

Senior Editor, TechCabal

Big Cabal Media (BCM) is dedicated to creating the next generation of media brands that engage digital African audiences both on the continent and globally. Through our brands—TechCabal, Zikoko, and Radar—we have established a reputation for delivering smart, sophisticated content in a relatable and accessible manner.

TechCabal is Africa's leading technology platform, and we are assembling an editorial team of decisive, informed, and opinionated writers, analysts, and editors passionate about the internet, innovation, startups, venture capital, and the business of technology in Africa.

We are seeking a brilliant Senior Editor to join our team. The ideal candidate will have a deep understanding of the issues and a passion for telling impactful stories about the business and influence of technology in Africa. They should possess a strong grasp of journalistic and media practices, ethical standards, and excellent people skills, embodying our core values of curiosity, imagination, and ambition.

The Senior Editor will report to the Managing Editor and Editor-in-Chief.

Compensation for this role is competitive with major editorial positions.

Responsibilities:

- Establishing and expanding new areas of coverage for the newsroom

- Editing stories for the website
- Providing story angles and assigning them to reporters.
- Conceiving story ideas and writing four articles per month
- Monitoring reporters' progress and managing newsroom timelines
- Developing and maintaining relationships with key decision-makers in Africa's technology and business ecosystem

You would be a great fit for this role if:

- You are passionate about the transformative impact of technology on life and business in Africa.
- You have recent or extensive experience in finance and business journalism. Experience with a personal blog will also be considered.
- You have a solid understanding of tech and/or business in West Africa.
- You are talented, self-motivated, and able to take initiative.
- You pursue stories with determination and consistently deliver high-quality work.
- You have strong analytical and communication skills.
- You have a good sense of humor.
- You are eager to learn and ambitious to achieve prestigious journalism awards.

Working at Big Cabal Media

You'll be joining a group of focused, hard-working, creative people who are passionate about doing work that's challenging and telling stories that matter.

We're a digital company that's currently working almost full-remote (there are occasional in-person strategy sessions and meet-ups, but we work well with colleagues who are not in Lagos). We use Slack, Google Docs, Notion and Airtable to keep on top of things.

We typically try to arrange work between 9am and 6pm WAT, but we don't have a stick up our butt about hours. We care about quality and results. Our people get things done fast and well, and we ask them to take care of themselves. Burnout isn't fun or useful.

While collaborative work will be the norm and is the requirement, people who want to work at BCM must also demonstrate initiative and the ability to work independently.

Applicants for this role may come from a range of backgrounds, including consulting, the business world, literary background and beyond. We're an equal opportunity employer.

If the above doesn't describe you perfectly, please get in touch anyway and tell us why you want to work with us.
