

Author's note

Yoyo! Mars here! I've been cooking up some lore for GEHK! Au so i hope you guys enjoy it!! I am trying my best on writing and i'm so sorry if it seems messy or i repeat some things a few times... im dyslexic AHGUEGHA but yes! I will get into Yukari's backstory soon! Mitsuru's backstory took me a few weeks to finish AAA. I will occasionally update with more stuff here! So keep a lookout on my social medias!

Instagram: @korudoodles

Twitter: @catgirlmitsuru

Tumblr: @marsycozycorner

Last updated: 11/10/2024

List of Titles of the lore as of now

- Mitsuru's backstory
- How Yukari and Mitsuru met + Confession
- Fun Facts! (includes Shinjiro & Akihiko)
- Love languages (Mitsuru, Yukari, Akihiko, Shinjiro)
- How the GEHK! Cast are at a concert/gig

Btw! This AU is set in the year of 2012! Yukari is 19 & the trios are 20!

Mitsuru's Backstory

Mitsuru grew up in a rich family where she was always privileged with expensive clothes, fancy food, being treated like royalty etc. But of course her parents wanted her to always be on top of her level and be the best student in the current private school she was in. Her mom was really controlling of her and was super strict and hard on her by making her attend tuition, fencing and piano lessons throughout her life when she was little till she reached High School. Mitsuru also didn't make a lot of friends since she was always busy and the friends she made are people like her so the only thing they would talk about is what they do in their day to day life and nothing much. As she grew older, Mitsuru started to feel like something was missing in her life. Day by day she yearns to know what this part of her is missing and she always tries to brush it off and just focus on her studies and talents to get the validation from her parents, especially her mom. She also started to feel more stressed out and anxious than usual and doesn't know who to go to, not even her friends since she doesn't know if they will understand her or call her a weakling for having feelings.

The only person who realised that she was acting differently was her dad. Her dad was the one who Mitsuru feels comfortable around with even though he can be strict at times but without her mom beside him, he will let Mitsuru do things her mom wouldn't let her do like watch tv, play with her toys and listen to music he has on his iPod. She started using the iPod to listen to music while she does homework/study as she can fill up the empty noise around her and jam to songs her dad downloaded on his iPod that he had lent to her. In that said iPod had many bands like Metallica, Slipknot, Nirvana, Deftones, P!ATD and especially her favourite MCR. There was also more music from the 80's,90's,2000's and early 2010's in the iPod but those bands mentioned above were Mitsuru's favourite bands that she listens and copes with.

Takeharu (Mitsuru's dad) used to be in a band in the early 80's with his group of friends and would go around touring Japan and even the whole world too and it all crumbled down when his father forced him to take over the Kirijo group because of the amount of guilt-tripping his dad did to him. He hated it so much he just wanted to pursue music as his career as all was going as plan, like gaining fame from around the world and earning lots of money but because of his dad and how he would threaten to end the band, he had to leave his bandmates behind which really hurt him but he had to so his bandmates could still carry the band name in their hands. Still till this day he hates being in meetings and doing boring old stuff while having to carry the Kirijo group but he sadly accepted this life and had to move on with it. He does meet up with his bandmates every now and then when he is free and also plays on the drums at one of his bandmates place to relive the memories he made before he left the band.

One time when it was her and her dad alone in the living room, he would turn on metal music he listens to every now and then when his wife isn't around since she hated that kind of music, Mitsuru would head bop to it and enjoy the music along with her dad and when she asked her dad if he ever was in a band he explained everything to her and she dreams of one day being in a band since she loved the sound of the instruments and also how music could tell a message or be related to because of the lyrics.

