Introduction:

Nabsuki_34, Nabsuki Chan, Chibi-Nabsuki Chan, or just simply Nabsuki, is an Internet user, belonging to the Battle for Dream Island, Self-shipping Twitter (sstwt), and Friday Night Funkin' fandoms, participating in some mods of the latter. She had previously helped in projects such as Third World Tournament X and the SilvaLatinaGunner channel.

This document's purpose is to expose her harmful attitudes and taste for certain questionable material; behavior that she had carried for a long period of time, without anyone deigning to expose them: either due to fear, indifference, or manipulation (gaslighting to be more specific) because of this user.

Personally, I (Lucy, the original author of the doc) decided to be the one exposing Nabsuki, due to the many claims I've heard against this person for years. However, I have never seen Nab speak out about her behaviors or be affected by the consequences of these, and also how they've come to affect people who are close to me or who have been close to me at one point in my life, therefore by possessing such information, I could not stand idly by, and so, I shall release evidence about these accusations, as well as providing context.

Taste for Shotacon

To start with, we will go straight to the main course and the strongest one. Nabsuki always had a public image completely relating to pornographic/hentai material, owning two public Twitter accounts, one dedicated to NSFW (which we'll talk more in detail below), and one she considers "Safe For Work" for people over 16.

The issue here is quite self-explanatory. Despite being a "+16" account, said users are still considered underage, so this means that Nab is exposing them to what we could consider "softcore porn", like characters in suggestive situations. This gets more fishy once we realize Nab was a grown adult at this point. It gets way worse when considering how Nab's previous account was dedicated to upload shotacon content, both in the previously mentioned Twitter NSFW profile and Pixiv as well, before her current rebranding.

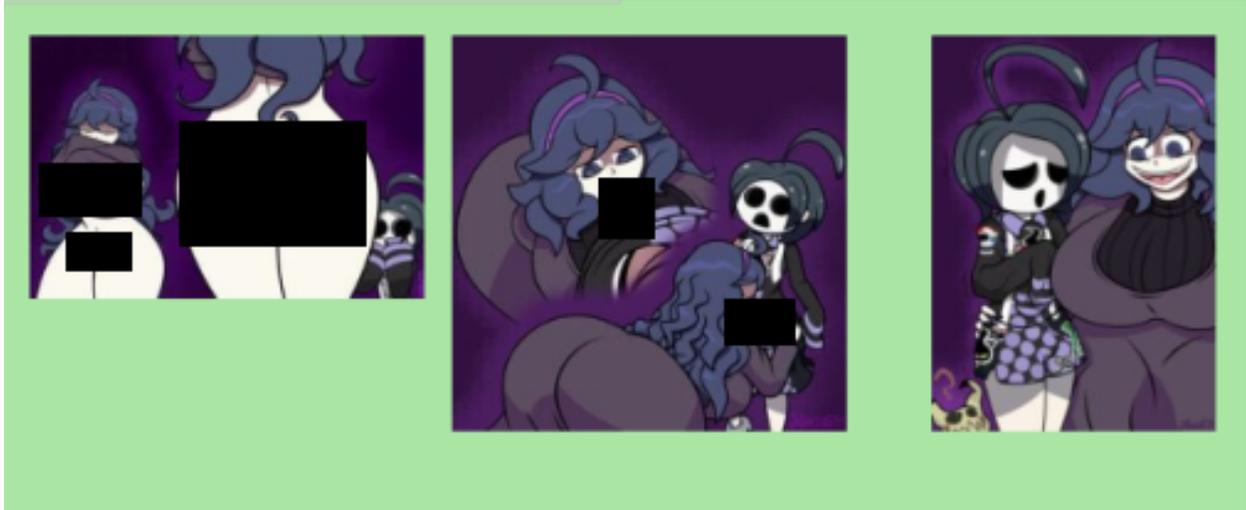

The date indicates that her taste for shotacon was long-lasting, dating back to approximately 2019.

Despite the rebranding, this was not the end of Nab's shotacon posting. There is a private Twitter account of hers, which clearly states she makes these types of drawings, this thanks to the /ss/ in her profile, meaning "straight shota".

Of course, she possesses art made by herself, the most recurrent ones being with the characters Hex Maniac and Allister, both from Pokemon. Attached below are the account and one of her drawings, as well as more proof about the shotacon. Discretion advised.

Proof that Nab's taste was kept the same by 2023, when she was 26 years old.

Proof of her liking lolisho content on her Pixiv before the rebrand (it's still the same account)

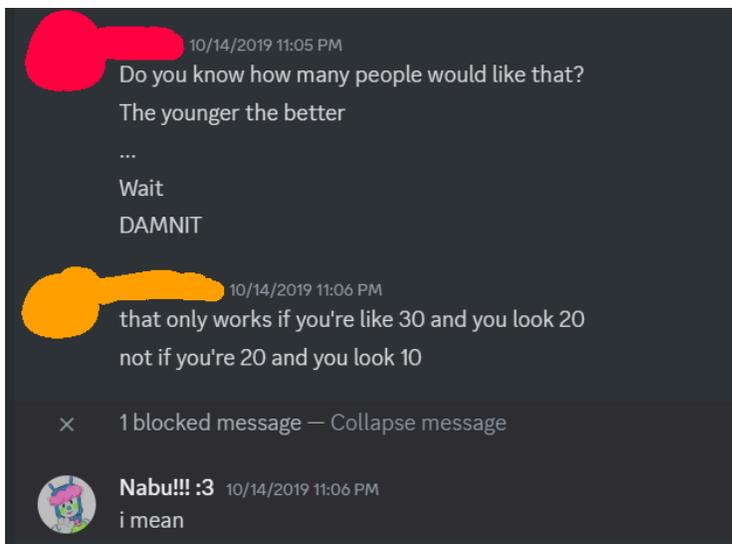

Screenshot from Nab's pixiv, showing a shotacon illustration.

