

FAQ

How will contributors be compensated?

Contributors will receive a free digital and physical copy of the zine.

Where will the rest of the proceeds go?

After covering production and shipping costs, we plan on splitting the profits between contributors and donating a portion to humanitarian aid. We will announce the specific charity in the coming months before pre-orders.

Is traditional art allowed?

Yes. Please make sure to provide a clean, high quality scan of your work. Scanning in 600dpi or higher is advisable.

Is this Zine SFW only?

The main focus of the zine will be a physical, printed book of SFW content for anyone to purchase. All merch will be SFW as well. There will be no NSFW content.

Can I include other characters in my piece?

As long as Dream is the main focus of your work, including other DSMP characters as background characters is fine. Ideas that include characters more closely related to Dream are more likely to be approved than those with characters who have little to no relation to Dream in canon. This is a reinterpretation of Dream throughout the DSMP timeline after all, so as long as Dream is the focus you should be fine!

Can I portray any ships in my piece?

Yes, as long as the ships portrayed are of age appropriate characters and don't break explicit no shipping boundaries. Examples of acceptable ships ie. Dnf, Dreamnap, AwesamDream and Dnb. Secondary ships of other characters in the background is fine unless otherwise addressed by a mod.

Are contributors allowed to collaborate? Can a writer collaborate with another writer or artist?

We welcome all sorts of collaboration between our contributors! Do note, collaborations can only be established among contributors after they've been accepted into the zine and joined the Discord. Meaning, if you have a friend you'd like to apply and collaborate with, you will both need to apply as individuals, and there is no guarantee you will both get in. Collab specifics can be sorted out within the server.

We also welcome any collaborations where artists would like to provide spot illustrations to accompany a writer's story and decorate the story's pages! These pieces will not be priority and artists who do volunteer to do this would still be expected to provide a full page illustration first and foremost. More details on collaborations will be available during claims and in the Discord server.

I have a specific headcanon I'd like to portray, is that alright?

Any headcanons you may have are fine and welcome! You're welcome to draw c!Dream however you'd like and we welcome all different hybrid designs! If you are unsure about your headcannon though, you're more than welcome to ask a mod if it's alright.

Can I submit an older art piece for the zine?

Unfortunately no. Please make sure that the piece is unpublished and brand new.

If you have any questions that have not been answered, please head over to our tumblr, we try to review and answer every question asked ^^
