His agenda is something I can't think of right away and it's actually obvious he has the thing. On Day2 he asked for shard and sort of DNA thing. And now he says that he's mutating back. What a nice coincidence we have here.

If he's not a threat, then I don't need him dead because I don't need the shard.

Don't you, eh? I think you are either trying to fool me to GTFO or something else. It would just so easy to find a person who was in direct contact with the shard as the gimmicks he gets are beyond being obvious. And you just need to find 1 such guy and push an investigation on him? I think I remember Voe saying "It doesn't work this way"

It took us 6 days to get an investigation on you. It wasn't that easy.

Or maybe you just didn't try? Voe left me alone just too easily after I admitted having the contact with the shard. And nobody else (even you, LI) didn't bother with trying to escalate that part and push an investigation. It's clear that your goal is something more than just finding a guy who happened to get the thing on his hands for some time.

We were not the ones who called the investigations. We investigated people who got most votes on them, so it isn't just our opinion that affected the outcomes.

Thanks, cap. But you just ##unvote as soon as I responded.

Also, i had an ambition of securing the marker itself. On the way, however, we did manage to obtain info on people who may have had the shard. Because out of those people you're the last one standing, you were our call for investigation.

Ambition? In mafia game? Now adding the fact you seem to speak like you need nothing but 1 person to win, I hardly believe it's actually so.

Fortunately for you and for us, you're not the one who is to believe or agree with anything. It is us who interrogate you, not you who interrogates us.

Yet I am kinda trying to understand if you have any bigger agenda and in that case I can help you with that. And I see you have it.

We don't need your help. You being so eager makes me suspicious that you're the one with a hidden agenda.

I just don't want to end up self-spaced, tnx. That's my agenda.

You said you'll win even if I put you in the freezer. I will bbl.

My objective is to survive, you are correct. However I was hinted by Vert that due to my insanity I can't actually be captured, instead I will suicide. And that Vivian ghost is only proving the point. And if I will suicide, I will fail my objective (obviously). You won't get me either tbh.

Worth giving a try, imho.

Same as for believing me and catching iLTS who clearly won't escape.

After telling his story, the interrogator was very pleased that they had someone who had actually made direct contact with the fragment. However, Kuttner broke free and killed the guards with an acquired pistol, following the hallucination of Vivian down the expansive hallways of the Abraxis.

Killing several marines and being mortally injured in the process, he begged Vivian to wait for him. He watched her floating outside the window of the ship and asking him to come out, since the bad men were coming to take him away from her. She said that if he came to her, they would be together always and forever. The marines ran at him, just barely getting to him before he opened the door of the airlock and launched everybody into space. As he floated, Vivian floated towards him. He hugged her, saying "Always and forever". His dead body floated away, smiling, as he was finally reconciled with his beloved daughter.

Ok that was a long quote from wiki, I know. Looks similar to our current situation, isn't it?

Hey if you break free please kill several marines :D

I think I will kill you then :P

Since in this outcome I would care less about results I think you are at the same risk as marines :P

I will make sure to lock you up extra tight then :)

Don't you think I wasn't tied up in the movie? :P Yet I broke free. So if you think that you got me, I got you just as well. This will cost me my life, but I am such a jerk, that it will also cost you yours especially since I know that LI = Tzar :P

Yes go ahead and try! Honestly if you want me to lose you'd go kill Cat5.

Cat5, you and me are in fact the only people who aren't marines and can do something. Still, what's the point of doing so, maybe I could listen to that. Or maybe I could just go with my suicide run on you.

I win if Voe wins and you can't take us both out.

So if you kill Cat5 it will decrease our chances of winning by alot. If you can escape.

I have 1 more night post left. I can spoil all your precious plans. I am sure marines would love to see how LI and Overseer played behind their backs to pursue their agenda :P

(I so love blackmailing people! :P)

Voe would be spaced for helping marine's enemies, you will be shot. And dead I would care less. We both don't want that to happen, right? Right. Well you will be dead before Voe still since my suicide. I have nothing to lose right about now.

They won't believe you because you are their enemy.

Oh and Voe sponsored Cat5 to the point he became terminator and asked him to kill Retal. Who was a marine. Tsk-tsk.

By day you will be dead, before you do anything. Clearly they can see who is telling the lies here.

I have 1 more night post. And I can use it. So I will die with a bang.

Yeah, go ahead and post whatever you want because it'll all be lies because you'll be dead.

Oh what's the point for deadman to lie? If I will be dead by the morning it will only confirm my words. If I will be frozen = I will be dead, it will confirm my words. As I said, I can help you free of charge, to get another sample of marker'ed person. And you won't get me alive anyway. Ok, Imma go put my thoughts together in a post.

"Voe will be spaced for helping marine's enemies" <- Clearly not because you'll be dead.

I can't space, it's people who will decide to do so. Be it with me or not. That's the point of the whole thing. I also know you will lie that you will let me go and instead freeze me. So I guess there is no point in this discussion anyway.

Indeed. Nothing you say will make me change my mind.

As you wish. Still it would be funny. I also wonder what Voe will say lol.

Hell it's gonna be one big fun tomorrow.