When she reached middle school, she asked her dad if she is able to learn how to play the drums since she was getting tired and bored on learning to play the piano and wanted something loud and fun to play with and her dad thought for a while and agreed on teaching her how to play the drums but only when her mom was out since he didn't want her to find out her daughter was learning how to play the drums instead of the piano. So years go by and she was such a pro at it and her dad felt so happy to see her in such a happy mood rather than being all sappy and bored studying and doing the same old stuff for most of her childhood. Mitsuru's mom was weirded out on why she was so happy all the time around her dad but she brushed it off cause she couldn't care much just that as long as Mitsuru wasn't failing in class she didn't give a shit about anything else.

Years passed by and she slowly felt like whatever she felt that something in her was missing, she felt like she was getting closer to the thing she is missing in her life. As highschool rolled around, she asked her mom if she was able to go to a normal highschool instead of those prestige school she has been going for her whole life and of course this angered her since she doesn't know why Mitsuru wanted to suddenly go to a normal highschool but she finally recognized her behaviour changed as she was a growing teen. She remembered when Mitsuru suddenly wasn't attending her tuition, piano and fencing classes as she received calls from them saying she has been missing out on classes and during the time Mitsuru was missing out on classes, she was busy in the basement in a secret soundproof room her dad made for her to practise in so her mom doesn't find out where she is all those times she missed classes. She would sometimes sneak in Akihiko and Shinjiro to jam out and cover/make music in the comfort of the soundproof room (Mitsuru's dad also bought a few AMPs for them to bring their guitar and bass!)

Mitsuru's mom of course confronted her about her missing out on classes and she just didn't really give a shit and talked back to her saying she should just cancel those classes and keep the money because she is not going back to doing what she didn't like to do. This of course really angered her mom and she threaten to force her to change schools to a prestige one and Mitsuru's dad overheard the argument and yelled back at his wife as he told her that Mitsuru is going up and she should just let her be and not toy her around like she did to her since she was little and because her dad had the power over the family, her mom shut up and accepted defeat and Mitsuru thanked her dad for saving her ass as she didn't know what to do if he wasn't there to save him.

Now that Mitsuru has more free time to hangout in her little secret hangout stress free from her mom, she gets to play all she wants and hang out with Akihiko and Shinjiro and is just living her life to the fullest. She started going to gigs and concerts that Akihiko found online or on posters that were stuck around their neighbourhood and would jam out to their favourite bands the 3 of them love a lot and would just fuck around honestly. Hanging out at gas stations late at night and having deep talks together or going to the railway tracks they found and officially made it their 2nd hangout spot since it was quiet and nobody goes to that area and there weren't active trains so they were safe. She felt that her time in highschool was the best she ever felt, even though she wasn't the top student of her class anymore but was still doing decent her mom caught up to it and would scold her every now and then but Mitsuru wouldn't give two shits and just let her nag till she's tired. She didn't want her mom to control her anymore, she could finally stand up for herself and she finally felt more freedom in her life.

When the 3 of them graduated from High School and got into the same course in college together in Tokyo, she was finally moving out from her hometown and into the city. This was a big step for her and she was scared at first but she knew she had her friends and her dad to support her on her journey to college and she didn't know she would potentially find her future girlfriend during the 2nd year of college ;)

TW! Guns, Near death experience (i didn't know how to add this into the story so i will add it here but TDLR Mitsuru almost dies because of her mom. This was also inspired by one of my friend's artfight artwork she drew for me! (if you see this ILY!! /p) also this is my first time writing something like this so please bear with me. I hope it's okay! I just wanted some angst for her backstory </3)

One fine day when Mitsuru was in middle school, because of how she was learning to play the drums, she got distracted when she was listening to her music (she was finger drumming to the beat to imagine how she would play the song on the drums while she was studying) so she didn't get an A for some of her exam papers which really angered her mom. Her mom WANTS her to be the top student in the school and she knew something was up when she didn't do well for her exams.