Nabsuki also made sexual jokes/comments concerning her taste for lolisho in public, constantly putting on shotacon profile pics, when most of the time she was part of projects that either were directed to or involved underage users. And to put it on top, there are screenshots which imply her having this sort of attraction towards real life people who seem to look younger than their age, and not only that, but also waited for someone she felt attraction towards for being young to turn 18.

Proof of the NSFW/shotacon pfps

...do I seriously need to explain this screenshot?

Below there's pictures of Nabsuki speaking about shotacon in public. These shots are from 2019, but as previously demonstrated, this behaviour has persisted over time.

As a bonus, there's claims of Nabsuki committing sexual acts during calls with other people without their consent, implying that she once masturbated while calling someone, as shown in the screenshots below, and even though it is not mentioned at what point in the past this happened, it is sure that the person involved was around the ages of 17 and 18 in the year of 2018.

LMAO

dunno como te huberas dado cuenta

a meanos que ayas notado uuh mi voz cracking too much maybee

dunno lole

I should also mention that, recently she made a Baraag account, social media dedicated to adult content in which shotacon/lolicon content is allowed. As expected, she follows many artists who made these types of drawings. A video showing proof is embedded below.

Toxic Behaviour

Nabsuki is a 28yo Twitter user, whose attitude is extremely immature and harmful to the people around her. She tends to avoid responsibility for the consequences of her actions, usually sending a third-party to speak on her behalf (most of the time being her partner or a friend) and she also tends to shit-talk people behind their backs and be two-faced about it.

The latter is further supported by a situation which took place in the FNF fandom, caused by her.

C0mixZ0ne (Tangente)

Nab, alongside other people, were part of a project in the Friday Night Funkin' community called C0mixZ0ne, channel which was dedicated to upload false leaks of some mods (primarily Mario's Madness) due to how they didn't like the original themes, and therefore decided it was a good idea to remake said songs and demonstrate she could make better music than literal children.

By the time the Mario's Madness team found out about the project, she made it look like a tribute, or a mere joke, to the point that some developers jumped in to help, with absolutely no knowledge that they've been talking behind their backs and making fun of them prior to joining.

Please do note that not everyone who participated in C0mixZ0ne thought the same way as Nab did. Some just found the idea of re-taking some of the songs from Mario's Madness fun, some were there just for trolling the fans by making them think they were real leaks. Nab's motivation, on the other hand, was always to demonstrate her superiority.

It should be noted that Nabsuki once she is reproached for these behaviors tends to victimize herself way too much and even, as shown in the shotacon part, gets to the point that when looking for ways to feel "approved" for her actions, she comes up with tons of excuses, whenever she doesn't get to hear what she wanted to be told.

La Pasteleria ("The Bakery")

"La Pasteleria" is the Discord server made by Nabsuki and her girlfriend, made with the purpose of joining both their friendships in a single server. The thing here is that it had a channel named "nsfw-channel", although it was originally just a joke channel, meant only to send memes and such. It was like this until chaos unleashed when - according to sources - some random user took the joke way too serious and sent actual NSFW, and so since that day the channel became serious. Now, we could just say that it was this random's fault, if it wasn't because the channel became role-available only, and those who possessed the role included minors. Over time, said channel slowly became the server's general channel, in the sense that most of the time people talked there more than in other channels, to the point of it being the only place they ever talked in, and as a result, more people starting to gain a mindset similar to the one of Nab, including the children themselves, who even some started drawing NSFW content. The server's deterioration was reflected in the fact that it has reached the point of seeing pornography in calls and drawing NSFW in these, the worst of all being the fact that anyone could get in here.

As a bonus, Nab's manipulative attitudes were also heavily reflected more specially whenever someone mentioned leaving the server due to any type of reason. The second anyone left the server, she would send a direct message asking for what happened, if the reason was not convenient for her, Nab would get to the point of gaslighting people close to you, looking for isolation.

Nabsuki also kept saying things that many Lolicon/Shotacon fans would repeat, for example: "They're just drawings, and drawings can be aged up", or when someone felt guilty for sexualizing a minor character, she comforted them insisting that "It's okay because they're drawings and aren't real", thoughts that ended up changing the way that her friends think, shaping them to Nab's way of thinking.

In Conclusion

Nabsuki has proven time after time that she is definitely not a person who should be in contact with minors at all. As shown, she demonstrates behaviors which indicate an attraction towards children, not only due to her consumption of shotacon content, but also her tendency of exposing underage users to harmful environments, both her NSFW channels or her "+16 Twitter account". All these events took place around the time she was between the age of 18 and 26, at least the ones shown in this doc; age which, we can all agree that in fact, we are dealing with a groomer and therefore a case of pedophilia. To put the cherry on top: her toxic attitude, lies and incidents which could be cataloged sexual harassment, and her repeating all these actions for almost a decade, with zero to no changes in her person.

With all these attributes mixed, we finally get Nabsuki, someone who looks like someone you'd definitely wouldn't want close to you.
