

Info about Adam Lanza, his mother Nancy Lanza, his life, plans, and massacre.

Keep in mind some of the info I have written here are only suppositions but I believe they belong here nonetheless. they have not been proven nor disproven.

I will try to make this as informative as possible without being too long of a read. if you want a more detailed and longer read i would suggest sheltered storm.

I am in no way glorifying or condoning the actions made by Adam Lanza. This is all for educational purposes.

All of the photos in this belong to the rightful owners, i do not own any of this.

At first they wrongfully identified the shooter as Ryan Lanza.

Adam Lanza, brought Ryan's ID to the school and committed the shooting.

As of today there is not much info on how Ryan is doing and his whereabouts.

It is assumed he changed his name but there is no proven evidence of that.

The Life Of Adam Lanza

with a toy gun

Adam Lanza seemed to have a relatively normal childhood.
His father Peter was pretty absent during his life because of work.

Adam with his father

He had to have speech therapy, Adam supposedly couldn't speak properly and no one could understand him. He didn't speak his first words until he was 3 and when he realized no one could understand him he quit talking.

Nancy put Adam into preschool for the next two years in hopes it would help his speech issues and get him a head start on socialization. This did not work, Adam would not talk to anyone and get angry when anyone could not understand him.

Ryan Lanza was in a Boy Scout Troop that belonged to one of Nancy's friends. she would bring Adam with her to the camp on multiple occasions. Adam would do crafts with the other boys, but would not talk, and got very displeased when he was touched by the other kids.

At the age of 5 Nancy took Adam to a doctor who diagnosed Adam with Sensory Integration Disorder.

Adam also shot his first gun at the age of 5 with the Scout Troop Leader.

The Lanza's had a lot of guns so it is no surprise that Adam got exposed to them at a very young age.

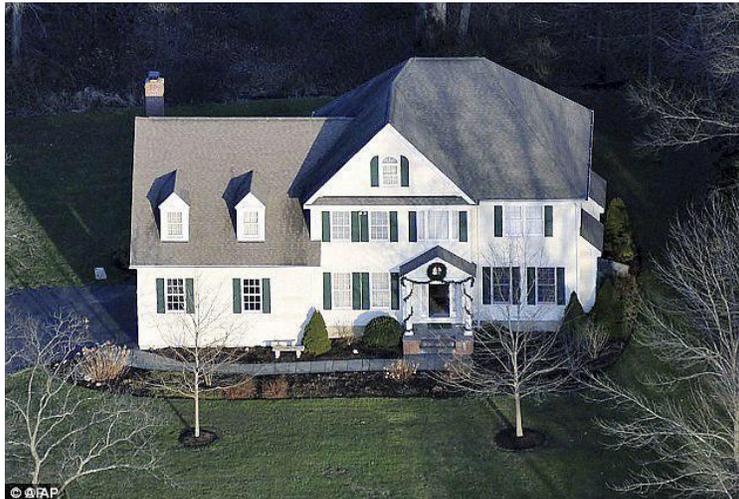

Baby Adam with a pistol and guns in the background.

In 1998, the Lanza's moved from New Hampshire to Connecticut due to a job opportunity Peter had that they couldn't pass on.

At this time Nancy was already skeptical about her marriage with Peter.

They bought a house for around $400k at 36 Yogananda Street, Sandy Hook, CT.

Nancy enrolled Adam into the first grade of Sandy Hook Elementary School in late 1998.

Adam continued to get speech therapy at Sandy Hook.

Adam Lanza with his class at Sandy Hook Elementary School

The school said Adam was reading at the right level and was excellent at math.

Nothing too exciting happened during their first year. In 1999 they went back and visited their family and friends in New Hampshire and Adam, of course, didn't talk much.

Adam celebrated his 7th birthday at a bowling alley, just two days after columbine.

Adam seemed very uncomfortable at his own party.

