

Trail # 690 on December 9th, 2012 started in the new and upcoming area of The Avenues in Cayce, SC where construction of some unique looking townhomes was due to begin. Upon entering the home of the hares, Broke Dick Mount Him and NN Jarrod, we were greeted by two small horses, one of whom joined us on trail with her bitch NN Emily. We had a tall skinny visitor by the name of Condom something or other. Delivery Boy also decided to grace us with his presence. That Guy showed up wearing shimmery tights and a lovely running skirt.

KBF blessed the hares and they were away with warnings of quicksand type mud that may take your last breath. On trail we encountered many a checkpoint and several children. PP interrupted some family photos in the park. Lickity Splits took a quick douche stop at one of the checkpoints, just to freshen up after all the sweating and shiggy. While looking for the second BN the pack was generously given directions from a drunken local who kept insisting we could not go through the trees but instead needed to head to the 4-way stop and make a left. That Guy got separated from the pack and was later escorted by a local guide who turned down the offer for a free beer. He was most likely afraid of going under the bridge with a man in tights and a skirt wearing dark sunglasses.

After crossing back over the tracks we finished trail with a short circle led by KFB and enjoyed some salty nuts before heading to Monteray's for the On-After with Mama A Trois leading the way.

All in all it was a SHITTY trail. Hopefully NN Ben and NN Fran can do a better job on the 23rd with Orville.

~ LickitySplits