Her mom caught her one day listening to her ipod while studying and she has always kept it lowkey so her mom doesn't know about it but, that one unfortunate day she got caught off guard when her mom just barged in into her room and immediately her mom screamed at her. Saying that listening to music is distracting her from studying and she will take it away from her until she gets her grades up. Of course this made Mitsuru upset and angry because music was what filled the empty silence around her so she could vibe and be at ease. So she was desperately trying to snatch the ipod away from her and she accidentally pushed her mom to the floor really hard. This triggered her mom really REALLY badly to the point where she pulled a gun out (she had it on hand because this bitch is crazy and she thinks holding her daughter at gunpoint will fix the solution spoiler alert you just gave your child trauma FOREVER!) and pointed it to her “If you don’t fucking behave yourself you’ll see what i’ll do next.”

Mitsuru dropped her ipod on the floor and just started to apologise repeatedly and sobbing through her words. She had many thoughts in her mind like is this really my mom? Why would she pull a gun on me just because I got a B for some of my exam papers... I know i fucked up but at least i didnt fail the fucking paper. Her mom then puts the gun away and proceeds to take the ipod away and slams her door shut. Mitsuru was in fucking pieces she was silently sobbing while staying up studying so she doesn’t want this to happen again. She didn’t tell her dad this until in highschool because she was so afraid he might say it to her and her mom would do the same thing to her again.

Even till now when she is in college, she still remembers the day it happened and it scared her for life. She has told this to Akihiko and Shinjiro when they met in highschool and the both of them have been very protective to her ever since and in college, she told this to Yukari and her mouth dropped. She didn’t know Mitsuru went through this hell in her childhood and has affected her ever since, so she now takes extra care of her when her mom is around her.

How Yukari and Mitsuru met + Confession

So Mitsuru, Akihiko and Shinjiro goes to college together for a music course and from then on Yukari eventually does attend the same course just a year below them. How yukari met mitsuru is when the college held a gig and of course the trio and yukari who went with her friends then attended the gig and while shinjiro and akihiko were probably busy making out at a corner LMAOO mitsuru was jamming out and two stepping to the beat of the music. Yukari was at the back with her friends vibing while mitsuru was two stepping with other random people in the pit and because of how mitsuru stands out with her scemo fit (red + black) and yukari was like “YOOO WHO IS THAT BABE ROCKING OUT SHE'S SO GOOD AT TWO STEPPING!!” To her friends and once that gig ended, Yukari had Mitsuru on her mind for a while because she was like hmm I feel like I saw her somewhere.

The next day rolls by and Yukari is waiting for the seniors class to end to use the lecture room and once it ends it was crowded ASF because of the students inside the room coming out while the ones outside were trying to get in. So yukari being the clumsy mf she is, she was on her phone texting her friend about last night and then BOOM she bumps into a tall girl really hard and she's like "OH MY GOD I'M SO SORRY" and looks up and there she is.... Mitsuru... yukari was all flustered and like omg wait that's the girl from yesterday omg!! Mitsuru was like "Oh! No worries, no hard feelings, it's really crowded so this happens often." while she rubs the back of her head smiling at yukari. So with this opportunity yukari strikes a convo with her and mitsuru doesn't really talk to a lot of people and only really talks to akihiko and shinjiro and some of her classmates so she was a little shy at first but with yukari's vibe, she felt more comfortable and at ease but there were a few shutters here and there.

Their convo had to be cut short since yukari had lectures to attend to so she was like "You were so cool yesterday with your two stepping!!" And mitsuru was like oh my god, SOMEONE SAW ME TWO STEPPING?? She gets flustered but was also thanking yukari since mitsuru was still new to it and she found it nice that someone loved her two stepping. So with that yukari wanted to give her phone number to mitsuru but mitsuru's phone died but not to worry! Yukari whips out her eyeliner from her pocket and grabs Mitsuru's hand and wrote down her name and her number and is like "Here let's talk more! Text me when you can! ;)" and with that they said their goodbyes and mitsuru was still standing there, processing what just happened. Akihiko was calling out to Mitsuru to tell her to catch up with him and Shinjiro and she ran to him and was all flustered by the interaction she had with yukari. This was Mitsuru's first time feeling a touch from a woman HAHA and Akihiko did catch a glimpse of that happening and because he knows mitsuru well he was teasing her like "Hey you okay?" While he elbowed Mitsuru's shoulder to wake her up from what happened and he continued "So who was that girl you were talking to? Looks like she was hitting on you... OooOo~ are you finally getting a girlfriend~?" And he smirks at her and mitsuru was all like "SHUT UPPP AKIHIKO." and he laughs and shinjiro who was beside them the whole time chuckled along with him.

