This product caught my attention the most because of how simple the picture was compared to others.

The product is described in a short way that presents its value and gives me the information I'm looking for (how much kg).

Looking at the reviews I can tell that it's a product that are giving the market the value they pay for.

This product caught my attention because of the unique colors and aesthetic design of the picture. It gives me a feeling of the mountains which is where the product was mined from. The text in white says 1 can is enough for 2 months which also catches my attention.

The description says that the product is mined at an altitude of over 5400m in the Himalayas which gives the reader the feeling that it was hard to get the product which increases its value in the readers mind.

In the the description it also says that it was lab tested which gives it more credibility of the products functioning.

Creatine has been proven to increase physical performance during repeated

The description of the product increases my desire to buy it because it tells me that it will increase my physical performance which is exactly what I want when I'm training/working out.

Another reason why the product increases my desire is because of the products reputation. Almost everybody who's going to the gym takes creatine and has a good word about it.

I can also say that this description of the product increases my belief because of 1 the reputation it has worldwide & 2 because of the scientific evidence that is made around creatine.

The description does not include any article of some scientist saying that creatine is good but when buying a supplement i think most people do their own research.

That's what i would do if I was buying a new supplement and that's what i think most people would do too.

Level 1 Couch Potato

bra

Skitbra produkt, ett måste för alla som tränar. Kreatin är det mest studerade kosttillskottet och det fungerar faktiskt skitbra.

Du orkar mer och kan köra mycket hårdare på gymmet och därav kommer dina resultat bli mycket bättre.

Det enda jag inte gillar är smaken och hur det känns att dricka det, men annars är det skitbra.
