H2: Experience Forever Clear BBL & Forever Young BBL

BBL Photofacials are a popular, FDA-cleared treatment for healing, restoring, and rejuvenating the skin. Broadband Light (BBL) uses intense pulsed IPL therapy to treat various skin concerns, including acne, age spots, sunspots, rosacea, fine lines and wrinkles, uneven skin texture, and more. In addition, treatments are virtually painless and require no downtime making it a perfect way for anyone to improve their skin. Sometimes called a Photofacial, the FDA-cleared skin rejuvenation technology often treats the face, neck, hands, chest, and sometimes the legs.

H3 How the Forever Clear BBL Works

The BBL technology addresses imperfections on the surface skin, as well as deep-rooted pigmentation concerns. The Forever Clear BBL targets acne breakouts, rosacea, and skin redness. You experience minimal discomfort during your treatment as the provider gently glides the BBL HERO handpiece across the skin's surface.

Treatments typically involve a total of 3 passes over the treatment area:

1. The first pass uses blue light to eliminate acne-causing bacteria deep in the pores.
2. The second pass uses yellow light to reduce inflammation and redness for a healthier, more radiant complexion while preventing new breakouts.
3. The third pass of the BBL handpiece uses infrared light in rapid, gentle pulses to initiate the body's natural healing mechanisms. This helps reduce the appearance of acne scars and enhances the benefits of the first two passes.

For the duration of the Forever Clear BBL treatment, the sapphire at the end of the HERO applicator keeps the skin cool and comfortable. Afterward, most people continue to experience warmth in the skin for an additional 30 to 60 minutes. As always, individual experiences will vary.*

H3 Forever Clear BBL Treatment Applications

Acne: Clinical studies show that Photofacials combat active acne in two ways. First, the thermal energy from the BBL light constricts the blood supply of sebaceous glands, reducing the overproduction of sebum (the skin's oil that contributes to breakouts.) Secondly, light energy destroys acne-causing bacteria that build up on the skin throughout the day.

Rosacea: The thermal energy from the Photofacial improves splotchy skin tone and targets other vascular lesions like red spots, broken capillaries, facial veins, port wine stains, and more. Heating blood vessels below the skin's surface causes them to constrict. This action effectively shrinks small facial veins and reduces redness caused by vascular lesions or rosacea.

H3 Forever Clear Aftercare

There is no downtime following your Forever Clear BBL. However, because you experience 3 total passes with the BBL HERO applicator, you can expect minor redness and swelling for up to five days after your treatment. This is a natural skin response and should dissipate on its own. It is important that you protect your skin after treatments by wearing physical barriers like sunscreen or clothing. In addition, you should limit your skin's exposure to the sun afterward.

H3 How the Forever Young BBL Works

The Colorado Center for Aesthetics & Rejuvenation is proud to offer the Forever Young BBL now. This treatment uses innovative technology that delivers light therapy targeting the signs of aging and sun damage and effectively provides a more refreshed, rejuvenated, and youthful appearance.

Treatments typically involve a total of 4 passes over the treatment area:

1. The first pass treats the overall skin.
2. The second pass is a corrective-vascular pass for treating small visible vessels.
3. The third pass treats pigmented lesions and other skin issues.
4. The fourth pass uses SkinTyte, a deep bulk heating, to stimulate the tissue from within for tightening skin and improving rejuvenation results.

H3 Forever Young BBL Treatment Applications

Skin Rejuvenation: Light safely penetrates the skin and heats the upper layer of the dermis with thermal energy. This energy instantly revitalizes skin, helping it look more youthful and radiant. It also provides long-term rejuvenation by triggering the body's natural healing process, increasing collagen production. Increased collagen production restores skin, improves skin tone and texture, and reduces fine lines and wrinkles.

Repairs Skin Tone and Pigmentation Problems: Sun damage causes pigmentation lesions like sunspots (brown spots and age spots), freckles, and uneven skin tone. The spots are created by accumulations of melanin, the skin's pigment, to protect itself from the sun. The Forever Young BBL corrects sun damage by calibrating the wavelength to target the melanin below the skin. This thermal energy absorbs the melanin, causing it to break apart. The fragmented melanin is then gradually reabsorbed by the body. Melasma can also be improved using BBL.

In addition, the Forever Young BBL treatment can be used to reduce unwanted hair and control active acne.

H3 Forever Young Aftercare

After your Forever Young BBL Treatment, you can expect to experience a mild red or flushed appearance to the skin. This normally resolves itself within a few hours. For pigmented skin, the treatment will typically darken the area, then fade and flake over time, typically 1-2 weeks. Some patients report minimal discomfort with the procedure.

H2 BBL Photofacial FAQs

H3 How Much Do BBL Photofacials Cost in Westminster?

BBL Photofacial treatment costs in Westminster, CO, vary per person. Prices depend on your unique skin needs and concerns and the number of treatment areas. During your consultation with the skin experts of the COCAR, you can discuss the Forever Clear BBL and Forever Young BBL prices. Our experts will evaluate your skin, listen to your concerns, and develop a treatment using the correct affordable BBL device.

H3 How Long Do BBL Photofacial Results Last?

Many patients report seeing results after one treatment. However, most require 3 to 5 Photofacial treatments to enjoy the full benefits of BBL light therapy. Treatments are typically spaced one month apart to achieve the correct outcome. As with any medical procedure, results may vary. The exact number of treatments you need will depend on specific skin conditions.
