- Pronouns: He/Him
- Sexuality: Bisexual (buried in the closet)
- Religion: Roman Catholic (average amount of religious)

- Date of Birth: February 29th, 1996
- Age: 28

- Background: Andrés was born and grew up in Barcelona. He comes from a long line of bakers and they own a bakery, called "La Pastelería de Torres", in his hometown (the bakery has been around for seventy years). Andrés has three younger sisters. When Andrés was fifteen years old, the family bakery was on the verge of closing. Instead of trying to get a job normally, he lied about his age in order to join Spain's 19th Special Operations Group "Maderal Oleaga." Andrés managed to get away with this by faking documents and being 5'9. He got his callsign "Sailor" from SOG because he fell off a boat during training. When he was twenty-three, Andrés and the rest of his squad responded to what was reported to be a bomb planted by Al-Qatala. There was no bomb to begin with, it was a trap set up by Konni Group as a distraction from a car-bomb set in Madrid, and his entire team was killed by Al-Qatala. Andrés barely managed to escape and he is the sole survivor. Unfortunately, the car-bomb killed his mother and crippled his father. He was found a few days later stumbling around in a dazed state by Price and was brought to TF141. Andrés had to learn English quickly (his native language is Spanish). After a few years in TF141, he entered a relationship with Ryan. Ryan taught him Irish and he taught him Spanish in return.

- Weaknesses: Undiagnosed autism, Deep water (deathly terrified of it), His love for his loved ones, sense of justice, keeps trying to find the good in everything
 - Personality: Andrés is a reserved yet friendly and sweet individual who always tries to see the good in everyone. He is very polite (especially towards the elderly and children) and would 100% sprint to a door in order to hold it open for someone. Despite his nature, he isn't a pushover and he isn't afraid to reinforce the fact that he is a lieutenant. It is very difficult to get him upset, but it can happen. In private, Andrés gets really quiet and reflective about life. When stressed, he'll begin to quietly talk to himself, tap random things, and pace. Andrés cannot stay still and is always doing something.

- Background: Ryan was born to a single mother who sadly passed away during childbirth. His father was out of the picture, so he grew up in a Catholic orphanage in Dublin. Ryan does not know who his parents were, and he probably never will. He was a quiet child growing up and eventually grew out of the orphanage. Ryan enlisted in the SAS at nineteen years old and eventually became a part of TF141 at twenty-nine years old. He got his callsign from his SAS days because he was always found perched up on something tall. Ryan mainly works as a sniper for TF141. He is currently dating Andrés (fun fact: Ryan was Andrés' bisexual awakening). Ryan taught Andrés English and some Irish while Andrés taught him Spanish.

- Personality: Ryan is a very blunt and straightforward person who doesn't beat around the bush. He is the definition of resting bitch face and he seems like he despises everyone and everything. This is a front that he puts up in order to avoid being emotionally vulnerable around others. Once someone gets to know Ryan, he slowly drops the emotional barrier and truly expresses himself.
