select the output for Vancouver. Below are examples of how to provide references for different sources according to the ICMJE Recommendations.

Provide the abbreviated titles of all journals. You can check the title of journals at this link: <https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/> If the journal is not listed there, then write the title in full. List the first six authors. If there are more than six, list the first six authors, followed by et al. Verify that the URL link still works as close as possible to publication. Cite only sources that you have read. References should be no more than 5 years old.

Unacceptable sources: The following sources are not acceptable: dissertations, thesis, school projects, websites, and conference abstracts unless they are published in PubMed. Exceptions are websites of major international organizations such as the UN, WHO, OECD, or U.S. Department and agencies' websites. If the source cannot be found online, it is not acceptable. Limit the number of online sources to no more than 3-4 unless absolutely necessary.]
