GRIMDARK WARN OK TY

A new type of magic was created upon the recreation of equestria known as Void Magic. Ponies do not have to be a unicorn to use it as it is not bound to their horn. Each pony has their own unique void magic. Ponies use this magic to fight off void creatures that slip into equestria. The strength of Void Magic is measured for each pony once they have enrolled in Central Defense Academy (CDA), this is required by everypony.

There is a ranking system that equestrian society abides by (F- to S+.) Rank X exists, however only one has been ranked as such, Opera herself. B ranks and higher are pretty rare. The void creatures severity follow this same rank system. Unfortunately the rank system has lead to discrimination based on rank. F ranks get the worst of it.

There are Four classifications of void magic, Offensive, Defensive, Support and Hybrid. Rankings cannot change, however, ponies can also obtain a Defender rank (1.00-10.00) once obtaining their license and improve the number as they get better with their magic.

Defender guilds have been formed over the years. guilds can be joined and formed at the guild house in canterlot

Rifts occasionally open that lead into the mirrored world which are taken care of by groups of defenders. The severity of these rifts ranged from 1.00-10.00

There are also gear smith ranks. One through five stars. Five star gear smiths are usually on their own. Usually nit part of any defender organization because of how elusive and hard to hire they are. The ones most commonly found working for guilds or the CDA are two-three stars

Celestia and Luna died during the Vampony war, which Decifer then took the throne, however this didn't matter much as Equestria has hundreds of royal families now

Locations

Dens bridge: It originally sank due to the great sinkhole incident (idk I don't have a name for it) and was rebuilt with four bridges leading to the town which is now in the air above the sinkhole (W.i.p)

Scraptown: A city made out of scrap with large walls surrounding it. It has a reputation for being very loud and crowded. The streets are filled to the brim with businesses and markets. Fang keeps the city under a curfew which is only lifted during the annual festival for the anniversary of Scryptown. It is very hard to get in and out if not accompanied by a highly regarded resident

Places in Scryptown:

Uptown: The most populated part of Scryptown. It is a safe place in comparison to Downtown

Downtown: Crime heavy part of Scryptown

City center: The heart of Scryptown, most marketplaces branch off of here, the festival is also held here.

Black market: A market that resides under the city, despite being a black market, it is allowed by Fang

Residents:

Brass (Mare, a bit rough around the edges but nice. owns a store in scryptown selling random stuff)

Silver (Filly, energetic, Cog and Daffodils filly)

Jinx (Works in the same store as Brass. Bat pony, VERY hyper, affectionate. Bat ponies tend to have a rough reputation, and alot of ponies seem to be afraid of them)

Fang (Vampony, very caring for his Subjects, Giant, leader of Scryptown. Kills ponies that get on his bad side or threaten any of his Subjects)

Solarae: It sits light years away from Equestria. It is a space colony that is separated into four Quadrants, each one very different

Quadrant 1: Rich Ponies and High class

Quadrant 2: Factories

Quadrant 3: Where most ponies in Solarae live

Quadrant 4: Very run down, poor ponies live here

Quadrant 3(b): The docks

Residents:

Eclipse: Short messy mane, fluffy tail, dark gray coat, orange sclera and black irises, orange marks under eyes. wearing scarf. cutie mark is a solar eclipse, legs have orange marks, broken horn. mane and tail are black in the center with a thin bit of bioluminescent glowing yellow separating the rest which is orange. Alicorn

Ruler of Solarae

All of her orange turns white when she feels strong negative emotions such as anger or sadness, sometimes she can spiral and become uncontrollable or unstable. She struggles with emotions due to her fluctuating magic levels, this causes her to have massive mood swings and feel emotions multiple times stronger than most ponies

Has a half vampony filly named Novae

Married to a Vampony

Daffodil (Mare, Married to Cog, Famous space traveler. Lives on Solarae. She is also a star mapper and has made more than half of the routes used by space travelers to get to Solarae)

Nova (Mare, CEO of Nebula Dynamics, a corporate company in Solarae, they own most of the place)

Central Defense Academy: This is placed at the center of Equestria and is where ponies go to be taught about combat against void born creatures

Noctraxia: village in the Everfree where both ponies and vamponies could live together peacefully, a side effect of this is that half bloods came into existence, this is caused by a pony and vampony having a child. They inherit both of the parents traits, They can have a small horn, or mild earth pony strength. Usually they are unable to use the unicorn magic unless the unicorn traits are dominant.