A few months goes by and yukari and mitsuru have been texting A LOT and they also hung out often after school too. They went to malls, big ass car parks, gas stations and all kinds of places to chill and hang out either with just the two of them or together with shinjiro and akihiko too. Akihiko would tease mitsuru when she was out with yukari and one fine day akihiko was teasing her about how Mitsuru might like her and she is was all like “SHHHH I DONT KNOW IF SHE FEELS THE SAME WAY” and that’s when it clicked to Akihiko he was like “Oh so you do have a crush on her?” And she who has never had a crush ever in her life was like “huh? A crush? I’m not sure dude... maybe I do? Maybe I don’t? AHH IT’S COMPLICATED!! LET ME THINK ABOUT THIS AKIHIKO” and that’s the first time Mitsuru realised that she might have romantic feelings for Yukari.

They have gotten close to the point where Mitsuru’s house was a hangout spot for Yukari too since Mitsuru doesn’t like to randomly invite her classmates over only Akihiko and Shinjiro were allowed before she met Yukari. Since Akihiko and Shinjiro were busy being gay and had their own stuff to do, Mitsuru has been talking to Yukari a lot more and even jamming out with her at her garage with her drum set already there and Yukari bringing over her guitar everytime she comes over to her house.

Until hell struck one day. Mitsuru had a huge argument with her mom. For some reason her mom appeared at her front door one fine day when she just got back from college and was wondering why she was here. Looking at her mothers face already made her annoyed and pissed off but she still let her in anyway. She and her mom sat down in the living room with a long awkward silence filling up the air till she spoke out first “What brings you here? You never come to visit me at all. So I guess you are here to nag me about something that’s on your mind?” Her mom didn’t say a word to that but said “I’m here because I have something important to tell you and I think you will hate me even more after I say this.” This was something new from her mom; she never expected her to be so calm. Her mom continues “I want you to take over the Kirijo group, I don’t care what you are going to say but I have already assigned you to a fiancé and you will meet him in a few days.” Mitsuru’s eyes widen in shock what the fuck did she meant by wanting her to take over the Kirijo group so suddenly now? Is she insane? Mitsuru stood up in anger and screamed “WHY THE FUCK ARE YOU SAYING THIS ALL OF A SUDDEN?? DID YOU EVEN TELL DAD ABOUT THIS? C-CAN YOU JUST GET OUT OF THE HOUSE NOW. I DON’T WANT TO SEE YOU ANYMORE. HOW MUCH MORE DO YOU WANT TO RUIN MY FREEDOM???” Mitsuru says as she looks at her mom tears forming around her eyes her mom fought back “ME TAKING AWAY YOUR FREEDOM?? ARE YOU INSANE? I’M HELPING YOU LIVE A BETTER LIFE. I MISS MY OLD MITSURU WHEN SHE ENJOYED LEARNING AND WAS SO PRIM AND PROPER AND THE PERFECT CHILD I DREAMT OF.” “WELL THAT OLD MITSURU IS DEAD. GET THE HELL OUT NOW! ” she couldn’t believe this, she thought she was free but suddenly it felt like she was caught and caged up again. Mitsuru's mom then stood up and left quietly without saying a word or another argument would arise again and as she left, Mitsuru sat down on the floor and started weeping for hours and the worse part was she couldn't contact her dad much because he would be busy for weeks so all she could do was wait for him to come back home to ask him about her taking over the Kirijo group.

