

What is a Person?

Individuality is never perfect
Never fully formed by one's mind
People shape people
One memory at a time

The song of acquired things plays to the tune of life
A person is born not of a pair
But a collection of mankind