

The only way to fully redeem yourself is to forgive yourself. Until then, if you never forgive yourself, you are never redeemed. This is shown throughout the series when characters are finally able to pass by finally forgiving themselves. This is also shown when characters never forgive themselves at all/anymore, they are fully consumed by their mistakes and can never be saved, they just disappear like sand in a desert.

- If you do pass, you wake up and see a bridge. You cross the bridge and never look behind you.
- If your time is up and you never forgive yourself, you enter an empty space. Then, you are confronted by your past mistakes one last time, and see a glimpse of the future that you could've had. As you look into your could-have-been, you slowly fade away. This desert you disappear to is actually Limbo. A place where forgiveness is absent, where nothing exists, and where time is nothing. You pass away soon, never grateful for anything, except for one thing.

Macky:

- Macky's real brother is known to be the (still need to come up for a name)
- Macky is supposed to be with his brother at all times, and his power only works when he's "serving" someone. This is because Macky's task is to be the executioner, meaning that he can only really follow the orders from someone and not on his own accord.
- When in the orphanage, Macky develops a friendship with one of the other kids who work at the orphanage. They develop a close friendship and Macky relies on him a lot. His friend however actually likes Macky but is too scared that he'll ruin the friendship they have together.
- His real bro has 3 servants, each seeming to have some form of admiration towards Macky that they don't see in his brother.
- His real bro has silver long hair but is smooth and delicate like snow. He's normally surrounded by burned or dead twigs and other foliage.
- Macky was separated from him because uhhhh idk gotta think of plot... I'm thinking that Macky was abducted so that his role as an executioner wouldn't work.
- Macky received his goggles from an "older sister" who wanted to become a technician but was stuck as an orphan sister due to her needing money. Older Sister gets properly introduced in a flashback and returns as a supporting character when focusing on Macky's arc. She returns when she hears that Macky's real big brother found him. The truth about the goggles is that she makes it so that Macky will never return to her brother, but it seemed that the plan failed.

Miro:

- Miro was a young child who was born into a well off family. They were loved and adored, but the happy times were quick to disappear. Miro's parents were murdered due to Miro opening the door to a stranger. Miro then continues as a spirit even after death due to her regret and shame, carrying on the burden of knowing that she caused her parents to die due to her poor choice.
- Miro visits the grave of her family every year. This is why Miro likes to pick flowers. She is shown to be picking flowers in numerous scenes and there is the whole Flower Garden Arc and side story.
- Miro is able to fully redeem, as she finally forgives herself after seeing Lady pass away first.

Lady:

- Miro's personal 'guardian'. They look over Miro and are always with her in the shadows. Lady's real name is unknown but the title was given to her by Big Boss. Miro however calls her Mistress. In some cases, she may accidentally call her Mother.
- Lady's past is that she was a mistress to a fine man. She was expecting to have a child with him but the man whom she thought was going to be his husband had passed away unknowingly. She continues life without him but soon after his death, the baby she was expecting died inside of her body. She kept on trying to have a child with man after man but in the end it was hopeless. Her relatives started calling her names and saw her crazy as to why she just didn't adopt instead. She says that she is unable to connect to those and has made many connections already with the ones she believed she killed herself with her own body. Due to the guilt she beared on her shoulders and the thoughts of nothing mattering anymore, she committed suicide by jumping off a bridge where she dropped her unborn children.

- Miro and Lady's relationship is thin. When Lady was resurrected, she encounters the parents of Miro and was given the task to look over her. Miro being a ghost who has lived for over millennia is thrilled and extremely shy to be alongside a motherly figure. Their relationship tries to go into a family bond but Lady insists that she shouldn't be more than a guardian for Miro as she feels wrong to 'adopt' her.
- When Lady passes onto the next life, she tells Miro how much of a good girl she is and that she is everything she ever wanted as her own daughter. In the end, Lady and Miro finally had a family bond. In Lady's next life, she is successful in giving birth to healthy children and adopts one of her own.
- When exorcised, Lady had already forgiven herself, but she asked to stay until she saw or was able to pass with Miro together. However, she was unable to do that due to being exorcised. Fortunately, she was able to grant Miro's fateful wisdom in order for Miro to pass on as well.