It got really bad to the point where it triggered Mitsuru so much she stopped going to school completely and that led her to dropping out of college. During the times she skipped school, she locked herself in her room and played songs on her phone all day while crying or played her anger out on the drums till she was satisfied. This left Mitsuru to be depressed and angry about what her mom said and did to her and she was SO GLAD she lived by herself in her house her dad bought for her to live in independently or Mitsuru would have just ran out of the house and go to either Akihiko or Shinjiro's place. She also starts to reply less to their texts and Yukari was really concerned for her since she knows this isn't how Mitsuru is.

So everyday Yukari was hoping to see Mitsuru back in school one fine day but out of all those days, she has never come back once. So 2 weeks later, Yukari found the courage to go to Mitsuru's house and talk to her since she wanted Mitsuru to have her own time to process whatever happened with her and her mom. So she rang her doorbell and Mitsuru was home and Mitsuru peeped her head out to see who it was and Mitsuru's eyes widened in shock to see Yukari at the front of her door. She told her that she doesn't have the energy to go downstairs to open it but not to worry! Yukari being the "best friend" she is, she climbed to a tree nearby and hopped into Mitsuru's roof then to her window and Mitsuru was so concerned for her but Yukari said she did this all the time with her friends. As Yukari entered her room, it was in a messy state which she knew Mitsuru shouldn't be living in and started to help clean up for her so Mitsuru would be comfortable in her room. While Mitsuru was lying down on her bed talking to Yukari and apologised for not texting or talking to her, Yukari reassured her and said that she understands her and that it's okay and Mitsuru felt so glad that someone like her other than Aki and Shinjiro understands her for once since Mitsuru's previous "friends" just ignored or got mad at her because of her problems.

Once Yukari was done with helping her clean her room she sat beside Mitsuru on her bed and asked her what's up and Mitsuru was a little hesitant at first and Yukari knew so, Yukari opened up to Mitsuru and told her about her past and how her mom was an asshole and how she misses her dad and so on.

Mitsuru, hearing about Yukari struggles, realizes how they both are in a similar position, asshole moms and misses their dads. So with that since Mitsuru takes a long time to trust someone fully, she gained trust from Yukari and that's when she started opening up about how her mom treated her and all and how she also misses her dad since he only comes by her house once every few weeks because of work. It got so bad that Mitsuru started breaking down so badly and thankfully Yukari was really good at comforting people and so she rubs her back to calm her down.

With how Mitsuru and Yukari had a heart to heart together, they also have been liking each other for months now but they just never told each other yet till today. Yukari found an opportunity to tell her today that she means everything to her since it was just the two of them in her room and it was now or never. So as Mitsuru was calming down and tears were streaming down her face, she cupped Mitsuru's face with her two hands which then got her really shocked and looked at her all like what is going on!! In her head, Yukari chuckled when she realised her face was turning red. She then wiped her tears away with her thumbs and caressed her cheeks and told her "Everything will be okay, it will soon be over trust me. You have me and you have those two gay dudes too." She chuckled and smiled at Mitsuru while Mitsuru gave her a smile back and said "Mhm thank you for coming to see me. It means a lot to me." And because of how close they are face to face, Mitsuru leans in for a kiss on Yukari's lips which REALLY shocked her because it was so out of the blue. As Mitsuru pulls away, she was like "Oh my god I'm sorry I didn't mean t-" and Yukari shuts her up with a kiss. It ended up with a little makeout session but after that Mitsuru was like "Holy shit this is the first time I've ever kissed someone." And her face was as red as her crimson eyes and Yukari giggled and caressed her cheeks saying "You're so cute you know that right?" And they both laughed together holding hands and that's when they both also confessed to each other and how they liked each other for months now but just didn't have the right time to say until now when Yukari confessed first and Mitsuru did after.