Each location in equestria has one bat pony messenger for Noctraxia

Void: Endless white that surrounds Equestria and the neighboring locations, cannot be seen normally. It is watched over by Opera. They protect Equestria from the creatures that lie within the Void.

Lore stuff:

Void born Ponies: Ponies that were born from the void, they can have very many features that a normal pony wouldn't have, such as opera having her mouth be on her chest. they tend to be higher in rank in the Defense force due to a natural affinity for void magic

Space Travelers: Ponies that dedicate their lives to exploring the universe and what lies within

Nebula Dynamics: Shady corporate Tech company in Solarae

Bounty Hunter: Yeah

Goo ponies: Very rare and barely documented race of ponies (W.i.p)

Vamponies: Vamponies and Ponies have a long history of distrust, war, and conflict, currently a war is being fought between them. Royal vamponies have a mark somewhere on their body, representing what family they come from. Light dwellers are the only ones that are able to wander freely in the sun, they have a mark through their eye. Vamponies will defend the royalty with their life. If Vamponies are spotted within equestrian territory they are brought to execution. Vamponies are often confused with bat ponies so it is easy for them to hide in plain sight

Royal Bloodlines:

Frostwing (Harsh and Violent)

Firetail (Rude or Kind)

Lightdweller (Tend to be Snobby)

Nightrunner (Secluded, barely seen)

Goldhoof (Regal, Second most powerful lineage)

Voidfang (Strongest of the entire Vampony race)

Ponies

Opera: Opera was once a normal pony until the void engulfed Equestria and left nothing behind, somehow, she hadn't been completely wiped out, but had instead become part of the void, it eventually became so lonely that she tried to reshape Equestria by memory, she succeeded to create a land with life but nothing was how it was before

Casimir: Vampony Pegasus half blood. He has a short and messy gray mane and a gray tail that both have an desaturated blue patch that runs across each, his coat is icy blue. He wears a green upside down cross earring, a monocle on his right eye, a dark gray scarf, and a black jacket.

Brother of Decifer, she doesn't like Casimir. Decifer is a Alicorn Vampony halfblood and also the ruler of Equestria. Decifer and Casimir's mother is Everglacier, a former Frostwing queen that fell into a coma. He just takes what he wants and nopony can do anything about it because he has power over them and sees everyone else as tools that were made for him. He is also just the biggest asshole ever Cadaver: Manipulative, Charismatic, Quiet, psychotic Mare, She has a dark green coat. Her mane and tail are also green and have a red stripe going through them. She has a flower crown with roses on it, the stems seem to pierce into her skull. There is black goo covering her eyes. She had a short messy mane and a wilting rose cutie mark.

She is an serial killer that popped up in ponyville. She sells items that she loots off of ponies she kills, Traps victims under her store, hates ponykind and is a cannibal. Ontop of this She considers her killing to be a hobby, going as far as nailing "Trophies" up onto the wall in a room under the store. She runs a small antique store in Ponyville.

She was once a pony named Marigold that had died, being resurrected through a sketchy ritual

Silverday: Silver coat, wears all black slim clothing, has a sword on side, unicorn, mane and tail fade from gray to white. He is a personal guard for Celestia for when she leaves the castle. During his job he has his mane tied back in a ponytail and is incredibly blunt yet quiet

At home he is a very different pony. He doesn't wear his sword and doesn't have any of his clothes on revealing his silver sun cutiemark. his mane goes down over his eyes. At home he tends to be loud and carefree

Xemi: He has grey eyes, a desaturated purple coat, a short messy mane that starts gray at the top and fades to a dark purple, his tail fades from gray to purple and is messy. He wears a scarf that is dark gray and desaturated purple, a yellow star ear ring in his left ear, he has a microphone cutie mark, he is wearing black and purple striped thigh high on his front right leg, traveling singer. Vampony hiding his identity

Abyss: Dull, Short messy mane, fluffy tail, dark gray coat, black eyes. white necklace with skull locket. cutie mark is a eye symbol. mane and tail are black with white at the tips mostly black leggings with white on top and bottom.

