Long Description

Ah, the glorious Fullmetal Alchemist gift box! It contains a replica of Edward Elric's state alchemist pocket watch and a necklace with a Cross and Serpent pendant! As a fan of anime and manga, I applaud the authentic design!

This pocket watch, nestled in a brown gift box, makes you feel like part of the dog of the military! In the Fullmetal Alchemist universe, every state alchemist, including our beloved main character, Edward, would carry this watch. This baby has an alloy quartz construction. It also comes with 1 LR44 battery, so it's ready to roll right out of the box. The presidential seal engraving on the lid of the watch is just like the one in the series!

I also appreciate that it comes with a necklace chain pendant that'll surely make heads turn. The cross and the serpent hold a mysterious symbolism in the story!

Now, every masterpiece has its flaws, right? While the quality of this pocket watch is outstanding, the necklace could be a bit snug for some, but fear not! You can adjust it easily. The package comes with useful accessories to clip the watch as needed. Trust me, my friends, I've gifted this watch to a family member who loves Japanese pop culture, and he is over the moon!

So, gear up for an enchanting experience with this Fullmetal Alchemist-inspired gift box. But remember not to dive too deep into the world of alchemy; some secrets should remain unexplored!