After a few days of them being together, Yukari has been staying over at her place to keep an eye on her and make sure she was well and okay and that's when Mitsuru's dad finally came to visit her after a few very busy weeks he had. Mitsuru almost cried when she saw her dad because she missed him a lot and wanted to talk to him about whatever her mom told her she was taking over the Kirijo group and he was shocked. He told her they both talked about this and it was tough because her mom didn't like what he suggested but had to agree on him because he had the power over the Kirijo group after all and he just wanted Mitsuru to continue with her life to become a big well known band people will know of. He couldn't believe how his wife got the power and guts to tell her that she needs to take over the Kirijo group so he promises Mitsuru he will talk to her when he meets her again. Mitsuru's dad also wanted her to fulfil her dreams because he realised she is going down the same path he went but was interrupted because of the Kirijo group and he didn't want her life to be ruined because of that. Mitsuru felt the weight on her shoulders leaving her body and she couldn't resist hugging her dad as she knew he got her back.

She also got to introduce Yukari to her dad and told him that she is her girlfriend and has been taking care of her when she had her tough times and her dad nodded and greeted her thanking her for taking care of her daughter when he wasn't around :D

Fun facts! (This will constantly be updated :3)

- Akihiko in GEHK! Au is trans! During his first year of highschool, he had gotten his T shots which Shinjiro helped him out and later on Mitsuru. When Shinjiro is busy, Mitsuru comes over to his place as he needed someone to be there with him while doing his T shots as he was scared of needles and needed someone there with him to comfort him.
- This is silly but when Akihiko met Mitsuru for the first time in highschool, he may have had a little crush on her and would get shy and nervous around her but it didn't last long as he then later found out Mitsuru is a lesbian when Mitsuru was questioning her sexuality and asking him for help as he knows more about this than she did. She then eventually found out that she likes women and couldn't see herself dating a man that her mom wants her to do so.
- At that time in highschool Akihiko was still bi-curious until he realised that actually he was in love with Shinjiro all along. He would go up to Mitsuru and tell her about it since they both help each other a lot when they are in a crisis and Mitsuru loves to tease him about liking Shinjiro and when the 2nd year of highschool rolled around, Mitsuru helped Akihiko with confessing his love to him and it went well :D YAY TO GAY PEOPLE!!
- Mitsuru used to skate a lot in highschool but because of that one incident where she fell pretty badly off her skateboard, she fractured her arm and sore to not skate again cause she couldn't play the drums during the time where she was in a cast which made her really sad and bored so she wanted to be extra careful as she loved playing on the drums daily it's her way to just express herself to her fullest and cover her favourite songs.

- Yukari roller skates! She has roller skated since she was young because back then her mom signed her up for classes and she really enjoyed it a lot. She's kinda a pro at it, she goes to skate parks and shows off her tricks! She also loves skating to school. She thinks it's more fun that way than walking to school. She has a few roller skates but her favourite is her neon pink one to match most of her fits! Mitsuru was curious and wanted to try but only for her to fall many times and was afraid of fracturing her arm again so she just stayed away from it and just watched her girlfriend be cool at the skate park and she's like that's my girlfriend right there!! She's so awesome!! (We love a supportive gf <3)
- Their band name is Master Of Tartarus!!
- Mitsuru owns a bearded dragon and white albino snake! She's into reptiles :3 and Yukari owns a cute white rabbit and a German shepherd! She loves the both of them dearly <3 Yukari loves to pet Mitsuru's bearded dragon when she's around. She loves to just hold it on her hand and look at him and be like "WOW OMG THIS IS SO COOL!!" While Mitsuru loves to play around with her snake. Yukari was afraid of Mitsuru's snake but eventually she grew less scared of it as Mitsuru told her to gently hold her snake and when she did it she fell in love with her snake when her snake gave her a cute blep with its tongue and she was like "I might just steal her from you." and Mitsuru just giggled at her, she was shocked her girlfriend actually didn't mind her pets since Akihiko is really afraid of them and Shinjiro didn't really mind it HAHA
- When Yukari feels upset and is hanging around in Mitsuru's room, Mitsuru would purposely put on some old 80-90s love songs she took from her dad's mixtape and lifts Yukari up to her feet and while she feels sappy, she felt shocked too since Mitsuru isn't the type to dance or slow dance to be exact. Mitsuru takes her hands into hers and looks at Yukari lovingly while she slowly kisses her hands to make her feel better. Yukari really felt a weight leave off her shoulders everytime Mitsuru slow dances with her. It's like the world went slow and it was just the two of them in the present. Mitsuru would also whisper compliments into her ear and Yukari would giggle and blush as Mitsuru looks at her face and smiles as she knew that she felt accomplish that her gf is now feeling better <3