Demeter:

- Demeter was a criminal who was punished then later executed for their wrong deeds. Before his execution, he was shown kindness from a young child and was given hope in his next life. When resurrected as a spirit/ghoul/demon, his body was heavily branded with curses and writings of his sins that it made him fearful of his appearance towards children. He has covered up his body as well as his face/head using a mask. It was in his perspective his bad luck that had made him look the same way he was in his past life.
- Demeter loves children and will do anything for their happiness. During one of his travels as a wandering ghoul, he comes across an abandoned girl who was on the verge of death. Demeter gave everything he had at the time to make sure the girl would stay alive as to which she did. Ever since then, the young girl had stuck around with Demeter and would often call him Papa. Demeter despises being called a Father due to the fact he knows that he is incapable of being called such a term due to his past / sins.
- When Demeter was traveling with the young girl, they stumble across Big Boss who hears about Demeter's story and invites him to join the community. Demeter says that he will only join if the young girl is able to find a family, to which Big Boss misinterpreted as she gave them a large house to live in which is nearby a small town.
- Demeter gives baths to the kids under his care but makes sure that no one is to ever see a glimpse of his skin as he is afraid the children will know the sins he has caused and be afraid of him.
- Demeter explains his love towards children by describing how they are pure of judgement and must be guided to their best state.
- In a part of the story, Demeter meets the child who had given him hope before his execution, and is able to hear of her life.
- Demeter moves on when he knows that the children will be living their best lives in their next one and when he hears the child's story (the one he reunites with)

Doll and Pitch

- 1:46 AM tsuki3458 second option is him not reuniting with her but sees her happy with her new life and gf
- 1:47 AM tsuki3458 and then passes on
- 1:47 AM bananabeanboi second
- 1:47 AM tsuki3458 thinking "ahh... i am so glad... you are safe and happy... my sister"
- 1:47 AM tsuki3458 and last panel or scene is him gone/faded away.
- 1:47 AM tsuki3458 not every1 has happy ending. and Doll just shows that.
- 1:47 AM tsuki3458 😊 yeah lets go this route
- 1:47 AM bananabeanboi i like second more, cause hes able to pass on pretty happily but hes still being punished for his actions

- Doll _

Big Boss:

- Big Boss is a dragon spawn.
- The series ends when her time ends. We see the epilogue of everyones time being over. Whether they have passed or not, Big Boss does not know. We then see her converse with the god who allowed her to manage the facility. "Ahh, everyone's gone now?" "Yes." "Mmm mmhmmm mmm (hums), so how was it?" "?" "Being able to meet people like you?" "... It, definitely felt strange for sure... it was like looking at a mirror. It didn't matter if it was an elegant mirror, a cracked mirror, or even half of a mirror. It still felt like... I was talking to myself. Really strange indeed..." "BAHAHHAHAHA you're so funny. Come, lets clean the place up before you go." The two exit the area, and Big Boss looks back. After looking back, she continues to follow the god and the area soon disappears like dust. The last to disappear is the sign that greets every new comer, "Welcome! We hope you enjoy your stay!". The two finally enter a forest. "Oi, don't go frowning on me now! Your time is finally over and you can finally go! Come onnn be happy! Happy smile, happy smile!" Big Boss continues to have a stale face, and god just sighs. "Alright alright whatever sore loser. Here, final resting ground. It's all set up!" The scene seems nostalgic, and Big Boss twinges. "... the final resting ground huh." "HAHA SURE IS! You like it? If you want I can make it even prettie-" "No it's... it really is the final resting ground." Big Boss turns to look at god's face. "Thank you, (undecipherable speech)." "NAHHH don't mention it, I'll see you soon! Thanks for being my little toy. It was fun :)" "Ha, it sure was." Big Boss closes her eyes and the space is pitch black. We can barely see the location she is in, as we are more focused on her thoughts and her face. "Ah.. it really is dark in here." Big Boss looks around and is confronted by her past lover. "Oh, its you ___(name)" "Ah... you look so beautiful in your dress." Big Boss starts to fade away too, but we can't tell if she is passing or not. Then, the audio starts to mumble into the past lovers voice. "Come on, wake up!!! We're going to be late!!! I told you we should be waking up earlier!!!" and a faint voice says "Mhm mhm, I'm coming I'm coming." A speckle of dust is shown. THE END - Did Big Boss pass on or did she end up in Limbo? your own interpretation losers !!!!!