

"Generational Life"

As I sat before the Lord asking for an image that revealed his thoughts on growth and life, He brought to mind olive trees. Olive trees are known for their resilience. They can live up to 3,000 years old and still produce fruit, some are as old as 6,000 years. You can put an olive tree through drought, light it on fire, or cut it down to a stump and it will come back to produce fruit. They are able to do this because of their impressive root system. Jeremiah 17:7-8 says "But blessed are those who trust in the Lord and have made the Lord their hope and confidence. They are like trees planted along a riverbank, with roots that reach deep into the water..." and Psalm 1:2-3 says "But they delight in the law of the Lord, meditating on it day and night. They are like trees planted along the riverbank, bearing fruit each season. Their leaves never wither, and they prosper in all they do." God is living water and we must reach deep into him in order to see life for ourselves and our generations. As I pondered this tree that sees many generations, I realized that God has a generational view of the life and faith we live. "How joyful and prosperous you will be! Your wife will be like a fruitful grapevine, flourishing within your home. Your children will be like vigorous young olive trees as they sit around your table." (Psalm 128)

Meraki Studios

Hillary Patton

Professional print made of the original

Archival matte cardstock

"Generational Life"

As I sat before the Lord asking for an image that revealed his thoughts on growth and life, He brought to mind olive trees. Olive trees are known for their resilience. They can live up to 3,000 years old and still produce fruit, some are as old as 6,000 years. You can put an olive tree through drought, light it on fire, or cut it down to a stump and it will come back to produce fruit. They are able to do this because of their impressive root system. Jeremiah 17:7-8 says "But blessed are those who trust in the Lord and have made the Lord their hope and confidence. They are like trees planted along a riverbank, with roots that reach deep into the water..." and Psalm 1:2-3 says "But they delight in the law of the Lord, meditating on it day and night. They are like trees planted along the riverbank, bearing fruit each season. Their leaves never wither, and they prosper in all they do." God is living water and we must reach deep into him in order to see life for ourselves and our generations. As I pondered this tree that sees many generations, I realized that God has a generational view of the life and faith we live. "How joyful and prosperous you will be! Your wife will be like a fruitful grapevine, flourishing within your home. Your children will be like vigorous young olive trees as they sit around your table." (Psalm 128)

Meraki Studios

Hillary Patton

Professional print made of the original

Archival matte cardstock