

Dynasty Dads League Operational Guidelines

Introduction

Dynasty Dads leagues operate very differently than a vast majority of communities. We believe in the individuality of each separate league. While each league will operate under a similar umbrella, each league will have its own set of rules and settings voted on pre-draft by all leaguemates. This gives power to the individual leagues and owners to make each league unique. If there is something you want to bring up for a vote feel free, at the conclusion of every season pretty much everything is fair game. Depending on the gravity of the rule change a vote could pass with as simple of a majority vote, others may require a unanimous vote, this is up to discretion of the league commish. While each league will be unique, there will be a base set of rules at every level of a league. With this being said NO RULES WILL CHANGE MID-SEASON FOR ANY REASON

League Buy-in and payout structure

- All buy-ins and payouts will go through Leaguesafe, the buy-in amount and payout scale will be voted on by the league
- Every Leaguesafe will be paid out by a majority vote, not commish controlled
- Every league will stay paid up a year in advance
- You have from the end of the Fantasy Playoffs until the start of the NFL Draft to pay for the following years buy in through leaguesafe, which will be posted once the league rolls over to the new season. If you do not reach out to a commish at anytime before the deadline to discuss an extension, it will be assumed you are no longer playing Dynasty and will be replaced.

Roster Construction

- Every league will start out as a PPR Superflex Tight end premium league with 10 starting slots (1QB, 2RBs, 3WRs, 1TE, 2 Flex and 1 SF) from there if any changes want to be made they can be voted on by the league
- All leagues will start with 15 bench slots, 5 IR, 15 Taxi, from there if any changes want to be made they can be voted on by the league
- Everyone must start a valid lineup every week, and field a full roster within reason, don't be that guy (no IR or out guys starting) if you have to be reminded 3 times in a season you will be replaced

Startup draft

- Every draft will default to a 25 round snake draft with a 3rd Round Reversal, from there if any changes want to be made they can be voted on by the league
- Every draft will be a slow draft with a 4, 8 or 12 hour timer voted on by the league, the timer will pause overnight at 11pm cst and resume at 7 am cst

Rookie Draft and Picks

- All rookie drafts will be a 4 round slow draft with a 4, 8 or 12 hour timer voted on by the league, the timer will pause overnight at 11pm cst and resume at 7 am cst
- If you trade away a future rookie pick you are responsible for that years dues at the time of the trade
- Draft order for teams that miss the playoffs will be determined by reverse order of max possible points, for the teams that make the playoffs the draft order will be determined by reverse playoff finish, the winner of the 3rd and 5th place matchups will receive the better draft pick. Championship matchup loser gets the 1.11, winner gets the 1.12.
- If you own a 1st round pick for the upcoming draft for a team playing in the 3rd or 5th place matchup in the playoffs, you have the right to make lineup changes to that team due to the winner of that matchup getting the better pick. Only time you will not be able to make changes is if that matchup has a cash prize such as 3rd place in some leagues. (not every league has a 3rd place payout).
- Bestball leagues Rookie Draft order will entirely be based off reverse max points for, 1-6 will be the teams that missed the playoffs, 7-12 will be teams that made the playoffs.

Waivers, Trades and Refunds

- Waivers- every league will start as a FAAB league with 100 or 1000 budget voted on by the league, there will be an offseason and in season budget. Offseason budget will reset at the start of every season and the in season budget will reset when the league rolls over into the new year. All offseason waivers will run daily, in season will run every tuesday after all games have concluded, after waivers run it will be open FA until that a players game starts
- Trades- trades will lock before the start of the playoffs unless voted otherwise by the league, no trades will be vetoed unless the commish sees obvious collusion, any collusion will result in removal from the league with no refund, All trades will go to pending after accepted, both parties must say "approve/accept" in the chat then it will be pushed through, if a future pick has been traded where that year has not been paid for, it must be paid for before the trade is pushed through. If both parties dont reply in chat within 24 hours, the trade will be reversed.
- Refunds- if you want to leave after the season as long as you have not traded away future rookie picks you will receive a refund for the dues you have paid. Leaving midseason you are not entitled to your money back from that current season. If you have traded away future years picks you are not eligible for a refund for those years.
- If you leave a Dynasty Dads league and orphan a team you are no longer eligible to join a new league. It creates an environment where if you don't like your team you can bounce and join another.
- If a trade is made including a player that has already played that week, the other players in the trade cannot be added to the lineup until the following week. This closes the loophole of trading 1 player that has already played, using their points and adding another player to the lineup.

- When a trade is made in a league with a Taxi that locks week 1, the team receiving Taxi eligible player has up to the start of that players game to request the player be added to the Taxi Via Commish powers.

Game Cancelations

- If a game is canceled or does not finish the full 4 quarters, the points will STAND as scored unless they replay the game the same week and the platform offers an option to rescore the matchup.

Devy Leagues

- Inactive players on sleeper will be used as placeholders in the platform with the inactive player being given a nickname which would be who he represents on your roster.
- All Devy players and Devy picke will be tracked in a spreadsheet that will be pinned in the league chat for reference.
- Devy player draft round number and devy player slots will be voted on within the league
- Devy Draft order pre startup will be decided in the league Via poll.
- There will be NO waivers for Devy players, they are only added to rosters via draft or trade.
- Any Devy picks traded for future years will need payment just like rookie picks before the trade is processed