Nancy expressed to one of the occupants that she was worried about Adam not fitting in well with the other kids and worried that he wasn't doing as well as he should.

in 1999, Nancy told her friend over emailed that she was ill and it was probably multiple sclerosis

Adam continued on to 2nd grade at Sandy Hook. Adam would stay at the school when the other kids left and Nancy would come and talk to him one on one to try and help him overcome his nervousness.

The teacher had said that Adam was beginning to socialize more, not a lot but more than he was.

One of Adam's classmates invited him to her birthday party and recalled the Lanza's as being weird, especially Nancy.

Adam moved onto 3rd grade and nothing too drastic happened though Nancy stated she was still unhappy with how she couldn't help her son with his shyness no matter what she tried.

Adam wrote in a journal that he wanted to be a farmer when he grew up and he wrote a thank you card to Santa later that year.

We will skip his 4th grade year and move onto his 5th grade year which has a lot more notable things to talk about.

Nancy signed Adam up for the little league team at the school in 2002.

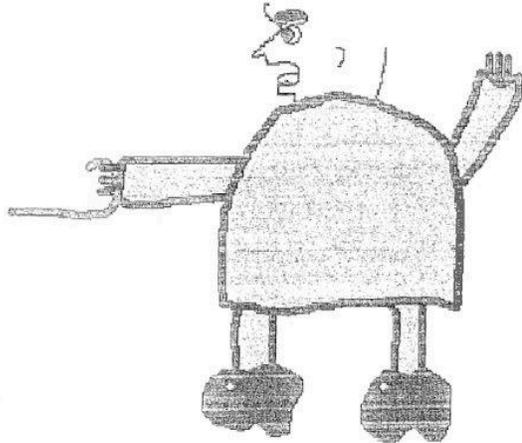

They had an assignment to write on their fingers how they felt about themselves. Adam wrote the words "Loser" and "Ugly" on his fingers.

Adam made a friend in 5th grade and also wrote "the big book of granny"

Granny is a trademark symbol of [REDACTED] the creator. Adam Lanza holds all rights to all of the following content. [REDACTED] is the creator of the Granny Picture and holds all rights to it.

The Big Book of Granny

Adam Lanza [REDACTED]

The story is very violent and in my opinion shows someone expressing their feelings of hate and rage.

It's fairly difficult to find the story since the book was never published but I have found a book called "The Adventures Of Granny". I am not sure if this is the same as the big book of granny but it's an interesting read nonetheless.

In 6th grade Adam took band class and he played the saxophone.

While attending public school Adam was sensitive to smells and would take sanitizer with him at school and wipe down the doorknobs.

In 2003 his doctor prescribed him a skin ointment because Adam had been washing his hands so frequently it left his skin raw.

Around this time is the first time it is heard about Adam and DDR. The pediatrician wrote under "activities" about DDR. Many people know Adam loved and I mean LOVED DDR almost as if he was obsessed with it.

In 2004 rumors started floating around of Nancy and Peter's departure.

Adam went to Newtown Middle School in 2004.
he showed his dad around and his dad recalls him being “excited for and talkative for once”

Adam also told Nancy he was vegetarian around this time.

During his first years of middle school Adam stopped going out as much, quit band, and quit sports.

He also expressed his hate for holidays to Nancy.

The highschool tech club would go to the middle school to try and “expand” their club and one of the kids was Adam.

Adam with his tech club

In 2005 Adam switched schools once again.
His classmates recalled him liking music from the 1950's and anime music.

Also in 2005 Adam made his first online username "Blarvink"

Later into the school year Adam got removed from his new school which means next school year Adam would have to switch schools again.

