

My client wants to start a YouTube channel and start a community, he is brand new. for that he needs attention. To do that I am helping him with his social media like TikTok and instagram.

He is a young man about 20 years trying to show his business journey and make a community for young people that want to open a business, he want to show them that you don't need money to do that, for that he wants to record himself and show his progress to the people. He want to attract attention at what he doing then monetize that attention.
