

Purposeful Podcasting to Elevate Student Voice

Summer 2024

Presented by: Alabama Technology in Motion Specialists

Angela Clark, Ed.S., NBCT, Region 7-Univ. of Montevallo - aclark@atim.us

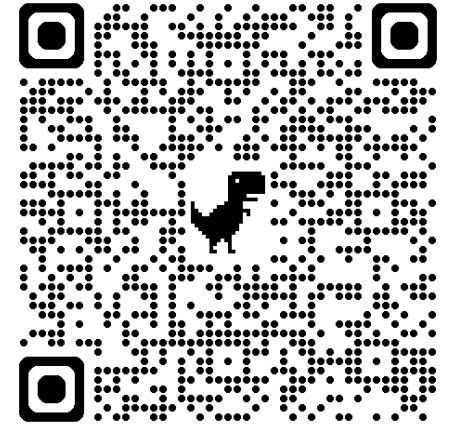

NOTES & IDEAS:

Plans	Micropodcasting	Group Podcasting	Individual Project
Initial Activity: Set parameters, collaborative, simple, monitored
Building Skills: Guide with rubric, set expectations and use roles/responsibilities, facilitate Polishing Skills: Add challenging criteria, peer feedback, editing or iteration; give more choices (topic, type, audience, etc.)

Podcasting with Purpose

Notes on the PROCESS and STUDENT ACTIVITIES:

Notes on EQUIPMENT and TOOLS:

- ☐ Microphone
- ☐ Headphones/speaker
- ☐ Device that records
- ☐ File type
- ☐ Submit, post, publish
- ☐ Sound board, upgraded external mic, etc...
- ☐ Hosting site/platform
- ☐ Editing software

What age-appropriate podcasting activity could you include at the start of the school year for students to use their voice and express their thoughts/ideas?

How might you build on that initial activity in the 2nd quarter and beyond to allow students to continue using their voice and hone their skills?