She takes form as a pony but can shift into a monster, this is due to the fact that she is a tamed void creature. She is the lead of a group of ponies that helps Opera watch over Equestria from the void

Watchers:

Iris - Purple, Energetic

Dawn - Yellow, Idk she looks into shit too much

Frost - Blue, Rude

Dusk - Orange, Kind

The four were created by a Opera as an experiment, splitting up a pony named Tetra, the princesses know about this and the watchers

Cog: Stallion, White mane and tail that fade darker in segments, bandages cover legs with their clothing going over it, they wear a brown bandana and a cloak with a brass lining. cutie mark is a rusty cog. Borderline Manic tinkerer, friends with Brass, Jinx and Fang

Gem Ponies: Basically the pony that created them is an alicorn with a deformity that caused them to have two horns one being shorter. This caused their ability to output magic to increase significantly with the drawback of not being able to focus it into spells. To attempt counter this she embedded a special stone that allows her to focus magic through it in a crown, which she wears nearly at all times even though it barely works. After realizing how unstable her magic still is she used a spell to trap herself in a castle on the outskirts of equestria which is where she made the gems. In order to create them she gave up some of her magic and sealed it away in multiple different gemstones. Creating the gems allowed her magic to stabilize due to literally giving up some of it to create them, but due to this she cannot break the spell that leaves her trapped, causing her to be stuck quite possibly forever.

[List of the only gem ponies:

Ruby, Jasper, Emerald, Onyx, Sapphire, Amber, Malachite, Bismuth, Topaz, Lapis and Painite, they were all created by Primsatix. each one of them was given a blessing by Primsatix

Prismatix - Created all of the gem ponies (Upbeat and caring, Mare, Alicorn with two horns, Outside Equestria) Her castle is guarded by a bat pony stallion named Nycto

Ruby - No occupation (Stoic, Mare, Unicorn, ???) Blessing: Potency (She can create solid objects out of pure magic) She has a cat named Zenzi that stays back at the palace with Prismatix. Zenzi is a special cat, he could talk due to a spell Prismatix cast upon him, Zenzi is very loving

Jasper - Owns a small shop (Clever and Snarky, Stallion, Pegasus, Manehattan) Blessing: Charisma (Can convince anypony to do what he wants)

Emerald - Artist (Kind, Stallion, Unicorn, Canterlot) Blessing (Undiscovered)

Onyx - Shut in (Emotionless and always tired, Mare, Bat pony, Noctraxia) Blessing: Foresight (Can see up to a week in the future once per moon and only within the area of each Gem pony. sends letters which are sorted by seal color)

Sapphire - Pop star (Outgoing and Scattered,

Mare, Unicorn, ???) Blessing: (Undiscovered)

Amber - Missing (Mare, Pegasus, ???)

Malachite - Miner (Gruff, Stallion, Earth pony, Ponyville) Blessing: Tracker (Can track down anything as long as he has seen it in the past day)

Bismuth - Blacksmith (Aloof, carefree, Mare, Earth pony, Dens Bridge) Blessing: Creator (Able create anything, she needs very rare minerals however)

Topaz - Luna's Royal Guard (Stoic, Stallion, Bat pony, Canterlot) Blessing: (Undiscovered)

Lapis - Sage (Shy and Quiet, Mare, Unicorn, Canterlot) Blessing: Mastery (She is able to learn and master things through reading, however she can only have one skill mastered at a time)

Painite: ??? (Alicorn mare, none of the gem ponies except Prismatic know of her due to her being made late and deciding to stay with Prismatic)

Gem ponies can only die if their gem is shattered, if they take physical damage they can retreat into their gem to heal. There is a door for each gem pony in Prismatic's castle that has a gem corresponding to each gem pony. Gem ponies are emotionless as they grow until they're finished developing
