Farmington High School presents A Night of Comedies

Farmington, MI – Do you feel like it's time for a good belly laugh? If so, join in as the Farmington High School (FHS) theater performs A Night of Comedies. The evening will consist of two short comedies, The A.I. Play by Don Zolidis and The One-Act Play That Goes Wrong by award-winning playwrights Henry Lewis, Jonathon Sayer, and Henry Shield. Both shows will ensure you get the hearty laugh you need.

A Night of Comedies is the 104th production for Director Dean Cobb who has been in the FPS district for 54 years. He is joined by his wife, Sue Cobb, who acts as producer and assistant director.

The A.I. Play finds us with Eleanor who needs to write a paper on The Great Gatsby, but can't seem to get her act together. Enter pressure by her over-achieving parents and a nudge by an A.I. suggesting she could write it for her, and Eleanor's world explodes into something she never expected.

The One-Act Play That Goes Wrong takes us to the opening night of an amateur drama society's performance of the famous Murder at Haversham Manor. This play needs no more explanation. The title says it all.

Mark your calendars for January 24 & 25 at 7:30 PM. Tickets are $10 for students and seniors and $12 for adults. They can be purchased at the door, or by calling the FHS box office at 248.888.6274 after Monday, January 6. Farmington High School is located at 32000 Shiawassee, Farmington.
