I may do a weekly update from home with fun tips for stress relief, homework help, or just something to make you laugh. Stay tuned!

The websites and information below can be used while school is out. There are various links for mental health, talking to students about Coronavirus, homework help, career exploration, and much more. I will be updating this list as I find new material.

This is a new situation for us all. Together, we will be just fine. Enjoy the time with your family and as always, keep learning and dreaming. 😊 I put the newest material at the top of this document.

It's My Life deals with life and the stuff that tweens deal with every day. It attempts to get the idea across that "whatever problem you're dealing with, believe it or not, other kids and teens have gone through the same thing." At It's My Life, tweens can read informative articles, share stories, play games and activities, take quizzes and polls, watch video clips of other kids talking about their feelings and experiences, get advice from older kids and experts, and contribute their own comments and questions. It's My Life also features interviews with celebrities about things they had to go through when they were kids.