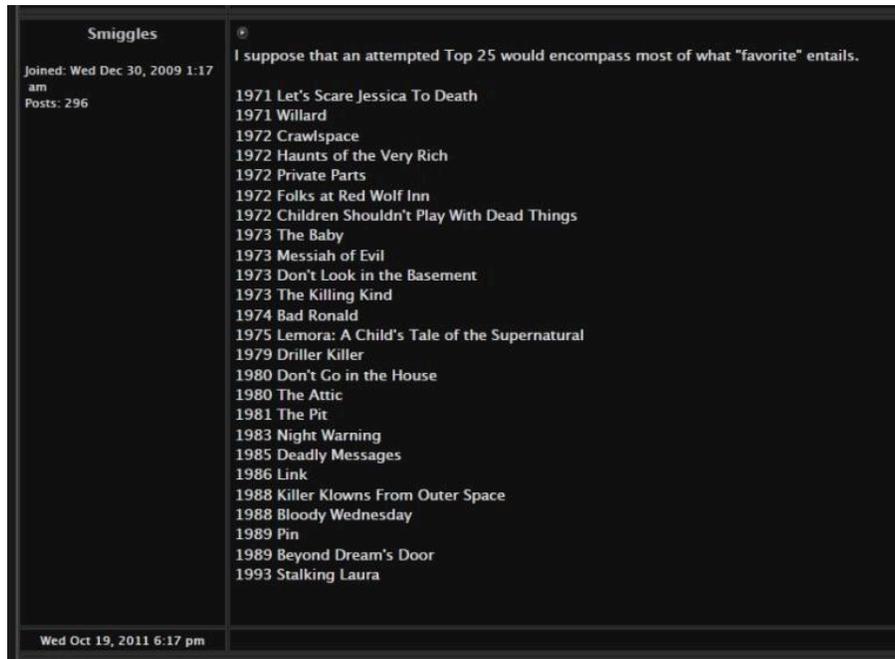

Back at the house Adam started getting worse when it came to germs. He would change clothes multiple times a day and Nancy would have a full laundry basket full of Adams clothes daily.

The only time Adam would leave the house would be to go to his tech club meetings.

Adam watched a lot of movies in his room

List Of Adam's Favorite Movies

he made this post on the shocked beyond belief forum he frequently visited.

He also played video games, often one of the main ones being Counter Strike.

