A Field Visit to “Cashew Nuts Processing Units” at Mori

No. of Students Participated: 50

Date: 10-09-2018

The students of MBA Program have carried out a field study on “Cashew Nut Processing Units” at Mori. There were number of units processing raw cashews till the recent past. However due to various reason many units were closed down. The students carried out the study to understand the conditions prevailing over there for the closure of units. They interacted with the promoter of existing processing units and had detailed discussions with them regarding the future prospects and challenges of these units.