- Mitsuru is the type to love rainy weather but when there is thunder, she gets terrified. So everytime when her and Yukari are cuddling to sleep and there is thunder, she would jerk when she hears the loud sound of thunder which wakes up Yukari. Yukari comforts her by telling her that it is okay and would stay awake until she falls asleep. This then eases Mitsuru to go back to sleep slowly while Yukari rubs circles around her back to comfort her and from time to time play with her hair and comfort her with reassuring words.

GEHK! Love languages

- Mitsuru: Physical touch, Words of Affirmation, Quality time
- Yukari: Physical touch, Gift giving, Words of Affirmation
- Akihiko: Quality time, Words of Affirmation
- Shinjiro: Words of Affirmation, Acts of Service

How the GEHK! Cast are at a concert/gig

- All the 4 of them love to run to the barricade to get up front to the bands that will be performing (usually if its either one of their favourite bands performing on tour, they would usually camp outside the venues so they can run when the doors open and usually Akihiko is the one to reach to the barricade first)
- Yukari would bring her digicam to film the band, the 4 of them and of course film her and her gf <3 she sometimes secretly films Mitsuru when she's having a blast so she can make cute mini montages of her and surprise her with it and Mitsuru is all like "Omg babe stop you didn't have to do this. This is too cute!!" and she's all embarrass and flustered its okay she gives Yukari many kisses afterwards :3
- All of them love to mosh and two-step but usually Shinjiro would be at the outer ring keeping a lookout at the 3 of them and also helping out people who fell down etc. Yukari and Mitsuru also love to just swing themselves around in the pit until they fall on the ground for funzies.
- Akihiko and Mitsuru loves to just go fucking crazy in the mosh pit and just have so much fun together. Yukari loves to go crazy too but she has her limits and when she's done she usually just stays beside Shinjiro and keeps a lookout on the 2 others in the mosh pit and also enjoys the band performing in front of them.

- Yukari has crowd surfed a couple of times before and Mitsuru probably did once or twice in her life. She also loves to carry Yukari on her shoulders into the mosh pit and have a blast together. Shinjiro and Akihiko do eventually join in with them with Akihiko on Shinjiro's shoulders.
- Mitsuru always buys band merch from every concert/gig she goes to to support them and also keep it as a core memory that she has been to the concert/gig. She would also help buy some merch for the 3 of them if they are broke so that they can at least have something for themselves to remember from that concert/gig.
- This happened in Highschool for the trio but one time when Mitsuru went to her first gig, she went in straight for the mosh pit and lets just say it didn't end well and she had to be dragged out of the pit by Akihiko, Shinjiro and a few other random people because she got knocked out really badly and was laying at the parking lot for an hour to calm down and regain her energy. She wasn't hurt badly but more of like she couldn't really walk back home by herself so Akihiko had to carry her back home while Shinjiro follows and checks up on her every now and then. When she came back home her dad was in town so when he was still awake and answered the door he was like "Oh my god you are lucky your mother isn't in town right now or she will beat your ass up" and Mitsuru was like "yeah yeah i dont fucking care" and her dad chuckles and so did Shinjiro and Akihiko.