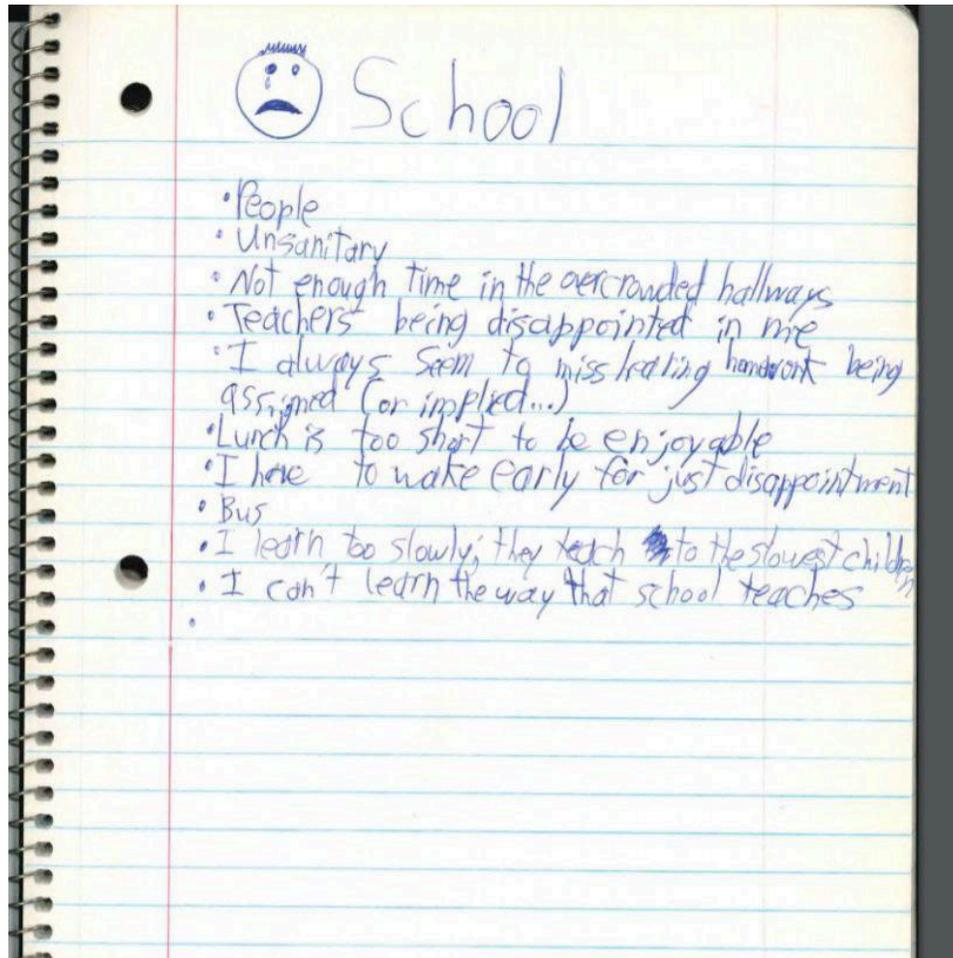

In 2005 Adam went to a pediatrician and they learnt he was very underweight he had a BMI of 14.9

He also went to the hospital around this time because he could not bear school one more day.

The hospital said he had anxiety disorder but ruled out aspergers and autism. They offered to get Adam therapy but Nancy declined any form of help and said the best place for Adam is at home.

He eventually got a note written from a doctor that said he should not attend school.

reasons why i dislike school by Adam

And in Nov, 2005 the doctor diagnosed Adam with aspergers.
though Adam refused to admit he had any condition wrong with him whatsoever.
Now with Adam at home and not having to worry about school he started to change his surroundings.
he put black trash bags over his windows and no one, not even his mother could enter his room.

one of his blacked out windows

Adam started to explore more and more games, he started playing World Of Warcraft. he had played it in his tech club so he did have some experience at the game.

Around this time he also started talking to Nancy strictly by email.

In 2006 Nancy took Adam to a checkup where he was diagnosed with obsessive compulsive disorder, anxiety, and asperger's.

During this time Adam would be sent back to school to try and help with his anxiety but with a special plan and time to try and help him avoid all "crowds".

Peter though didn't think the doctors were doing enough for Adam, he took matters into his own hands and got Adam a meeting at Yale.

During the meeting Nancy gave Dr. King a letter that Adam had written of "problems". I believe it was an email to Nancy from Adam.

the letter

Problems:

The lights were too bright.

There were too many dirty dishes.

I kept spilling food and such.

You were in the room, while I was in the kitchen.

The spiders.

My arm kept touching things.

My hair touched Ryan's towel in the morning.

There were no tissues.

There were not tissues in the pantry.

My corn was too wet.

My quinoa fork dropped with quinoa and I had to pick it up and there were not tissues and my hands had quinoa on them.

It was too warm.

You were speaking angrily.

There were not enough towels.

My hair touched my desk towel when picking up quinoa.

I could not eat my quinoa because I dropped the fork.

The corn had spots.

There are more reasons.

After the meeting Dr. King sent out an email to Nancy about treatment for Adam, Nancy declined.

Sometime in 2006 Adam stumbled upon the Columbine forum.

Later on, one day the FBI visited Nancy's house. they said Adam had hacked through two two layers of security on one of their networks.

In 2007 Adam made a wikipedia account with the name "blarvink" as well. his first edit was on the "blues clues" wiki.

Adam had been visiting the tech club meetings more frequently and didn't miss a single meeting in 2007.

Adam threw a tech club party at his house and some of them recalled it being “fun” Adam even let some borrow games.

Adam even allowed the people from the tech club to hug him one day. It seemed he had a soft spot for them.

In 2008 Adam joined the Glocktalk website.

In 2008 Adam Also weighed again, this time, 112lbs at 5’10.

In August of that year Nancy and Adam had some sort of an argument. It is unknown what about but you can find the emails. I'm not going to list them because it is quite asinine but I thought it was worth mentioning.

Adam had also moved EVERYTHING out of his bedroom except his bed and PC.

Adam went to WCSU, Nancy having to drive him everyday. He was pretty absent and spent most of his time on campus in the library.

Adam's 17th birthday approached; he didn't celebrate it but he did acquire his learners permit. it's also assumed Adam didn't learn to tie his shoes by himself until this age.

Around this time Adam was a lot more active on forums and other sites.

He created an account on NortheastShooters with the username “Kaynbred” as well as using that username for glocktalk, Saiga.com, The High Road.

Adam also started editing Wiki articles.

(please keep in mind these were not on the same day or week, these are just ones he had edited.)

He edited the Collier township shooting, Dawson College Shooting, Westroads Mall Shooting, Luby's Shooting, Wedgwood Baptist Church Shooting, Thurston High School Shooting, Sello mall shooting, Richard Farley, and also started playing combat arms for several months, and made an account on the columbine forum he frequented with the username “Smiggles”.

Around this time he started working on his Mass Killer Spreadsheet with an unbelievable amount of effort put into it. He stopped editing it sometime in 2010.

He also had a file on his computer titled “tomorrow” with a daily routine and pretty much Pro ED talk about reasons to stay thin, and a lot of random words.

there is also photos of his reasons to be thin and the random words but i find them pretty useless and dumb, so i will not be picturing them.

For Adam's 18th birthday, Nancy bought him his AR-15 and just a month before that she bought a Saiga.

Peter took Adam to a shooting range just a little bit after that and shot with him in hopes they could bond.

Nancy also took Adam to a shooting range later on in the year.

Back at home Adam found some “friends” On The SBB forum he would send pms to often.
one of his conversations

In 2011 Adam was first noticed playing DDR the Danbury 16 Theater, by a worker who also played that got switched to weekend shifts.

He asked a coworker how long Adam usually played while waiting his turn and he responded “sometimes all day”. The worker, of course wanting to play, put a coin on the machine indicating that he was next. Adam asked him if he wanted to play, he said yes. He and Adam played together, when he introduced himself to Adam and asked for his name, Adam went silent. though eventually Adam did tell him his name, and even made a friend he played DDR with at the theater.

He quit most of his socializing for a while and stuck to DDR until Utøya happened, which made him go onto the columbine forum once more.

During this time he would be the most active he had ever been on the forum.

Adam seemed to have an odd fascination with chimps, especially Travis the chimp, which he talked about on a radio show, and is probably the only time his voice has been heard on recording.

link if you would like to listen

Nancy bought a Glock 20SF, which is a 10mm, and brought it home.

Nancy had given Adam a GPS at some point and the only places he frequently visited were the theater he played DDR at and Whole Foods, but one day his GPS tracked something that was off his normal route, he had driven to Sandy Hook Elementary.

At this point Peter hadn’t heard from Adam in almost two years and the last time he spoke to him was via card.

In December the GPS unit logged it’s last trip once again, it was to Sandy Hook. After the trip Adam had put the GPS and other items in a plastic baggie and put them in the gun safe.

you can see the plastic bag in this picture

Nancy arrived home from a trip on December 13th and headed to bed.
unknown to her this would be the last hours of her life.

On the early morning of December, 14th, Adam Lanza took a Savage Mark II .22LR, and shot
mother 4 times in the head at close range.

He would then dress up in gear which included, black tactical pants, a black polo shirt, a black t-shirt, black fingerless gloves, black shoes, black socks, a black belt, black suspenders, a black boonie hat, and a green Eddie Bauer vest. He filled his pockets with magazines and a Sig Sauer P226 TacOps that would be unused in the shooting.

He put his Glock 20SF in a drop holster on his thigh.

He carried his Bushmaster with a sling.

the clothing Adam wore note that the vest was olive green and in a size small.

He drove to Sandy Hook Elementary, In a Black Honda, arriving around 9:35 A.M. He discarded his hoodie and another jacket on the ground, he ejected a round onto the ground before shooting 8 rounds through a glass window beside the entrance which had a security system set up.

the glass Adam shot out and gained entry to the school from

He entered the school and killed 2 pupils in the school hall, he then entered the office but no one was inside. He goes back into the hall and shoots the bodies of Dawn and Mary, then ejects a round from his glock which causes the gun to jam. He enters class room 10 and shoots 4 rounds then his gun either jammed or ran out of ammo. As he's reloading/fixing the malfunction, Jesse Lewis tells his classmates to run, 9 of which did.

Afterwards it is said Adam called Jessie Lewis an asshole before shooting him and killing him. He killed 5 students and 2 teachers inside of class room 10, and fired approximately 33 shots.

He enters classroom 8 where 18 students and pupils are inside of a VERY small restroom. He fires 48 shots at the students and pupils inside of the restroom before his gun malfunctions.

He fixes the malfunction and fires another 32 rounds. 15 of which were at point blank.

He fired 80 rounds in classroom 8 and killed 15 students and 2 pupils.

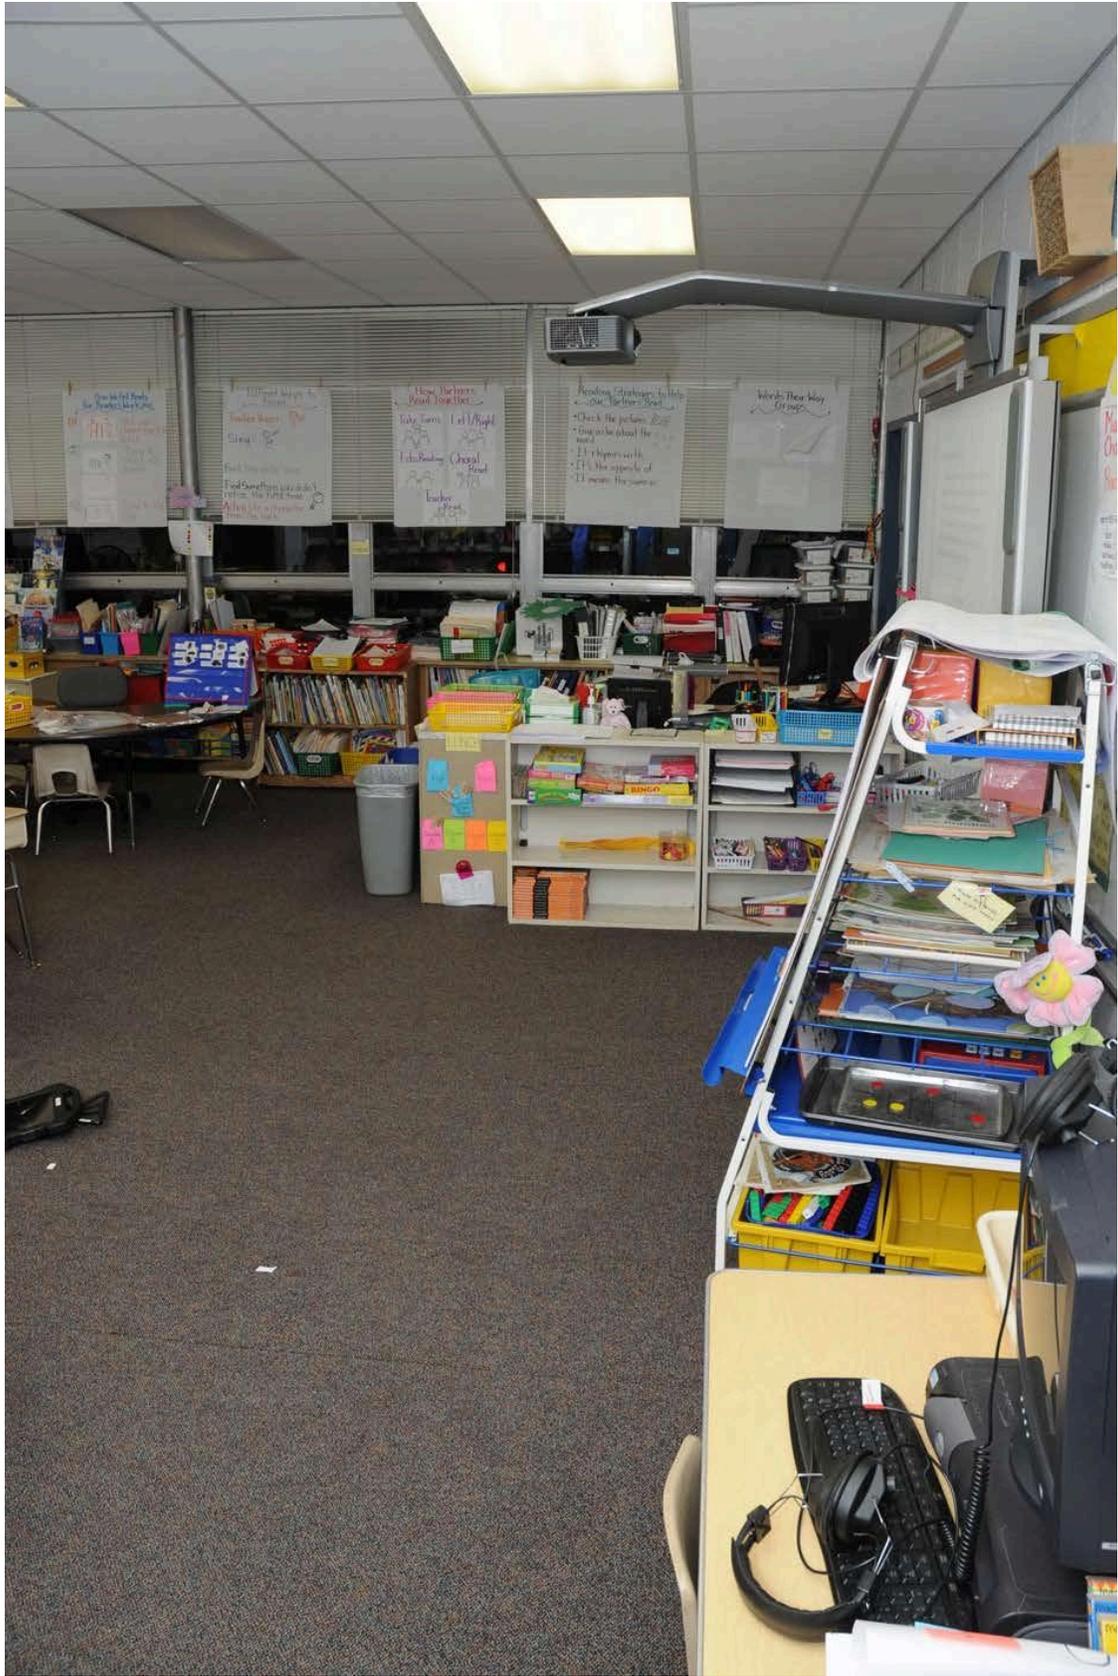

He then leaves the classroom and ejects 4 rounds onto the ground trying to fix his overheated gun.

He re-enters classroom 10 and fires outside of the windows, not hitting anyone. His gun malfunctions again and he discards the weapon, pulls out the jammed glock, ejects 4 rounds on the ground trying to clear the jam, then shoots himself.

it is said that one student said "i don't wanna be here." to which Adam replied, "well, you're here."

It is also said that Adam said "look at me, look at them." along with a lot of swearing but there is nothing proving this as anything more than assumptions.
